Section 2902 Other Acts Repealed All other acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed including all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith enacted at this session of the General Assembly and approved by the Governor or passed notwithstanding the Governor's veto prior to the passage of this act

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker, this bill was on third reading yesterday and thoroughly discussed, and I therefore move the previous question.

The motion was seconded by the following members: Messrs. McCurdy, W. P. Wood, Walker, Heffran, Parkinson, Holcombe, Whiteman, D. J. Jones, Beaver, Stoner, Frederick A. Bell, Edmonds, Weamer, Ludlow, Storb, Burd P. Evans, Lorenzo Thomas, Fratt, Orr, Bluett, Bromley, Joshua Evans, and others.

The SPEAKER. More than twenty members having joined in moving the previous question.

On the question,

Shall the main question now be put?

It was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker, This bill being now on final passage and having been thoroughly discussed heretofore, I move the previous question.

The motion was seconded by the following members: Messrs. Ludlow, Weamer, Dunn, Orr, Burd P. Evans, Fratt, Edmonds, J. W. Smith, Joshua Evans, Bromley, Conner, Howard Smith, Burns, McCurdy, W. P. Wood, Walker, Heffran, Parkinson, Holcombe, Schwartz, F. A. Bell, D. J. Jones, and others.

The SPEAKER. More than twenty members having joined in moving the previous question.

On the question,

Shall the main question now be put?

It was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The roll was verified as follows:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

REASONS FOR VOTE.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Having hoped, by amendments, to have passed a reorganization Code, that would have been a real benefit to the Commonwealth, and having failed in this, and believing that the above Bill is a most vicious piece of legislation, and rather than take up the time of this House, in debate, I vote "no", fully conscious that I have carried out my obligation to the people of this great Commonwealth, and according to my oath, without fear or favor, and knowing that the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania will approve my action, and file the following reasons:—

FISCAL AND SERVICE CONTROL FOR PENNSYLVANIA'S STATE GOVERNMENT.

In reorganizing the several Bureaus and Departments of this Commonwealth there should be kept in mind the truisms that in governmental affairs fiscal control means service control; wherever fiscal control interferes with giving service it defeats its own purposes; any device for fiscal control which calls for information without insuring use of that information costs more than it saves and will fail to give control; any device for fiscal control which relieves administrative officers of responsibility also relieves them of incentive and initiative and deprives the state of efficient service.

As the Administrative Code now stands, it is believed for the reasons hereinafter specified that it not only fails to provide fiscal control but will both prevent service control and departmental efficiency.

I—HOW FISCAL CONTROL IS SOUGHT IN THE ADMINISTRATIVE CODE.

Fiscal control is sought in the Administrative Code in the following ways:

1. Executive power is centralized in the governor.
2. An Executive Board is created to consist of the Governor and four department heads whom he shall name from time to time.

3. Special and continuing studies of the efficiency of various departments are to be provided through a newly created department of state and finance.

4. The Governor is to be held responsible for submitting budgets from estimates furnished him by the department of state and finance and by other elective officers.

5. Numerous departments are to be consolidated into a few to the extent at least of holding a few department heads nominally responsible for budgetary estimates.

6. Control over supplies, printing, and property is in part secured through a newly created department of property and supplies.

7. Control over expenses and service in welfare institutions including new construction is centered in the secretary of Welfare.

8. Various advisory boards are provided with the intent of increasing fiscal service control over the Department of Health, Forestry, Industry, Welfare and Property. A uniform system of accounts is to be provided through the Department of State and finance.

II--HOW FISCAL CONTROL IS WEAKENED OR DEFEATED.

Fiscal control is weakened or defeated by the Administrative Code in the following ways:

1. Budget making short cuts and basic aids to proper fiscal control are under emphasized and missed by the Budget duties to the Secretary of the Commonwealth along with several other traditional duties and patronage posts; by failing to charge him with definite budgetary responsibilities apart from "such information as the Governor may require" by failing to tie up the investigating duties of the secretary with his budget duties; by even implying that the secretary's budget duties are limited to compiling estimates from departments without analyzing them, cutting them and making tentative proposals to the Governor; by failing to provide for public hearings on a tentative budget; by prescribing dates for budget estimates which almost preclude the possibility of adequate study; and by delegation of the Legislature's and the public's fiscal control through budgetary control to the executive.

2. The extreme importance to fiscal control of a continuing, fearless, independent audit by the Auditor General is not included. It is too much to hope that an executive anywhere will make a fearless independent audit of his own work or that an executive's appointee subject to his removal will fearlessly audit the appointing power or fellow appointee. It was for this reason that Congress created the comptroller general to be absolutely independent of the family of spenders whom the executive appoints, Pennsylvania's Auditor General is a constitutional officer responsible only to the public. In the long run, there is no reasonable chance for having inefficiency incompetence and waste fearlessly sought and disclosed except by building up this service outside the executive family. Having an Auditor General responsible to the public, there seems every reason for building up that office and for clearly imposing upon it the duty of an independent audit of operation results and methods as well as of financial accuracy and legality.

3. By substituting the title secretary for Commissioner or by using it instead of director, commissioner, superintendent, the very idea of control, leadership, decision and despatch is weakened. Except in federal service where the title secretary has gone with the cabinet membership, our states and cities, and even our private business and private citizen agencies have quite generally given up the title of secretary for administrative heads because the word secretary seems to connote an ornamental, intermediary service, and a "clearing" service, rather than a directive service.

4. Executive accountability is shifted from the governor to an executive board made up of the governor plus four subordinates.

5. Control over supplies is weakened and almost nullified by permitting state institutions, which in most states are in urgent need of fiscal control, to go ahead and purchase supplies in complete disregard of standard specifications set up by the department of property and supplies, so long as they drop a postal card to the department at the time the purchase is made, stating why they did it and at what price.

6. Several Administrative officers, notably the Secretary of Welfare, Secretary of Health, Secretary of Labor, etc., are hampered with advisory boards who are empowered to delay and nullify administrative order. For the Department of Welfare, for example, the State Welfare Commission has the power and the duty to require the secretary to bring matters before it however busy he may be with a multitude of important duties; to have general supervision over the policies of its department head and the governor; and from time to time to approve or disapprove the department's regulations. This invites obstacles to both fiscal and service control and continues a method of organization and management which nowhere in the world has meant proper fiscal control.

7. The possibility of advisory boards serving as the public's counsel to get and tell the truth about public services and to make unhampered construtive suggestions is minimized by having these various commissions named by or attached to, or both named by and attached to the departments whose work they should analyze impartially.

8. By merging numerous present departments in a single new department without making it clear that the head of the new department shall be responsible for all budgets within the new department, no proper fiscal control is decured. For example, the boards of trustees of the numerous state institutions within the department of welfare are to continue to have general direction and control of property and management, are to direct the superintendent named with the approval of the Secretary of Welfare, are to name the officers and employees nominated by the superintendents and wardens and are to fix salaries. It is not clear in section 601, that the Secretary of Welfare may refuse to transmit estimates by the various boards of trustees.

9. Several incompatabilities or maladjustments are proposed which would place one step farther away from the executive the power to exercise fiscal control. For example, placing the Board of Pardons in the Department of Justice, the State Art Commission in the Department of Property. Topographic and Geological Survey under Forestry and many such other unheard of changes.

III—DEFECTS OF ADMINISTRATIVE CODE BUDGET PLAN DETAILED

1. While the Governor is required to submit to the General Assembly a State Budget, he is not required to submit a consolidated budget for all state work. What the code calls a State budget refers only to the departments under the governor. Line 16 indicates that the estimates from other elective officers are not to be treated as part of the governor's budget. No reference to the Assembly's budget is included.

2. The Governor is not required to hold a public hearing on the budget although he must permit department heads to be heard which may mean a sitting rather than a hearing for departments and only closet proposals, discussions and eliminations respecting services of vital importance to the public. Under this provision, Pennsylvania's Governor might do as several other governors have done, use a blue pencil without letting any one know why. This means no fiscal control by the public.

3. The governor is not required to state his reasons for approving, disapproving or altering estimates or to show in his tentative budget submitted to the Legislature wherein his recommendations differ from estimates by departments. This means that the Legislature in most instances will "go it blind".

4. No co-operation is secured with the finance committee of the General Assembly. So far as this Code is concerned, they need have no information except the governor's proposal unsupported with facts or explanations. Instead of having fiscal control, the legislature would have party or factional or personal prejudice.

5. The governor does not receive from the agency established to work on the budget any recommendations or any benefits of independent study. Instead, the secretary of the commonwealth is to submit estimates from various departments, independent administrative boards and commissions. This might easily mean nothing more whatever than the book of estimates, which Congress and the country found so unsatisfactory for federal departments, such as the Secretary of the Treasury submitted before the federal budget act. The Code gives a clerk and not a budget director. It almost insures that the governor will act without information and without fiscal control. The net result of this is almost certain to be sacrifice of service for political ends.

6. In the time which Governor has, four weeks following January 1st, it is impossible with a Legislature on his hands to make an independent study and to suggest reductions and changes in so many unanalyzed estimates.

7. The budget agency, namely, the department of state and finance has too many other duties to give adequate attention to its budget duties. It is wrong to make the budget officer subordinate to a department which is competing for budget favor and therefore living in a glass house. It is an accepted principle of proper budget making that the officer who studies departments with a view to budget recommendations shall not live in a glass house or be hampered in complete independence. This particular department is an unfortunate one for housing the budget director because it is by tradition one of the chief patronage departments.

8. While putting budget duties in with other duties of the Secretary of the Commonwealth may add to this Secretary's dignity, it will unquestionably subtract from the dignity and emphasis of the budget director's position.

10. Having the budget officer anywhere outside the governor's office or away from direct open channel to the governor is a mistake. This was recognized when the national budget law gave the president rather than the secretary of the treasury the power to appoint the budget director.

11. There is no specification and no inference that the budget maker or Secretary of the Commonwealth shall make any field studies for budget purposes or shall use the other field studies which he must make when studying the budget. On the contrary, it is implied twice that the secretary shall exercise no initiative or independence in seeking and using information except to get what the governor may request. Governors are too busy to request. Legislatures should impose the obligation upon the governor to secure information and upon his budget agent to be seeking it constantly through field studies and other studies such as are specified for the department of finance.

12. The date of issuing budget blanks, August 15, is too late. The next two months of even numbered years are given to election excitement. August 15 falls in the middle of the vacation period. This is a very hard time for departments to do their best thinking about budget estimates. There is no reason why estimates themselves should not be submitted before the slack period of vacation so that departments and institutions shall have plenty of time to study their problems. June 15 would be practicable and much better.

13. The Code does not require a separate showing of increases and decreases on the budget blanks or any provision for unit costs.

14. The budget agent, Secretary of the Commonwealth, is not required to have all possible information of revenue that will come from taxes and other sources. Instead the governor is dependent for this kind of information upon other sources, not necessarily but easily after the total budget estimates from various departments have come to him.

15. The collection of moneys by departments is not sufficiently controlled by section 608. This wording suggests a continuation of a financing method that should be obsolete, of allowing certain departments to spend all that they can to raise out of rendering service. Instead these possible receipts should be budgeted as definitely as any other money belonging to the public.

16. No comparison with preceding administration is provided in the budget bill. Since elections and election criticisms relate not to calendar years but to administration years, it would be helpful to require a comparison of each year's requests with the expenditure or allowances of the preceding administration's last year. In this way, information will help at the particular time when the public is most interested, namely, when a new term is being discussed and when rival candidates are making claims and promises. See Wisconsin Law.

17. Each incoming Governor will be confronted January 1st with an undigested, unexplained mass of material which he is in duty bound to pass upon within four weeks. This is an additional reason for requiring that the budget officer do all the digesting possible and be required to make recommendations in order that the incoming governor may take a running start in studying the budget.

18. Perfunctory budget making by the Legislature, juggling of program and nullifying legislative control are invited by the provision for possible numerous budgetary revisions by the Governor. A monthly re-estimate for and by the governor means in effect, twenty-four estimates biennially. Apparently the appropriations are to be in lump sums which can be redistributed with the governor's consent. In several of the departments where consolidation is provided this may easily mean vastly exceeding legislative intent. In other departments it may mean crippling services which the Legislature and the public in budget time thought should be provided for. Budget making will be only a gesture if after several months of estimating, studying and debating, the whole program can be thrown out of gear by re-estimating and re-programing. The purpose of fiscal control and budgetary control is negatived and discouraged by putting department heads nominal or actually leading strings. Men who have capacity enough to head Pennsylvania's principal departments will be too busy to re-vamp or even re-submit a two year plan "from time to time as requested by the Governor". As this actually works out, it means one or two things, either a perfunctory mis-spending of clerical energy that ought to be better employed in the departments which make estimates and in the governor's office which is supposed to read them, or else it means a continued suspended judgment by an executive who ought to be getting a program put through instead of challenging it every month or "from time to time".

19. The right kind of fiscal control through budgetary control, proper audit and continued efficiency studies is discouraged by the plan of period estimates in the code. The elasticity which is sought but defeated can be easily secured by having a transfer board made up of the Governor, auditor general, treasurer, secretary of interior and the chairman of the two finance committees of the General Assembly. This means some irritation and some delays but it also means fiscal control. In the days of budgetary growing pains it is a good thing for the departments to have to prove that they need more than has been provided, and that money accruing in certain divisions would better be spent on extensions in other divisions than on reducing taxes after reversion to the general fund. Unless this kind of control is exercised and transfer made dependent upon conclusive proof that transfer is needed, spending departments will be constantly driving entering wedges of new expenditures and experiments not contemplated by the Legislature when it votes its budgets. It is no new thing in American practice for departments to come before the legislature with appeals for "just funds enough to continue work already under way" when as a matter of fact that work under way includes the beginnings of very expensive services never authorized by the legislature.

20. As the Code now reads there is no penalty attaching to expenditures beyond the legislative appropriation.

21. There is no provision now for having accruals or surpluses revert to the general fund or even having them reported on the budget estimate blanks. The fundamental lack of fiscal control and service control is indicated by the implication that the governor will have no power over a refractory or delinquent department even if he names its head except to starve out the service by notifying the auditor general not to draw any warrants. If any one in the state service fails to comply with this budget mandate for information, it would be vastly better to dispense with this person than to cripple the service of the department for which he misacts.

22. Payroll control is inadequate. It is not enough to have a complete list of all state employees only once a year with modifications once a month thereafter. The day an employee is dropped the fact should be certified to the auditor general.

23. Fixing the fiscal year May 31 different from that of the great states with which Pennsylvania will always be compared by public legislators and officials, June 30, is an obstacle to the most effective fiscal control.

24. The right kind of intra-departmental control is not presumed in the Code. While it is not hard to impose upon divisions and departments the obligation to furnish information upon subordinates to their superior officers, the proper fiscal control requires that there be a current flow of significant information respecting efficiency from subordinate to chief, from chief to the Governor and from the Governor to the Legislature.

I desire to present to the House as clearly and as forcibly as I can the scheme of government under the Constitution in the hope that its just claims may be recognized.

The Constitution of 1874 implanted in the Department of Internal Affairs three different functions specifically. None of these duties or functions can be taken away from the Department by the Legislature or any other branch of the state government without doing violence to the Constitution. These are (1) The duties of the Surveyor General; (2) A Bureau of Industrial Statistics; (3) Certain duties of the Auditor General relating to transportation companies. In addition to these fundamental provisions, the Constitution contemplates that the Legislature at its discretion shall confer upon the Secretary of Internal Affairs any other duties relating to corporations, charitable institutions, agricultural, mining, mineral, timber and other material or business interests.

A bureau of Industrial Statistics was originally established by Act of Assembly in 1874. The duties of the Auditor General assigned to the Secretary were those contained in the Act of April 4, 1859, (P. L. 358) requiring all railroad corporations whose lines lie in whole or in part within the state to file annual reports of their operations in his office. By Act of April 15, 1863, (P. L. 464) this requirement was etxended to all canal companies. The office of the Secretary of Internal Affairs was made elective and every word and line of the Constitution relating to the office indicate that it was the intention of the framers of that instrument that the Department should be a big, outstanding and important one.

DANGER OF TOO MUCH GUBERNATORIAL POWER FORESEEN.

Why was it made elective? There are two obvious and sufficient reasons. The first of these is because of the importance it was expected to attain with the gradual development of the state's resources. The second is that it was in pursuance of the almost century-long struggle of the citizens of Pennsylvania to further curtail the power of the Governor.

This is an interesting phase of our Constitutional history. By the Constitution of 1790 all power was centered in the Governor, Article II, Section 1, provided, "The Supreme Executive power of this Commonwealth shall be vested in a Governor." Section 8 of the same Article provided, "He shall appoint all officers whose offices are established by the Constitution, or shall be established by law, and whose appointments are not herein otherwise provided for."

Under this Constitution he appointed all judges, Supreme, County and District, Justices of the Peace, Prothonotaries, Registers of Wills, the Auditor General, Surveyor General, and Secretary of the Commonwealth. Two persons were elected for each of the offices of Sheriff and Coroner, and from the two so chosen the Governor appointed one to each of the offices respectively. The State Treasurer was appointed annually by the joint vote of the members of both Houses of the Legislature.

Here, then were all governmental powers concentrated in the Governor, a condition advocated by many reformrs of today as ideal. Was it a successful experiment?

Subsequent history proves that it was not. Concentration of power invariably breeds abuse of power. The people became jealous of the extensive powers vested in the Governor, which led to the making of a new Constitution in 1838. Honorable Alexander K. McClure in his "Old Time Notes of Pennsylvania" eloquently and succinctly tells the whole story in a paragraph. He says:

> "The vital feature of the reform Constitution of 1838 was the resumption of power by the people, in taking from the Executive nearly all his patronage, and making most offices elective. It was not a clean sweep, as it left associate judges, district attorneys and the important offices of auditor general and surveyor general to be appointed by the Executive, but the start made by the new fundamental law rapidly extended popular power until finally every office in the state excepting the Governor's Cabinet and some inspectors, who could not be made to represent any particular constituency, were made elective, including the judges themselves in 1851."

A bitter contest between Governor Shunk, Democrat, and a Whig Senate over the appointment of Judge White, (father of the late Judge Harry White, of Indiana county) in the district comprising Indiana, Armstrong and several other adjacent counties started the movement to deprive the Governor of the power of appointing judges, which culminated in the amendment of the Constitution of 1850 which made all judges thereafter elective. It was in this upheaval of 1850 that the offices of Surveyor General and Auditor General were made elective.

When it came to the making of the Constitution of 1874 the people had not repented of their revolutionary actions in the years 1838 and 1850. Indeed, it appears that their district of concentrated power was in no wise appeased.

The framers of the present Constitution made a radical change in the statement of the Executive Department. They left no room for doubt as to their intentions. In the Constitutions of 1790 and 1838 it appeared:

> "The supreme executive power of the Commonwealth shall be vested in a Governor."

In the Constitution of 1874, Article IV, Section 1, it reads:

> "The Executive Department of this Commonwealth shall consist of a Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Secretary of the Commonwealth, Attorney General, Auditor General, State Treasurer, Secretary of Internal Affairs, and a Superintendent of Public Instruction."

The Executive power was divided. There was a further resumption of power by the people. Another office, that of State Treasurer, was made elective.

This history is not an idle story. It has a purpose. That purpose is to establish the place the Department of Internal Affairs was designed to hold in the scheme of government of the Commonwealth. By acts of usurpation and by neglect in the past its position was seemingly somewhat obscured.

It will be instructive, then, at this point to consider the provisions of the Constitution of 1874 relating to the office of the Secretary of Internal Affairs and which prescribed the jurisdiction and scope of operation which it was intended to cover:

Article IV, Section 19:

> The Secretary of Internal Affairs shall exercise all powers and perform all the duties of the Surveyor General, subject to such changes as shall be made by law. His Department shall embrace a Bureau of Industrial Statistics and he shall discharge such duties relating to corporations, to the charitable institutions, the agricultural, mining, mineral, timber and other material or business interests of the State as may be prescribed by law. He shall annually and at such other times as may be required by law, make report to the General Assembly."

Article XVII, Section 11:

> "The existing powers and duties of the Auditor General in regard to railroads, canals and other transportation companies, except as to their accounts, are hereby transferred to the Secretary of Internal Affairs, who shall have a general supervision over them, subject to such regulations and alterations as shall be provided by law; and in addition to the annual reports now required to be made, said Secretary may require special reports at any time upon any subject relating to the business of said companies from any officer or officers thereof."

Article XVII, Section 12:

> "The General Assembly shall enforce by appropriate legislation the provisions of this article."

By Article IV, Section 9, the Secretary of Internal Affairs is made a member of the Board of Pardons.

Of the five state Officers elected by the people under the Constitution, the Secretary of Internal Affairs is the only one who can succeed himself. There seems to be an important reason for this. It was clearly the intention of the framers of the Constitution that the State officer proposed to have jurisdiction over railroads and other transportation companies, as well as of other important matters of internal development, should be directly responsible to the people, and that while his term of office should be definite, yet he might be continued in office so long as his policies and conduct were approved by the people, such continuity in office being effective in the working out of beneficial and salutary policies.

No candid minded person can read the above cited sections of the Constitution and not admit that the office was to be second only in importance to that of the Governor. And it is the imperative duty of the Legislature to make the duties of the office sufficiently important as to attract the attention of the voters to the Department and to the personality and qualifications of the candidate aspiring to become the head of the Department.

WHY HAS NOT THE DEPARTMENT ATTAINED ITS INTENDED IMPORTANCE?

The Department began to function with the following divisions:

(1) Land Office Bureau.
(2) Bureau of Industrial Statistics.
(3) Bureau of Railways.

The Legislature promptly passed the Act of May 11, 1874, (P. L. 135) to make effective the constitutional jurisdiction of the Secretary of Internal Affairs. It re-enacts practically the words of the Constitution, as follows:

> "The Secretary of Internal Affairs shall discharge such duties relating to corporations, to the charitable institutions, the agricultural, manufacturing, mining, mineral, timber and other material or business interests of the state, as may be prescribed by law. It shall be his special duty to exercise a watchful supervision over the railroad, banking, mining, manufacturing and other business corporations of the state and to see that they confine themselves strictly within their corporate limits."

This Act has never been repealed.

The Secretary of Internal Affairs' jurisdiction over railroads was recognized by many complaints by citizens under the provisions of the above section of the Act of 1874 down to the time of the creation of a Railroad Commission in 1907. In all such cases hearings were had when necessary, decisions rendered and appropriate action taken. Complete records of these cases are contained in past reports of the Department.

Possibly the most conspicuous and memorable case was in 1906 when, as a result of proceedings started before Honorable Isaac B. Brown, Secretary, the Pennsylvania Railroad Company withdrew a rebate mileage book, which was very objectionable to the public.

The internal resources of the state were being developed rapidly and tremendously. Railroads were extending their lines, business corporations were organizing and agriculture, mining and manufacturing were becoming extensive. But from the very beginning down to the administration of Governor William C. Sproul legislatures have expanded and enlarged the powers of Governors in connection with subjects of internal development and ignored and neglected the office of the Secretary of Internal Affairs. There is but one Act to the credit of many legislatures which was in line with the word and spirit of the Constitution. By the Act of July 7, 1897, a Bureau of Mines was created in the Department of Internal Affairs. Tradition relates that Governor Hastings, who was largely interested in the mining of bituminous coal, withheld his approval of the Act until it was amended giving to him the privilege of appointing the Chief of the Bureau. The Bureau functioned successfully for six years in the Department. But by Act of April 14, 1903, in Governors Pennypacker's administration, a Department of Mines was established. I do not believe that this change made for either economy or efficiency, and it was a reversal of the policy begun to develop the Department along Constitutional lines.

AN ATTEMPT TO ABOLISH THE DEPARTMENT

There was an ill-advised and bungling attempt to get rid of the constitutional jurisdiction of the Secretary of Internal Affairs over transportation companies to clear the way for the Public Service Commission. While ultimately unsuccessful, it resulted in the perpetration of a series of unconstitution proceedings and flagrant acts of usurpation such as have never been surpassed in the history of the Commonwealth. When the Act of May 31, 1907, (P. L. 337) establishing the Pennsylvania State Railroad Commission, was under consideration the authors of the Act approached their task timidly. To make it constitutional they proposed various schemes, namely, that the Secretary of Internal Affairs should be a Commissioner ex-officio; that it should be a Bureau of the Department of Internal Affairs, etc. But finally they grew bolder. The bill as enacted recognized the Secretary by providing:

(a) The Commission would hold a hearing upon any proposed change of law relating to common carriers, etc., upon request by the Secretary of Internal Affairs.
(b) After refusal of a company subject to the Commission to obey any order or decree, it should be certified to the Secretary of Internal Affairs to take appropriate action.
(c) Commission authorized to hold hearings on proposed increase of capital stock or indebtedness, when desired, and to certify result of hearing to Secretary of Internal Affairs for his consideration and action.
(d) Commission to file duplicate copy of annual report with the Secretary of Internal Affairs.
(e) Commission to certify each of its decisions, rulings and recommendations to the Secretary of Internal Affairs.
(f) The Act not to be construed to impair the power and authority of the Secretary of Internal Affairs in the exercise of general supervision over railroad, canal and other transportation companies vested in him by the Constitution and laws of the Commonwealth.

It is needless to say that these provisions proved nugatory. They were but flimsy pretenses wilfully devised for the purpose of evading the Constitution. During the life of the Commission they were effective as follows:

(a) Nothing. (b) One case, no action necessary.
(c) Nothing. (d) Typewritten copy of report formally filed at end of each year. (e) Nothing.

The Railroad Commission could have been organized within the Department of Internal Affairs at one-third of what it cost to organize it as a separate organization. All of the bookkeeping and administration work could have been performed by the Secretary and the general office, as has since been done in the organization of the Bureau of Topographic and Geological Survey, and there would have been immediatley available all of the annual reports, maps of rights of ways, and other data concerning railroad, railway, telegraph, telephone and canal companies filed in the Bureau of Railways of the Department from the year 1867 to the present time, as required by law and the Constitution. Much of this data has since then been duplicated at vast cost by the Railroad Commission and by its successor, the Public Service Commission.

Then the more ambitious scheme of a Public Service Commission to succeed the State Railroad Commission was planned, the spectre of constitutional limitations again arose. It was decided to end the question for all time. The Public Service Commission Act was passed July 26, 1913. This Act dropped all pretense and absolutely ignored the Secretary of Internal Affairs and his constitutional powers. In the same session a resolution was introduced to amend the Constitution by abolishing the Department of Internal Affairs. This proceeding was a powerful admission of the grave fears and doubts entertained as to the constitutionality of the Public Service Commission Act. The resolution was passed by both House and Senate.

The scheme to destroy the Department in defiance of and in utter disregard of the Constitution progressed rapidly, especially as no great public protest was heard. A widespread propaganda was started through the press to persuade the public that the Department was "obsolete" and that it rendered no important service. All of this was but preparatory for the most amazing acts of usurpation and injustice. Article IV, Section 19, of the Constitution, heretofore cited in full, contained this mandatory provision, "His Department shall embrace a Bureau of Industrial Statistics". That Bureau has functioned in the Department continuously from the year 1874. Entirely regardless of the Constitution and the Laws which fixed the number of employees and their compensation, upon the initiative of the Governor, the Act of June 2, 1913, was passed, creating a Bureau of Statistics and Information in the Department of Labor and Industry. The newly created Bureau had many additional places with higher salaries than the old ones, which places the Governor promptly filled by appointment. He then vetoed the items of appropriation for salaries of the officers and employees in the constitutional Bureau of Statistics in the Department of Internal Affairs and it had, perforce, to be discontinued.

The Governor next vetoed the appropriations for the salaries of the employees in the Bureau of Railways and that Bureau, also, had to be discontinued. He then vetoed the appropriation for the Bureau of Taxes and Assessments. The duties of the Bureau of Railways were those relating to the annual reports of transportation companies. The Constitution makes it mandatory upon all steam railroad, electric railway, canal, telegraph and telephone companies to furnish these reports to the Secretary under penalty of five thousand dollars on default, and it is the duty of the Secretary to forward the blanks and upon their return to compile the data contained therein and make report annually to the Legislature.

The result of the above described actions on the part of the Legislature and the Governor was to leave the Secretary without proper organizations to perform the services imposed upon him by the constitution and laws which were unrepealed and to strip the Department of all functions but those exercised by the Land Office Bureau and the small Bureau of Standards.

The Secretary, Honorable Henry Houck, did his duty, however. By strenuous use of general clerks and stenographers in the Department he took care of the reports. He furthermore persuaded the County Commissioners of the sixty-seven counties to make their annual reports of local taxes and assessments without the compensation which the lay stipulated, upon the promise that he would endeavor to have the next Legislature right the wrong. Not a county refused, the statistical record was kept unbroken and the Secretary's promise was made good.

The resolution to amend the constitution which had passed the Legislature of 1913 was presented in due form to the Legislature of 1915. It failed ignominiously. Not a single vote was cast in favor of it in the Senate. So ended the attempt to abolish the Department.

REORGANIZATION OF THE DEPARTMENT.

When Mr. Woodward was elected Secretary of Internal Affairs he was fully aware of the condition of the Department and recognized his duty and responsibility to exert himself in an effort to restore it as far as possible to the position of dignity and importance designed for it under the Constitution. Mr. Woodward presented plans to Governor Sproul, who recognized the justness of the claims and thereafter co-operated splendidly with him, even surrendering part of his own powers and privileges in the way of appointments. Considerable was accomplished, as shown by the following Acts of Assembly:

By Act of May 16, 1919, (P. L. 202) the Department was reorganized as to the land Office Bureau, the Bureau of Railways, Bureau of Taxes and Assessments, and the Bureau of Standards.

By Act of April 4, 1919, (P. L. 45) the Bureau of Municipalities was transferred from the Department of Labor and Industry to the Department of Internal Affairs.

By Act of April 18, 1919, (P. L. 80) the Bureau of Statistics and Information was transferred from the Department of Labor and Industry, reinstating it in the Department of Internal Affairs.

By Act of June 7, 1919, (P. L. 420) the Bureau of Topographic and Geological Survey was established in the Department of Internal Affairs.

By Act of April 4, 1919, (P. L. 44) the Secretary of Internal Affairs was made Custodian of all title papers relating to the real estate owned by the Commonwealth.

The two-year period which elapsed between the legislative session of 1919 and 1921 was devoted strenuously to the task of organization and of re-organization under the above Acts.

The following bills were passed in the sessions of 1921.

By Act of May 25, 1921, (P. L. 1119) additional deputies at large were provided in the Bureau of Standards.

By Act of April 20, 1921, (P. L. 193) the Bureau of Statistics and Information was reorganized.

By Act of May 27, 1921, (P. L. 1180) the Secretary of Internal Affairs was made a member of the Pennsylvania State Park and Harbor Commission of Erie.

By Act of May 5, 1921, (P. L. 389) the regulation and control of the manufacture, sale, offering for sale, giving away and use of weights and measures, and of weighing and measuring devices, in the state is provided for.

The Department of Internal Affairs at the present time operates through the following Bureaus:

1. The Land Office Bureau.
2. Bureau of Statistics and Information, which contains the following divisions:
   (a) Industrial Statistics
   (b) Public Utilities Statistics
   (c) Tax and Assessment Statistics
   (d) Waterways Statistics
3. Bureau of Municipalities.
4. Bureau of Standards.
5. Bureau of Topographic and Geological Survey.

All of these Bureaus have been thoroughly organized under capable heads and are performing important services for the State.

"Governor Lowden made for himself a national reputation by his successful reorganization of the government of the State of Illinois. According to my recollection, he succeeded in consolidating more than sixty separate commissions, bureaus and departments into six principal departments. Pennsylvania needs just such treatment. There are too many disconnected comparatively small bureaus, departments and commissions "hung up in the air" as it were. Each of these has an overhead expense of bookkeepers, clerks and accountants which would be largely unnecessary if they were consolidated with larger departments. Many bureaus in departments maintain employees performing services which could be done by the general office of the department. When the Department of Internal Affairs was at its lowest ebb the general office force consisted of the Secretary, a deputy, a chief clerk, a bookkeeper and two stenographers. With the addition of the large bureaus—Statistics, Municipalities, Topographic and Geological Survey and the expansion of the old bureaus of the Department—the same general office force with the addition of but one stenographer carries the overhead of all the bureaus. In other words, the same force is doing several times as much work as it one time performed and it, at the same time, co-ordinates the work of all the bureaus."

I object to further consideration of this bill at this time for the reason that this bill has not been read at length a third time as required by Section 4, Article III of the Constitution of the Commonwealth.

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. VICKERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 1542 (Senate Bill No. 1018) file folio 3043, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to section seven of article three of the Constitution of Pennsylvania on page 25 of today's calendar, be placed on the postponed calendar.

Mr. JOSEPH C. MARCUS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON SECOND READING.

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1690 (Senate Bill No. 621), entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Union Home for Old Ladies of West Philadelphia

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. WHITEMAN. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk then read the amendment as follows:

Amend section 1, page 1, line 5, by striking out the word "possible" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "necessary"

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendment at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none and the amendment will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1691 (Senate Bill No. 624), entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Nazarene Home for the Aged at Philadelphia Pennsylvania

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Section 6 This act shall not be construed or deemed to prohibit that practice which is commonly known as "tipping"

Section 7 All acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith be and the same are hereby repealed

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker, this is the commercial drivers' bill, to which I offered certain objections last week. The sponsor of the bill has taken out sections 4 and 5 of the bill, removing the objectionable features, so that as it stands now, it is a highly commendable bill and I ask you for your support.

On the question recurring,

NAYS—2.

Anderson,
Wheeler,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. FLINCHBAUGH. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. FLINCHBAUGH. Mr. Speaker, on Tuesday we had up for consideration House Bill No. 1342, and on the verification of the roll I found that I was incorrectly reported and asked to have the roll corrected, which the Speaker said would be done. I voted "aye" on this bill, but upon investigation I find that I am still recorded as voting "no." I ask, Mr. Speaker, that my request for this correction be placed in the records.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman from York will be spread upon the record and the correction made.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES.

Mr. MATHAY, from the Committee on Manufactures, reported as committed House Bill No. 1272, entitled:

An Act to prevent deception in and to regualte the sale of paint, putty, naval stores, (turpentine and rosin), or any substitutes therefor, providing penalties for the violation thereof, providing for the enforcement of this act, and repealing an act approved the first day of June, one thousand nine hundred and fifteen, entitled "An Act to prevent deception in the sale of paint, putty, turpentine or any substitutes therefor, and providing penalties for the violation thereof."

Mr. HARER, from the Committee on Appropriations, reported as committed House Bill No. 1764 (Senate Bill No. 1472), entitled:

An Act to amend section fifteen of an act approved the ninth day of May, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four (Pamphlet Laws one hundred twenty-six) entitled, "An Act supplementary to the several acts relating to the State Treasurer and to the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund," providing for the temporary transfer of moneys to pay certain debts of the Commonwealth existing on June first one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three.

BILL ON FIRST READING.

Mr. HARER asked and obtained unanimous consent to have House Bill No. 1764 (Senate Bill No. 1472) read for the first time.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the first reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1764 (Senate Bill No. 1472), entitled:

An Act to amend section fifteen of an act approved the ninth day of May one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four (Pamphlet Laws one hundred twenty-six) entitled "An Act supplementary to the several acts relating to the State Treasurer and to the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund" providing for the temporary transfer of moneys from the Sinking Fund as a loan at interest to pay certain debts of the Commonwealth existing on June first one thousand nine hundred twenty-three

And said bill having been read at length the first time,

Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES.

Mr. GOSS, from the Committee on Education, reported as committed, House Bill No. 1755 (Senate Bill No. 1456), entitled:

An Act to amend sections two thousand six hundred and three and two thousand six hundred and twenty and section two thousand six hundred and twenty-three as amended and to repeal section two thousand six hundred and nineteen of an act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws three hundred and nine) entitled "An Act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" by providing for the audit of accounts of second and third class school districts by the city borough or township controller or auditor and fixing their compensation.

Mr. WRIGHT, from the Committee on Education, reported as committed, House Bill No. 1727, (Senate Bill No. 1255), entitled:

An Act to further amend section three of an act approved the twentieth day of April one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four (Pamphlet Laws sixty-five) entitled: "An Act to regulate the manner of increasing the indebtedness of municipalities to provide for the redemption of the same and to impose penalties for the illegal increase thereof" by designating the place for the holding of elections for the purpose of increasing indebtedness of independent school districts.

BILLS ON FIRST READING.

Mr. GOSS asked and obtained unanimous consent to have House Bill No. 1755, (Senate Bill No. 1456) read for the first time.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the first reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1755 (Senate Bill No. 1456), entitled:

An Act to amend sections two thousand six hundred and three and two thousand six hundred and twenty and section two thousand six hundred and twenty-three as amended and to repeal section two thousand six hundred and nineteen of an act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws three hundred and nine) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" by providing for the audit of accounts of second and third class school districts by the city borough or township controller or auditor and fixing their compensation

And said bill having been read at length the first time,

Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

Mr. WRIGHT asked and obtained unanimous consent to have House Bill No. 1727, (Senate Bill No. 1255) read for the first time.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the first reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1727 (Senate Bill No. 1255), entitled:

And said bill having been read at length the first time,

Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE.

Mr. McBRIDE, from the Committee on Mines and Mining, reported as committed, House Bill No. 361, entitled:

An Act for the protection of persons working in the bituminous coal mines, requiring the examination and registration of miners working therein; providing for the appointment of Miners' Examining Boards; prescribing their powers and duties; and inflicting penalties for the violation of this act.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1450 (Senate Bill No. 497), as follows:

An Act relating to county bridges authorizing counties to issue and sell bonds for the erection thereof and for the acquisition of toll bridges and providing for the division of the cost of construction and erection or acquisition of joint county bridges or toll bridges and the collection of tolls thereon

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That when in the opinion of the county commissioners of any county the cost of building a county bridge or bridges to be erected therein or the said county's proportionate share of the cost of a bridge to be erected over a river or stream upon the line between it and an adjoining county or the cost of acquiring a toll bridge or bridges in any county or a toll bridge erected over a river or stream upon the line between adjoining counties is so large in amount that to provide the funds necessary to pay the same by a singel tax levy would be burdensome to the taxpayers said commissioners having first secured the approval of the court of quarter sessions of their county so to do may issue and sell to the highest bidder at not less than their face value interest bearing bonds of the county for the purpose of raising funds to defray the costs aforesaid

Section 2 Whenever any counties shall erect any joint county bridge or jointly acquire any toll bridge the said counties may pay the cost of the construction and erection or acquisition of such bridge in equal proportions or in any other proportions as the commissioners of the several counties may agree upon Whenever it is necessary for any counties in the construction of any joint county bridge or in joint acquisition of any toll bridge to issue bonds in payment of such construction erection or acquisition the commissioners of said counties may with the consent of the State Highway Department if the cost of such bridge was in excess of four hundred thousand dollars assess supervise and collect such tolls for the use of said bridge for all traffic as may be necessary to pay the interest on said bonds and to create a sinking fund for the payment and redemption of the same The tolls so collected shall be distributed between such counties in proportion to the amount paid in by each county in the original construction or acquisition and in no case shall any tolls be collected after the redemption of the original bonds issued

Section 3 All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act are repealed

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, since this bill was considered by the House two weeks ago and placed on the postponed calendar, it has been amended so that it now provides for the taking over by the county commissioners of toll bridges by the authority of the court for which they may issue bonds. The revenue from the toll of the bridges, when sufficient to pay for the bonds that have been issued for the purchase of the bridge, the bridge becomes free. This provision provides not only for the bridges that are purchased by the county commissioners, but the bridges that are erected by the commissioners under the same authority.

Mr. BLUETT. Mr. Speaker, two weeks ago when this bill first came up for consideration, I opposed it on the ground that I thought it would, perhaps, be reverting back to the collection of tolls, but since that time, I have conferred with all the people who are interested in it, and I have studied the bill more carefully. I think it is a very good bill, meeting conditions of the people out there in Greene and Fayette Counties, and I ask that all the members of the House vote for the bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 21, entitled:

An Act relating to procedure in suits wherein it is pleaded that two or more defendants are liable for a specified cause of action.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill, but as Mr. Edmonds, the sponsor of the bill, is not present and rather than put it on the postponed calendar which would mean that we could only act on it on certain days, I would ask that it be passed over for the present. If it is put on the postponed calendar we cannot act on it today.

The SPEAKER. If there are no objections the Chair will pass over this bill for the present. Are there objections? The Chair hears none.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1482 (Senate Bill No. 792), entitled:

An Act to amend section nine hundred six of the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws three hundred and nine) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" as amended conferring sole power of supervision over certain schools and institutions wholly or partly by the State upon the Council of Education

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1478 (Senate Bill No. 789), entitled:

An Act to amend the act approved the twenty-first day of May one thousand eight hundred and eighty-one (Pamphlet Laws thirty) entitled "An act to enable mining manufacturing and trading companies to wind up their affairs after the expiration of their charters" as amended by extending the same to include foreign corporations

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. LORENZO D. THOMAS. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the postponed calendar.

Mr. WONER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Luzerne, Mr. Thomas.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Luzerne, Mr. Thomas, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LORENZO D. THOMAS. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask why the gentleman wants this bill placed upon the postponed calendar?

Mr. LORENZO D. THOMAS. It would be the easiest thing in the world if I were so minded, but I refuse to do it under the circumstances.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to object to this motion to postpone this bill. This bill is merely an enabling act to permit a corporation which has closed up its affairs, which has wound up its affairs and has discovered that it failed to transfer certain property and is now to be permitted, under the provisions of this act to transfer that property. That is all the bill does. It is merely an enabling act covering specific cases. I can see no reason why the gentleman desires to postpone this bill at this time, and I would like to know why, if the gentleman has any reason, he wants this bill postponed.

Mr. LORENZO D. THOMAS. I have already stated that I have reasons, but I am not going to express them.

Mr. SPANGLER. Well, then, that is not a question for this House to consider.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was not agreed to.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER

The SPEAKER. The Chair desires to say at this time we are trying to make a creditable showing on the third reading calendar and we ought to be able to adjourn finally for the week tonight, after the evening session. The evening session may be late, so as to avoid a session tomorrow, and the Chair feels the announcement can be safely made at this time that there will be no session tomorrow.

RECESS.

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection, the Chair will declare a recess until 4:00 o'clock this afternoon. Are there objections? The Chair hears none.

Whereupon, (at 1:55 o'clock P. M.) the House took a recess until 4:00 o'clock P. M.

AFTER RECESS.

The House reconvened at 4:00 o'clock P. M.

The SPEAKER (C. J. Goodnough) in the Chair.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1480, (Senate Bill No. 868), entitled:

An Act authorizing poor directors of county poor districts to provide for the payment for the preparation of plans and specifications heretofore made for public buildings for such poor districts where no legal or valid contract was entered into as required by law

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from York, Mr. Spangler.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from York permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SPANGLER. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Will the gentleman from York explain this bill?

Mr. SPANGLER. This bill is identical in form with the bill passed by this House, passed by the Senate and signed by the Governor, which will enable the county commissioners to recognize a moral obligation of the county for the payment of architects' fees where an architect had spent a year or more, to the exclusion of all other work, in preparing plans and specifications for a building that three departments of this Commonwealth had directed to be built, and when the Poor Board of the County believed they had the power to employ an architect to prepare plans for the necessary construction of an almshouse in York county.

In York county they were operating under the old special act of 1804, which law has not been changed. In 1915, the conditions of the almshouse in York county had become so atrocious—if I may use the term—that the departments of factory inspection, the Board of Public Charities and the Fire Marshall united in demanding of the authorities of York county that they immediately tear down their old buildings and erect a new almshouse. In pursuance of that command on the part of the state, the Poor Board employed an architect who went ahead and prepared the plans, and up to this time he has not received one penny for his service. This bill, therefore, has for its purpose the permission on the part of the Poor Directors to pay the architect's bill or so much of it as they may deem just. It was originally thought that the County Commissioners were obligated in this matter, and when the bill was originally prepared that impression was the one that obtained, but later it was discovered that under a decision of the Court of Common Pleas of York county, the Poor Board was the proper authority to erect the almshouse, and the Court in that decision said, that if the Poor Board had enough accumulated funds from the sale of real estate that they had in their possession, they could go ahead and erect this almshouse, and pay for it, but there was not sufficient money in the treasury of the Poor Board to finance the project. The result was that the Court decided the act of 1804 was inadequate to proceed. Then we passed the act oı 1917 to correct the situation, and we were going to go ahead and build the almshouse, when the war came along and prices went up so high that we did not build. This, however, is no reason why the county should not recognize a moral obligation. The State recognizes moral obligations all the time. We have at every session of the legislature deficiency bills brought in where trustees of state institutions have paid out money for bills contracted in their own individual names, but the State always recognizes the moral obligation and pays the bill under the deficiency appropriation, and that is the purpose of this bill. It is merely a supplemental bill to the one passed by this House and by the Senate, and approved by the Governor, I ask you gentlemen of the House to vote for the bill, which does not, so far as I can see, apply to any other county, or to any other condition and it must be made a general bill to be legal.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, if this bill pertained to York county alone, I would have no objection to it, but I have read this bill a number of times—it is a Senate bill in the first place, and it is no reflection on the gentleman from York, and I have a great deal of respect for Senator Buckman—and I gave it considerable care. There is an old adage that ignorance of the law is no excuse, and I can very readily see how a very great and grave mistake might be made by passing this bill. There are 66 other counties in this State, and because some architect and some Poor Board did not know the law, and did not get advice from somebody who did know the law, (this is no reflection on the gentleman from York either) but they should have been advised that they have no right to enter into such a contract. The county commissioners under the general laws of Pennsylvania are the people to build the almshouse. They have, I understand, in York county a special act which gives them the right under certain circumstances.

This bill pertains to all counties and there may be 66 other bills practically the same, where the contracts have been entered into without any right, without any power to do it, and now this bill comes along and provides that they shall pay for it. The County Commissioners are the people to erect these almshouses. They are the ones to choose the architect they want and perhaps political differences between the members of the Board the poor Board thinking they had the right, employed another architect. It doesn't seem to me to be good legislation. I am explaining this to you, you are the members of the other 66 counties, because I do not want it for our county and it is up to you to say whether you want it or not.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I do not like to take up the time of the House on a matter that pertains to one county, but my friend from Delaware has been a general objector to practically every piece of legislation that comes up in this House. He does not understand the conditions in York County, yet he pretends to say to this House how we shall manage things in York county, what ought be done and how it ought to be done. We have spent years in studying this question and know what it is. The gentleman from Delaware comes here now with some general objection, saying it is going to effect other counties. If it does, I should very much like the gentleman to point out in what particulars it is going to affect others.

(The remarks of Mr. Alexander at this point in the proceedings were expunged from the record on the motion of Mr. Alexander.)

Mr. FLINCHBAUGH. Mr. Speaker, this affects the county which I represent, and has been a bone of contention for a number of years. I am not so familiar with the legal phase of this bill or the early history of it, but I do know it is the concensus of opinion in our county that this architect is not justly entitled to the money for the drawing up of the plans and specifications for this almshouse. I do know there is considerable objection among the taxpayers of our county to paying this bill. The architect in question has gotten in wrong on other instances, or at least I want to qualify that statement, he has gotten in wrong with the people. On another occasion this same architect drew plans for a public school building, where it is charged he exceeded his authority, and he attempted to collect the fees for this work from the school board in our county, and I do know that the people of York County, irrespective of conditions, will extend their gratitude to the members of this House if they will vote down this bill. I ask the members of this House to vote "no" on this bill.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from York.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from York, Mr. Flinchbaugh, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. FLINCHBAUGH. I will, Mr. Speaker..

Mr. SPANGLER. Is the gentleman from York acquainted with the fact, that an almshouse in the county of York is needed.

Mr. FLINCHBAUGH. Mr. Speaker, I will answer that question by saying that this question has been debated pro and con, There are certain interests in York county who think that a new almshouse is needed, and there are certain people, of wide experience, who think it would be more feasible to repair the present almshouse than to erect a new one. As I said before this is a bone of serious contention in this county, and there are two sides to the question.

Mr. SPANGLER. Does the gentleman know, or is he aware of the fact that in 1915, the three departmets that I have mentioned here not only requested but absolutely directed the county to erect a new almshouse and to immediately abandon the old one.

Mr. FLINCHBAUGH. Mr. Speaker, I recall recommendations to that effect, and I also recall that officials of the county and I think one of the judges of the Common Pleas court of the county decided it was not feasible to proceed to build a new almshouse.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Alexander.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SPANGLER. I would like to ask the gentleman from Delaware what features of this bill he objects to, and why?

Mr. ALEXANDER. I am opposed to any features of any bill which illegally or unlawfully gives a special privilege or right to a friend or to any county.

Mr. SPANGLER. What special right does this give?

Mr. ALEXANDER. It gives the right to contract and pay some friend public money, to which he has no right under the law.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, this bill does no such thing. This bill is simply an enabling act such as this House has passed on numerous occasions, and one which they passed at this session, in imposing an obligation on this Board, and merely saying to the Board you have the right to recognize this as a moral obligation, not a legal one, you have the right to direct that the architect be paid, not any special amount but such sum as you deem to be just under all the facts in the case. Now who should be the judge of whether or not there is a moral obligation? Naturally, your county board of county commissioners, or your Poor Board, and that is exactly what this bill permits, and it only permits that to be done. How it would affect any other county is inconceivable to me, and it has not been pointed out here. If the Poor Board of York County desires to recognize this service, which that Board directed to be done under orders from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, as a moral obligation they then should have the right after they so recognize that moral obligation to pay this bill, or so much of it as they shall see fit to pay. That is all you can get out of it. That is all there is in it. It merely asks the State to legalize a contract and to authorize the compensation to a man who has given his best services to a county for which he has not received one dollar of compensation.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from York.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SPANGLER. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Does the gentleman from York intend to convey to the members of this House an honest opinion of this bill when he states that this bill that the directors of the poor district of York county shall do it, or may do? Will you show me one line in this bill that says York county?

Mr. SPANGLER. No, I said this is a general bill.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Then why cannot any poor district in any other county do it, why doesn't this refer as much to any other county as it does to York?

Mr. SPANGLER. Why should it not? Why should it not?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Didn't you say that it did not?

Mr. SPANGLER. That is not the objection. I stated the facts in this case and I said that there are no similar facts in any other county of the Commonwealth that I know of.

Mr. ALEXANDER. How do you know?

Mr. SPANGLER. I said that I know of.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Do you know of any county where there are similar conditions? Will you state any circumstances of a similar nature in any other county?

Mr. SPANGLER. I do not know of any.

Mr. ALEXANDER. I do not know there are any in York county.

Mr. STONER. Mr. Speaker, I move the previous question.

The motion was seconded by the following: Messrs. Moore, Storb, Ludlow, Horne, Burd P. Evans, Lafferty, Dilsheimer, Haws, Lucas, Dunn, Armstrong, C. B. Jones, Frazer, Staudenmeier, Gibbons, Schaeffer, Miller, Berger, Raymond, Morrison, and others.

The SPEAKER. More than 20 members having joined in moving the previous question,

On the question,

Shall the main question now be put?

It was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken.

Mr. FLINCHBAUGH. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The roll was verified as follows:

Less than the majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the negative and the bill falls.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1488 (Senate Bill No. 702), entitled:

An Act to amend section twelve of the act approved the eighteenth day of July one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (Pamphlet Laws one thousand forty-three) entitled "An act establishing a public school employes' retirement system and creating a retirement board for the administration thereof establishing certain funds from contributions by the Commonwealth and contributing employes defining the uses and purposes thereof and the manner of payments therefrom and providing for the guaranty by the Commonwealth of certain of said funds imposing powers and duties upon boards having the employment of public school employes exempting annuities allowances returns benefits and rights from taxation and judicial process and providing penalties as amended"

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Mr. McKIM asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. Steedle.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1479 (Senate Bill No. 795), entitled:

An Act providing that in all suits against any county process shall be served upon and defense made by county controllers

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HORNE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I would like to call attention to this bill because I believe in principle it is entirely wrong. The officers of the county who are liable for contracting debts, responsible for the expenditure of money are the county commissioners. There seems to be no good reason for bringing suit against the controller in the county when there is a claim against that county, the county commissioners being responsible for that claim. I feel that this bill is entirely against the policy of making people liable for a claim or contract for debt and to make an auditing officers, the controller the person against whom suit shall be brought, and it seems very strange and seems like a special act for some special purpose. I would like very much to see it voted down.

Mr. BIDELSPACHER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to enter a word of protest against the passage of this bill, for the reason that the county controller is merely an auditor, and why the auditor should be made the representative of the county, I cannot understand. The county commissioners are the persons who enter into the practical relations, and represent the county in all its contracts, and I see no reason why they should be superseded by a mere auditor. For that reason, I would ask you to vote against this bill.

Mr. STONER. Mr. Speaker, if I understand this bill and its purpose it looks as though it would offer a reason why a county controller should employ an attorney at the expense of the county. I see no useful purpose to be served by the bill at all, nor any reason why the county should go to that expense. I think the bill should fall.

Mr. HEFFRAN. Mr. Speaker, I just want to call the attention of the members of the House to the fact that a similar bill to this has already been vetoed by his excellency, the Governor. This is the second bill of this character to come before this House and it ought to be defeated decisively.

Mr. WHITEHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to call the attention of the House to the fact that there was a similar bill on this question that was passed by the House, passed by the Senate, which was thought to be a good bill and when sent over to the Governor there were some suggestions made as to the wording. This is the result of the suggestions. This bill has been passed upon practically by the Governor and the Attorney General. The county controllers' convention thinks it is a good thing. It is an extra protection and precaution of the business of the county. It does not do away with the rights or duties of the commissioners, it allows extra help, or is an extra precaution. The bill has already been passed. This is a slight change in the wording at the suggestion of the Attorney General, and I think if we were for it one time we ought to be for it again, and I ask you to vote for this bill.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. Whitehouse.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. Whitehouse, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WHITEHOUSE. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Do you remember what the bill was that was vetoed?

Mr. WHITEHOUSE. Yes, I have a copy of it, No. 118.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Will you read it? Was that the House Bill, or do you have it wrong?

Mr. WHITEHOUSE. Bill No. 118, file 79, is the one that was vetoed. If the gentleman from Delaware wishes it read, I will take the time of the House in reading it. It provides that the county controller shall be made a party defendant in all suits against any county. Be it enacted, and so forth, that hereafter when any suit shall be brought against any county of this Commonwealth it shall be the duty of the plaintiff to make the county controller of the county, if such office exists in such county, a party defendant to such suit. All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act are hereby repealed."

Mr. ALEXANDER. I desire to further interrogate the gentleman. Will the gentleman say whether this takes away the right of the commissioners to defend?

Mr. WHITEHOUSE. I would say not. It was never intended to.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Reading it as the bill reads, that hereafter when any suit shall be brought against any county of this Commonwealth process shall be served upon and defense made by the county controller of the county, if such office exists in such county, in the same manner as is now provided for county commissioners. Then if that is the case a man may sue or a party may sue the county and serve the summons—

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. WHITEHOUSE. Mr. Speaker in view of the misunderstanding of this bill, I move that it be placed on the posponed calendar.

Mr. GOEHRING. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1484 (Senate Bill No. 393), entitled:

An Act to amend sections forty-three forty-four forty-five and fifty of article seventeen chapter six of the act approved the fourteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (Pamphlet Laws three hundred and twelve) entitled "An Act providing a system of government for boroughs and revising amending and consolidating the law relating to boroughs"

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1470, (Senate Bill No. 512), entitled:

An Act to amend section one of an act approved the seventeenth day of March, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one (P. L. 32), entitled, "An Act authorizing the erection and construction by counties of memorial halls in memory of the soldiers, sailors and marines of such counties; providing for an election to determine whether such hall shall be erected; providing for the purchase and condemnation of property for such purposes; regulating the use of such halls and providing for the maintenance and care of the same by a board of control at the expense of the county" by providing for second like proceeding in certain cases and making it the duty of the county commissioners upon favorable result of a second election to erect such hall at some place designated in the question submitted on the ballot

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. STONER. Mr. Speaker, this bill may not do so, but it looks to me as though drawn to meet a special case. I would ask if there is someone in the House who can explain it.

Mr. WELLS. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Allegheny properly understands the bill, id does cover a special case in McKean County. Under the former act the people of McKean County voted upon these memorials for the soldiers, which provided that the memorials must be erected at the county seat. This bill, as you will notice, changes the former act so that under this act they may vote for the memorials to be erected in any city or place designated on the ballot, in the county, and it provides that where there has already been an election, they may hold a second election for that purpose.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES.

Mr. DAVID J. JONES asked and obtained unanimous consent to report a bill from committee at this time.

Mr. DAVID J. JONES, from the Committee on Municipal Corporations, reported as amended House Bill No. 1660, (Senate Bill No. 1170), entitled:

An Act authorizing cities and boroughs to make emergency repairs to dangerous sidewalks and providing for the cost of collection thereof from the abutting property owners.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1487, (Senate Bill No. 639), entitled:

An Act to further amend the act approved the twenty-seventh day of April one thousand nine hundred and nine (Pamphlet Laws two hundred and fifty-eight) entitled "An act authorizing the employment of stenographers by the district attorneys of certain counties" as amended extending said act to counties of the fourth class and fixing the salaries of said stenographers

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill is one of a number of bills that have been prepared by the District Attorneys' Association of the Commonwealth. There has come into the hands of the district attorneys of the state in the last two or three years a great volume of criminal cases, as the lawyers here know, and from the reports you are getting from the penitentiaries and jails, you are aware of it from that fact. The district attorneys do not have sufficient help to take care of that business, and of course when they do not have, it means cases are postponed and continued at an extra expense to the county. It seems to me that a bill of this kind means a saving of money at one end and in the general total it is a big saving to the county, to the litigants and everyone else. It seems to me that the District Attorneys' Association has gone over this matter very carefully, and it is a very good bill. They cannot appoint without the approval of the court. The court must give its aproval before these appointments are made. I know the work in criminal court in Delaware County in the last two years has increased two-thirds over what it was before that time. Of course, you all know the cause of it, but it is here and we must make the best of it.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1508, (Senate Bill No. 1074), entitled:

An Act to amend section three of an act approved the fifteenth day of April one thousand eight hundred and forty-five (Pamphlet Laws four hundred and fifty-nine) entitled "A supplement to an act entitled 'An act relating to executions' passed the sixteenth day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and thirty-six" allowing counsel fees to garnishees filing written answers in attachments in executions issued by aldermen or justices of the peace and providing for the payment thereof

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. DAVID FOWLER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, there was considerable lobbying against this bill, and I know its real purpose, and Mr. Goehring has satisfied my mind in regard to objection labor has, but I wish he would just briefly communicate that information to clarify the minds of those to whom I have spoken.

Mr. GOEHRING. Mr. Speaker, under the present law the garnishee is entitled to a ten dollar fee if the suit is brought in court, but if the suit is brought in the alderman's office, or before the justice of the peace and the garnishee has to make his answer through his lawyer he is not entitled to anything. This allows him a five dollar fee, and I don't think it is any more than right.

Shall the bill pass finally?

NAYS—2.

Schaeffer,
Stoner,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1495 (Senate Bill No. 580), entitled:

An Act to enable city county poor ward school borough and township tax collectors their executors and administrators or their surety or sureties to collect taxes for the payment of which they have become personally liable by the expiration of the authority of their respective bonds or warrants or terms of office and to extend the time for the collection of the same for a period of two years from the passage of this act and authorizing such taxes to be entered as municipal liens and the land on which such taxes were assessed to be sold

On the question,

Will the House agreed to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. JOHN G. MARSHALL. Mr. Speaker, I would like to inquire if anybody in the House is familiar with the provisions of this bill and the purposes of it. Mr. Speaker, the provisions of this bill are retroactive, and it not only continues the expiring warrants of the tax collectors for an indefinite period, but in addition to that it gives the right to file a lien which will create an embarrassment to conveyancers in the handling of property. Under the present law they file that at expiration. As I understand the bill I see that interpretation in it, and since the sponsor is not here I move that the bill be postponed until we can confer with him.

Mr. EARLEY. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1439 (Senate Bill No. 551), entitled:

An Act to amend section one of the act approved the first day of July, 1919 (P. L. 710), entitled "An Act relating to fires and fire prevention; imposing duties; and conferring powers heretofore exercised by the State Fire Marshall, upon the Department of State Police; authorizing the appointment of the chiefs of fire departments and certain public officers and others as assistants to said department, and defining their powers and duties; providing for the investigation of the cause, origin, and circumstance of fires, and the inspection of all and the removal or change of certain buildings; imposing duties on school authorities, and on certain corporations associations, and fire rating agencies; providing for the attendance of witnesses before the department, and the enforcment of its orders; and prescribing penalties;" fixing the powers of the Department of State Police and cities, boroughs and townships relative to the erection and installation of tanks, pumps, drawing off or measuring devices used in connection with inflammable liquids.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. EACHES. Mr. Speaker, I would like to inquire if there is anybody in the House who can expain this bill.

Mr. BLUETT. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill seeks to extend the act of 1919 with regard to the State Police, giving them authority over tanks containing inflammable substance. It is one of the department bills and I understand that it does not apply to cities of the first and second class, where they have their own fire department and department of public safety.

Mr. EACHES. Does it apply to cities of the third class?

Mr. BLUETT. I dont know whether it does or not.

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Bluett.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadephia, Mr. Bluett, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BLUETT. Yes, sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. Does this bill confer any authority on the state police, in connection with forest fires?

Mr. BLUETT. No more than they have at the present time, as I understand it.

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. Are you sure of that?

Mr. BLUETT. No.

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. Mr. Speaker, until we get a better understanding of this bill, I move that it be placed upon the postponed calendar.

Mr. EACHES. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The Hopse proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1521 (Senate Bill No. 1134), entitled:

An Act to authorize the Department of Forestry to offer and to pay rewards for evidence sufficient to convict anyone maliciously setting forest fire and to authorize payment of such rewards to Local Forest Fire Wardens under certain conditions

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

HOUSE BILL No. 630 MADE A SPECIAL ORDER.

Miss BENTLEY. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 630, entitled:

An Act to amend section one thousand two hundred and four, and to repeal section one thousand two hundred and eight of an act approved the eighteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and eleven, (P. L. 309), entitled "An Act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, together with the provisions by which it shall be administered, and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof; providing revenue to establish and maintain the same, and the method of collecting such revenue; and repealing all laws general, special or local, or any parts thereof, that are or may be inconsistent therewith."

be made a special order of business on third reading and final passage for Monday, June 11th, at 10:00 o'clock P. M.

Mr. STAVITSKI. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. EARLEY, from the Committee on Public Health and Sanitation, reported as Committed, House Bill No. 1748, (Senate Bill No. 1477), entitled:

An Act to amend section nine and section fifteen as amended of an act approved the twenty-second day of June one thousand eight hundred and ninety-one (Pamphlet Laws three hundred seventy-nine) entitled "An act to provide for the selection of a site and the erection of a State asylum for the chronic insane to be called the State Asylum for the chronic insane of Pennsylvania and making an appropriation therefor" changing the name of said hospital and fixing the maximum per capita cost weekly.

BILL ON FIRST READING.

Mr. EARLEY. asked and obtained unanimous consent to have House Bill No. 1748 (Senate Bill No. 1477) read for the first time.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the first reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1748 (Senate Bill No. 1477), entitled:

An Act to amend section nine and section fifteen as amended of an act approved the twenty-second day of June one thousand eight hundred and ninety-one (Pamphlet Laws three hundred seventy-nine) entitled "An act to provide for the seclection of a site and the erection of a State asylum for the chronic insane to be called the State asylum for the chronic insane of Pennsylvania and making an appropriation therefor" changing the name of said hospital and fixing the maximum per capita cost weekly

And said bill having been read at length the first time,

Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1506 (Senate Bill No. 796), entitled:

An Act providing for the alteration of the boundaries of counties in certain cases for the adjustment of the indebtedness thereof providing the effect thereof

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it always gives me great pleasure when I can do a kind act to help the city of Philadelphia, which is in the adjoining county to ours, in any way I possibly can. There has been a rumor for a number of years that the city and county of Philadelphia was going to make application to be annexed to the county of Delaware. I see now that Senator Max Aron of Philadelphia has presented this bill for the purpose of paving the way, and I hope everybody will vote for it.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1514, (Senate Bill No. 394), entitled:

An Act to amend section fifteen as amended and section seventeen of chapter six of article seven of the act approved the fourteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (Pamphlet Laws three hundred and twelve) entitled "An Act providing a system of government for boroughs and revising amending and consolidating the law relating thereto"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. STONER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this is apparently a bill to change the present borough act concerning the assessment for street improvements so as to make the council pass upon the schedule instead of the court or other officer, and it seems to be in that respect a good bill, but I desire to call your attention to the peculiar provisions of sections 15 and 17, which are as follows: The last part of section 15 providing that no assessment shall be estimated and fixed when the total cost of such improvement has been ascertained and approved by the borough council or after completion of the improvement or at any intervening time. Then, in section 17 it says, "Provided, however, that no assessment shall be collectible and no interest shall be charged until thirty days after actual construction of the work has begun." Now, I may have a false impression of the fact, but if I have not a false impression then it is apparent that it is designed to enable an assessment to be made upon an estimate of the total cost before the work has been completed. I think it will be apparent to all of us that it will be utterly impossible to make an estimate of the total cost before the work is completed, and if my impression of the act is correct, it would seem therefore to be somewhat foolish. I may have it wrong, and if anybody can explain wherein I err, I would like to hear it, and if I have not erred I think we ought not to pass the bill.

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr SOWERS. In order to give everybody an opportunity to know what this bill is, I move it be placed upon the postponed calendar.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1530, (Senate Bill No. 1166), entitled:

An Act fixing the salary of county commissioners in counties of the first class.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

Mr. COLDSMITH. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. CLUTTON. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which the House agreed to the title and section to House Bill No. 1646, (Senate Bill No. 1142), be reconsidered.

Mr. COLDSMITH. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON SECOND READING.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1646, (Senate Bill No. 1142), entitled:

> An Act relating to permits from the Water Supply Commission for the construction of dams and for changes in streams to develop water power and to supply water for steam power in the generation of electric energy for use in public service herein respectively called power dams and changes in streams to develop power also permits for dams and changes in streams to supply water otherwise than for steam power limiting such permits for power dams and for changes in streams to develop power to a maximum of fifty years with certain extensions and renewals if the same are not within Federal jurisdiction but if the same are within Federal jurisdiction requiring the permittees to secure Federal licenses and making the rights set forth as rights of the United States enforceable by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in certain cases also authorizing such power permittees with the consent of said Commission to overflow and use certain islands owned by the Commonwealth declaring unlawful the use by any corporation or natural person for the development of water power or for the main purpose or of supplying water for steam power or for the supply of water otherwise than for steam power of any dam constructed or stream changed in course current or cross-section under any permit hereafter granted otherwise than under this Act empowering the Water Supply Commission to specify in permits under this Act reasonable annual charges and to embody therein certain terms conditions and stipulations saving the rights of holders of permits or authorities heretofore granted but authorizing them to take the benefits of this Act empowering the Water Supply Commission to make rules and regulations and issue orders for administering this Act providing for the enforcement of this Act by certain proceedings to be instituted by the Attorney General and providing remedies in such proceedings and reserving the rights of amendment and repeal without prejudice to permits theretofore granted"

The first section was read as follows:

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That where used in this act singular words shall be construed as including the plural masculine words shall be construed as including the feminine and neuter and the folowing words shall have the following meanings respectively designated for each

The term dam wall wing wharf embankment abutment projection or similar analogous structure or any other obstruction whatever in along across or projecting into any stream or body of water wholly or partly within or forming part of the boundary of this Commonwealth except the tidal waters of the Delaware River and of its navigable tributaries

The term "dam to develop water power" means a dam for the purpose of developing water only or a dam for said purpose and for any other purpose

The term "dam to supply water for steam power" means a dam for the main purpose of storing cooling diverting and using or any of them water for steam raising or steam condensation or both in the generation of electric energy for use in public service which is not a dam to develop water power as hereinbefore defined

The term water supply dam means a dam for the purpose of supplying water which is not a dam to develop water power nor a dam to supply water for steam power as hereinbefore defined

"The term 'power dam' includes dams to develop water power and dams to supply water for steam power

"The term 'change in stream to develop water power' means any change in or diminution of the course current or cross-section of any stream or body of water for the sole purpose of developing water power or for said purpose and any other purpose

"The term 'change in stream to supply water for steam power' means any such change or diminution for the main purpose of storing cooling diverting and using or any of them water for steam raising or steam condensation or both in the generation of electric energy for use in public service which is not a change in stream to develop water power as hereinbefore defined

"The term 'change in stream to supply water otherwise than for steam power' means any such change or diminution to supply water which is not a change in stream to develop water power nor a change in stream to supply water for steam power as hereinbefore defined

"The term 'change in stream to develop power' includes changes in stream for the purpose of the development of power and changes in stream to supply water for steam power

The term "power project" means a complete unit of improvement or development for the supply of water power to the public or for the supply of light heat and power or any of them by electricity to the public consisting of a power house and appurtenant works all water conduits all dams and works appurtenant thereto which are a part of said unit and all storage diverting or forebay reservoirs directly connected therewith the primary line or lines transmitting power from the power house to the point of junction with the distribution system or with an interconnected primary transmission system all miscellaneous structures used and useful in connection with such unit or any part thereof and all water rights rights-of-way ditches dams reservoirs lands or interest in lands the use and occupancy of which are necessary or appropriate in the construction maintenance and operation of such unit

The term "water supply project" means a complete unit of improvement or development for the supply of water which is not a power project as hereinbefore defined consisting of a reservoir the dam and other works appurtenant thereto and all primary water conduits leading immediately therefrom to the point of junction with the distribution system or with an interconnected primary conduit and all water rights rights of way ditches dams reservoirs and lands or interests in lands the use and occupancy of which is necessary or appropriate in the construction maintenance and operation of such unit

The term "permittee" means the holder of a unit under this act and his heirs successors and assigns

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. CLUTTON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendment.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend Section 1, page 6, by inserting after line 22, a new paragraph as follows:

The term "navigable waters of the United States" means those parts of streams or other bodies of water over which Congress has jurisdiction under its authority to regulate commerce with foreign nations and among the several States, and which either in their natural or improved condition, notwithstanding interruptions between the navigable parts of such streams or waters by falls, shallows, or rapids compelling land carriage, are used or suitable for use for the transportation of persons or property in interstate or foreign commerce, including therein all such interrupting falls, shallows, or rapids; together with such other parts of streams as shall have been authorized by Congress for improvement by the United States or shall have been recommended to Congress for such improvement after investigation under its authority.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section as amended?

It was agreed to.

The second section was read as follows:

Section 2 Every permit hereafter granted by the Water Supply Commission for the construction of a power dam all not within the jurisdiction of the United States under the act of Congress approved June tenth one thousand nine hundred and twenty known as the "Federal Water Power Act" and every permit hereafter granted by the said Commission for a change in stream to develop power not within the jurisdiction of the United States as aforesaid" shall be limited to such periods not exceeding fifty years as the said Commission shall determine and set forth in such permits respectively Provided however That the permittee shall be entitled to extension and renewals of such permit upon the terms thereof until the permittee shall have received through recapture or purchase by the Commonwealth or by a duly authorized subsequent permittee repayment of the capital prudently invested in the power project upon the faith of the permit plus such reasonable damages if any to property of the permittee valuable serviceable and dependent for its usefulness upon the continuance of said permit but not recaptured or purchased as may be caused by the severance therefrom of property taken

On the question,

Will the House agree to the Section?

Mr. CLUTTON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendment.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

Amend Section 2.

Strike out the entire Section, and insert in lieu thereof the following:

Section 2. A power dam or change in stream to develop power shall be deemed to be within the jurisdiction of the United States within the meaning of this section whenever (1) such dam or change is constructed or made or to be constructed or made in or upon navigable waters of the United States or (2) the Federal Power Commission shall have found that the interests of interstate or foreign commerce would be effected by the construction of such dam or the making of such change.

Every permit hereafter granted by the Commission for the construction of a power dam or for a change in stream to develop power not within the jurisdiction of the United States shall be limited to such periods not exceeding fifty years the said Commission shall determine and set fourth therein. Provided, That the permittee shall be entitled to extension and renewal of such permit upon the terms thereof until the permittee shall have received through recapture or purchase by the Commonwealth or by a duly authorized subsequent permittee repayment of the capitol prudently invested in the power project upon the faith of the permit plus such reasonable damages, if any, to property of the permittee valuable, seviceable and dependent for its usefulness upon the continuance of such permit, but not recaptured or purchased as may be caused by the severance therefrom of property taken.

Every permit hereafter granted by the Commission for the construction of a power dam or for a change in stream to develop power within the jurisdiction of the United States shall be on the following conditions which shall be expressed in such permit, namely, (a) That the permit shall become null and void unless within the time specified therein the permittee (or, as to a change in stream within the Commonwealth effected or to be effected by a dam or other means without the Commonwealth, those constructing or purposing to construct, maintain or operate such dam or other means) shall secure from the Federal Power Commission a license for such dam or change and (b) That if and to the extent that any of the rights or powers set forth or reserved as rights or powers of the United States in or pursuant to the provisions of such license shall be waived by the United States, or be unenforceable by the United States then and to that extent such rights and powers (including, if so waived or unenforceable, any rights of recapture, extension or renewal so set forth or reserved) may be exercised and enforced by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania subject to such alterations in plans, specifications or structures, and such extensions of time for commencing or completing construction as may be made or granted by the Federal Power Commission.

Every permit granted under this section shall be subject to such reasonable annual charge specified therein as the Commission shall fix for the purpose of reimbursing the Commonwealth for the costs of administration of this act, and may in the discretion of the Commission embody other terms conditions and stipulations as the Commission shall deem necessary to protect the present and future interests of the Commonwealth and its people in the construction, maintenance and operation of the project, and in the water and power resources to be utilized thereby and suitable to secure to the permittee a reasonable opportunity for a fair return on the actual investment prudently made in the project.

On the question.

Will the House agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the agree to the section as amended?

It was agreed to.

The third to twelfth sections inclusive were read and agreed to as follows:

Section 3 Every permit hereafter granted by the Water Supply Commission for the construction of a power dam within the jurisdiction of the United States under the Federal Water Power Act "and every permit hereafter granted by said Commission for a change in stream to develop power within the jurisdiction of the United States as aforesaid shall be on the following conditions which shall be expressed in such permit namely (a) That the permit shall become null and void unless within a specified time the permittee shall secure from the Federal Power Commission a license for such dam or change under the provisions of the Federal Power Water Act and (b) that if and to the extent that any of the rights or powers set fourth as rights or powers of the United States in such license or in the Federal Water Power Act or in the rules and regulations of the Federal Power Commission in force at the time of the issue of such license shall thereafter be waived by the United States or be unenforceable by the United States then and to that extent such rights and powers (including if so waived or unenforceable the rights of recapture extension and renewal set forth in sections fourteen and fifteen of said act subject to the conditions and obligations set forth in said section) may be exercised and enforced by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania subject to such alterations in plans specifications or structures and such extensions of time for commencing or completing construction as may be made or granted as provided in such license or in the Federal Water Power Act in force at the time of such issue of such license

Section 4 It shall be unlawful for any corporation or natural person to use for the development of water power diverting and using or any of them water for steam raising or steam condensation or both in the generation of electric energy for use in public service any dam constructed under any permit hereafter issued otherwise than under sections two or three of this act or to divert or use for said purposes or for said main purpose any stream or body of water the course current or cross section of which shall have been changed or diminished at the point of diversion or use under any permit hereafter granted otherwise than under sections two or three of this act And it shall be unlawful for any corporation or natural person to use for water supply purposes other than the main purpose aforesaid any dam constructed under any permit hereafter granted otherwise than under section seven of this act and in like manner it shall be unlawful for any corporation or natural person to use for water supply purposes other than said main purpose any stream or body of water the course current or cross-section of which shall have been changed or diminished at the point of diversion or of use under any permit hereafter granted otherwise than under section seven of this act

Section 5 Any permittee holding a permit granted under sections two or three of this act may with the consent of the Water Supply Commission which consent may be set forth in such permit overflow submerge occupy and use as appurtenant to the power project in behalf of which such permit is granted and subject to the terms stipulations and conditions expressed therein any island owned by the Commonwealth in the river Susquehanna or any of its branches or in any other stream or water over which the Water Supply Commission has jurisdiction

Section 6 The Water Supply Commission in every permit granted under sections two or three of this act shall specify a reasonable annual charge in an amount fixed by said Commission to be paid by the permittee for the purpose of reimbursing the Commonwealth for the costs of administration of this act and shall embody in every such permit such other terms conditions and stipulations as the Commission shall deem necessary to protect the present and future interests of the Commonwealth and its people as a whole and of the communities and people in the vicinity of the power project or water supply project and to secure to the Commonwealth and its people such control rights and advantages as the Federal Power Commission is required or authorized by the said Federal Power Act to secure for the United States and its people in the issuing of licenses under said act in so far as such control rights and advantages are within the scope of state jurisdiction and in the judgment of the Commission applicable to and in the public interest as affecting the permit

Section 7 The Water Supply Commission in every permit hereafter granted for the construction of a water supply dam or for a change in stream to supply water otherwise than for steam power shall specify a reasonable annual charge in an amount fixed by said Commission to be paid by the permittee with a view to reimbursing the Commonwealth for the costs of administration of this act and the said Commission shall embody therein such other terms conditions and stipulations as the Commission shall deem necessary to protect the present and future interests of the Commonwealth and its people as a whole and of the territories and people in the vicinity of the water supply project

Section 8 The provisions of this act shall not be construed as affecting any permit or authority heretofore granted or given pursuant to law for the construction of any dam or for the changing or diminution of the course current or cross section of any stream or body of water but the holder of any such permit or authority may apply for a permit under this act and if and when any such applicant is granted a permit under this act he shall have all the rights and be subject to all the duties conferred or imposed by or under this act

Section 9 That the Water Supply Commission is hereby authorized and empowered to make such rules and regulations and issue such orders as may be necessary and proper for carrying out the provisions of this act

Section 10 The Attorney General may on the request of the Water Supply Commission institute proceedings in any court now or hereafter by law clothed with jurisdiction in cases in which the Commonwealth is a party for the purpose of remedying or correcting by injunction mandamus or other process any action of commission or omission in violation of the provisions of this act or of the terms conditions or stipulations of any permit granted hereunder or of any lawful regulation or order promulgated hereunder or for the purpose of so remedying or correcting any act of commission or omission in violation of the Federal Water Power Act of the rules and regulations of the Federal Power Commission or of the conditions of a license under the Federal Water Power Act obtained in pursuance of any permit granted by the Water Supply Commission if and to the extent that rights set forth as rights of the United States are by this act made enforceable by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania In the event of the failure of any permittee to comply with the requirements of any final decree in any such proceedings the Attorney General may institute proceedings for the purpose of revoking the permit The said courts shall have jurisdiction over all the above-mentioned proceedings and shall have power to issue and execute all necessary process and to make and enforce all rights orders and decrees to compel compliance with the lawful orders and regulations of the Commission in respect of any so permitted dam or appurtenant works and in respect of any so permitted change or diminution of the course current or cross section of any stream or body of water and to compel the performance of any condition imposed under the provisions of this act In the event a decree revoking a permit is entered the court is empowered to sell the whole or any part of the dam together with any or all works lands and water rights appurtenant thereto or existing under the permit to wind up the business of such permittee conducted in connection with such dam change or diminution to distribute the proceeds to the parties entitled to the same and to make and enforce such further orders and decrees as equity and justice may require At such sale or sales the vendee shall take the rights and privileges belonging to the permittee and shall perform the duties of such permittee and assume all outstanding obligations and liabilities of the permittee which the court may deem equitable in the premises

Section 11 That the right to amend and repeal this act is hereby expressly reversed but no such alteration amendment or repeal shall affect any permit theretofore issued under the provisions of this act or the rights of any permittee thereunder

Section 12 All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act are hereby repealed

The title was read as follows:

An Act relating to permits from the Water Supply Commission for the construction of dams and for changes in streams to develop water power and to supply water for steam power in the generation of electric energy for use in public service herein respectively called power dams and changes in streams to develop power also permits for dams and changes in streams to supply water otherwise than for steam power limiting such permits for power dams and for changes in streams to develop power to a maximum of fifty years with certain extensions and renewals if the same are not within Federal jurisdiction but if the same are within Federal jurisdiction requiring the permittees to secure Federal licenses and making the rights set forth as rights of the United States enforceable by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in certain cases also authorizing such power permittees with the consent of said Commission to overflow and use certain islands owned by the Commonwealth declaring unlawful the use by any corporation or natural person for the development of water power or for the main purpose or of supplying water for steam power or for the supply of water otherwise than for steam power of any dam constructed or steam changed in course current or cross-section under any permit hereafter granted otherwise than under this Act empowering the Water Supply Commission to specify in permits under this Act reasonable annual charges and to embody therein certain terms conditions and stipulations saving the rights of holders of permits or authorities heretofore granted but authorizing them to take the benefits of this Act empowering the Water Supply Commission to make rules and regulations and issue orders for administering this Act providing for the enforcement of this Act by certain proceedings to be instituted by the Attorney General and providing remedies in such proceedings and reserving the rights of amendment and repeal without prejudice to permits theretofore granted"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the title?

Mr. CLUTTON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendment.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Strike out the title in its entirety and insert in lieu thereof the following: "An Act relating to limited power permits and limited water supply permits from the Water Supply Commission of Pennsylvania and the conditions thereof; to the flooding and use by holders of limited power permits of islands owned by the Commonwealth; to the unlawful use for water or steam power development of dams and changes in streams hereafter constructed or made otherwise than under limited power permits; and to proceedings for the enforcement of this act."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the title as amended?

It was agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time, and agreed to as amended.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

MOTION TO RECONSIDER VOTE.

Mr. STONER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 1445, (Senate Bill No. 24), file folio 3601, entitled:

An Act providing for an industrial State Highway from the City of Chester to the city of Philadelphia.

passed finally, be reconsidered.

Miss MacKINNEY. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. STONER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, if this bill is understood, or was understood when it was voted upon nothing more need be said, but it seems to me that whether it was understood is somewhat doubtful. It seems to provide for an industrial highway between Philadelphia and Chester, I do not know how far that is, but I am told by Mr. Golder, about 17 miles and is provided for a width of 120 feet, which means about eight times the width of an ordinary road. While I would be very glad to see Philadelphia and Chester get such a highway under ordinary conditions, but if the state at large has to pay for such a highway, it looks to me like undue preference. It has been said to me by certain members of the House that the state is not to build this road and not to pay for it; that it is contemplated that the state shall only survey it, and that the cost of condemnation of property and the construction of the highway will be paid by the districts. If that is true, there would be no reason why anybody should object to this bill in any way, but the fault is that the bill seems to provide, and I think it does provide, for the survey, condemnation and construction of the road at the expense of the state. Now, under these circumstances, if the House feels that this road should be built at the expense of the state at large to accommodate this portion of the population, I am perfectly satisfied, but I wanted the members to understand the bill.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this road means more than a highway between Philadelphia and Chester. This road runs along the lower end of the county from which I come, and through another county. It is a feeder to all the surrounding highways, particularly to Wilmington, Baltimore and the south. There is at the present time between the city of Chester and Philadelphia, a highway known as the Chester-Darby-Tilford pike. This is an old turnpike road and before the road was condemned for tolls, it was practically built up along each side of the road, which is only a 50 foot road at the best, and practically built up on both sides of it. There is a double track railroad along there which means that the congestion of all that southern travel is very great.

Now the Baldwin locomotive works located in Eddystone, just outside the city of Chester, and the Westinghouse plant in Tinicum Township have jointly agreed with the Highway Department, and the Highway Department has stated that they don't propose to build this road unless they pay the expense. The bill also provides that the road shall not be over 120 feet wide. There is an act of assembly which provides that when a road is laid out for a state highway it shall not be less than 120 feet, for that is the ordinary width of the roads that will be built hereafter. This is a large improvement for a vast amount of people, and the state is practically getting it for nothing. As I understand the only thing the state is to pay, this is not my bill, it is Senator McDade's, the only thing practically is the proceedings in condemnation and the surveying which is to be made by the state. The Baldwin Locomotive Works and the Westinghouse company are better able, by means of their engineering corps, and no doubt they will want to take the road over, and therefore they should have the right to decide the grades, the width, etc., and as I understand it that is the only thing they will pay. There is no compulsion for the Highway Department to spend a cent on it, and if the bill passes it is naturally up to the Highway Commissioner whether or not this road will ever be built, and of course if the Baldwin and Westinghouse plants do not carry out their agreement, the chances are that it will lie as it is at the present time.

Miss GRIMES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I consider this one of the most constructive pieces of road legislation that has come to my notice. We have had a lot of bills limiting the weight of trucks, and things of that kind. My idea is not to limit the weight of trucks, but to construct our roads to take care of the heavier trucks and greater business. The time is coming when we ought to have separate roads for trucks. I think this is a very good bill and I would like to see it pass.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I just want to add one thing which the lady from Allegheny reminded me of. On this road at the present time, the Chester, Darby and Telford road, the trucks of the Westinghouse plant are especially large and heavy, as are those from the Baldwin Locomotive works, and they have to use this road into Philadelphia. The result is that it is almost impossible for the state to keep up this road at the present time, on account of these heavy trucks and the narrow width of the road. They are building it for that purpose, perhaps for their own benefit.

Mr. STONER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Alexander.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Yes, sir.

Mr. STONER. Did I understand you to say that there was an agreement that this road was to be constructed entirely at private expense?

Mr. ALEXANDER. I said, that is my understanding, except the surveying and the engineering work in laying out the road.

Mr. STONER. Is it not true that the bill in turn provides that the road may be constructed at the expense of the state?

Mr. ALEXANDER. That is not a highway road, that is not an improved state highway, but after it is built it is to be a highway given to the state, so of course that is the kind of road that would have to be built.

Mr. STONER. That is not answering my question. The question was whether the bill does not provide for the payment for the road by the state.

Mr. ALEXANDER. No, it provides that it is entirely in the hands of the Highway Commissioner whether the road will ever be built or not.

Mr. STONER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I call your attention to the last part of the proviso in Section 3, which says: "Any state funds appropriated or available for the construction improvement and maintenance of State highway shall be available for the construction improvement and maintenance of said Industrial State Highway". That is all.

Mr. BIDELSPACHER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill was most carefully considered in the Committee on Highways, of which I am a member. A public hearing was held on the bill. It received most careful consideration, and after the careful consideration and as a result of the public hearing, it was reported out favorably. You will notice in this bill there is nothing mandatory for the erection of this highway. It is left entirely to the discretion of the Highway Commissioner. In the first place he is hereby authorized to cause surveys to be made. The second section says "If an industrial highway as herein described and designated is in the judgment of the State Highway Commissioner justifiable and if an equitable distribution of the cost of construction and maintenance can be arrived at by the parties in interest he is hereby authorized to take over such existing roads." Surely we can trust the Highway Commissioner to represent the state in this important matter. I have no personal interest in this road for, as you all know, I come from the northern central portion of the state, and it may be that I will never have occasion to use this road. It was practically understood that the State Highway Commissioner should have the whole thing at his discretion, and if these parties, these vast interests down there, those industrial interests along the route of this highway will raise the money, and if in the discretion of the Highway Commissioner sufficient money has been raised to warrant the state to go ahead with the road, then he can do so, but there is nothing to compel him to do so.

MOTION LAID UPON THE TABLE.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I move that the motion to reconsider this vote be laid upon the table.

Mr. HOWARD SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER declared the "ayes" appear to have it,

Whereupon, a division having been called for, and 120 members or more than a constitutional majority of the House having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative and the motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1536 (Senate Bill No. 1140), entitled:

An Act giving the consent of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to the purchase by the United States of about one hundred and forty-seven and five hundred and forty-three thousandths acres of land in O'Hara Township Allegheny County Pennsylvania for use in the care and treatment of discharged sick and disabled soldiers or for other uses of the United States and ceding jurisdiction over such land and also providing for the retention of a concurrent jurisdiction by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania with the United States on such land for the service of legal process thereupon

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendment.

The SPEAKER. The next bill on the calendar is House Bill No. 1505 (Senate Bill No. 763).

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the bill just called is an important bill which provides for the submission to the electors in the election of 1924, of the question of whether or not a Constitutional Convention shall be called for the purpose—

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. GOLDER. Has this bill been read for the third time?

The SPEAKER. The bill has not been read for the third time.

Mr. GOLDER. Then the remarks of the gentleman are out of order. The bill is not before the House.

The SPEAKER. The Chair rules that the point of order is well taken.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the bill.

The Clerk then read the bill as follows:

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1505, (Senate Bill No. 763), as follows:

An Act relating to the preparation of a new Constitution of the Commonwealth by a convention and its adoption or rejection by the people

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That at the general election for the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty-four the question "Shall a constitutional convention be held in the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty-six as provided in the act of Assembly approved the ....day of........ one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three" (intersecting the date of the approval of this act) followed by the words "yes" and "no" in appropriate voting blocks shall be printed upon the official ballots to be used at such election as provided by the election laws of the Commonwealth for the submission of questions to the vote of the people Below the said question shall appear the words "voters" favoring the holding of a constitutional convention in the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty-six will mark a cross (X) to the right of the word 'yes' those opposing the holding of a convention will mark a cross (X) to the right of the word 'no' "

Section 2 If a majority of the electors who shall vote upon the aforesaid question shall favor the holding of a constitutional convention the said convention shall convene in the Hall of the House of Representatives in the State Capitol in the city of Harrisburg on the second Tuesday of January one thousand nine hundred and twenty-six at twelve o'clock noon and shall conclude its sessions not later than August first one thousand nine hundred and twenty-six and delegates to said convention shall be nominated and elected as hereinafter provided

Section 3 The said constitutional convention if authorized by the electors as hereinbefore provided shall consist of three district delegates from each Senatorial district within the Commonwealth as said districts are constituted at the time of the election A district delegate shall be at least twenty-five years of age a citizen of the United States of America for at least five years a citizen and inhabitant of the Commonwealth and of the Senatorial District from which he or she shall be elected a delegate for at least four years

Section 4 If the electors vote in favor of the convention nominations for district delegates to the said constitutional convention shall be made at the primary election for the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five The names of candidates for nomination shall be printed upon the official ballot of each political party upon the filing of nomination petitions in their behalf in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth at least forty days before the date of the said primary Such nomination petitions for district delegates shall be in the form required by law for the nomination of candidates for the office of Senator in the General Assembly except that a candidate may or may not be an inhabitant of the Senatorial District in which he or she is a candidate and shall be signed by at least two hundred qualified electors of the Senatorial districts within which the respective candidates are to be nominated

The Secretary of the Commonwealth in forwarding to the county commissioners of each county a list of the candidates for the various offices to be nominated at the said primary election shall include the names of the candidates of each party for delegates to be the constitutional convention

Each elector voting at such primary shall be entitled to vote for two candidates for district delegates to such constitutional convention

The county commissioners or the proper return judges shall make the proper certificates of return of votes cast for the candidates for nomination for the office of delegate to the constitutional convention to the Secretary of the Commonwealth

The two candidates of any political party receiving the largest number of votes at the said primary election shall be the nominees of such party for delegates from the Senatorial district within which such candidates are nominated

Section 5 Nominations for district delegates to said constitutional convention if authorized as hereinbefore provided may also be made by nomination papers in the manner provided by law for the nomination by nomination papers of candidates for Senator in the General Assembly

Section 6 If the electors at the said election for the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty-four shall authorize the holding of a constitutional convention as hereinbefore provided district delegates to such convention shall be elected at the municipal election for the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five

The ballots for use at such municipal election in the several Senatorial districts of the Commonwealth shall contain the names of the Candidates for district delegates from such districts nominated as hereinbefore provided Each elector voting at such municipal election shall be entitled to vote for two district delegates to such constitutional convention and the three candidates for district delegates in each district receiving the highest vote shall be the district delegates from such district to the constitutional convention

Section 7 Returns of the said election shall be made by the proper prothonotary or return judges to the Secretary of the Commonwealth who shall certify the result to the Governor who shall thereupon declare by proclamation the names of the persons duly elected Any vacancies occurring in the office of delegate to said constitutional convention may be filled by vote of the remaining delegates

Section 8 If a constitutional convention be authorized as hereinbefore provided it shall be called to order by the Governor and it shall immediately organize by electing a president secretary and such other officers as shall be necessary for the transaction of its business It shall have the power to adopt rules of procedure finally to determine the election and qualification of delegates and generally to adjourn to such time or times and such place or places as it shall determine

Section 9 It shall be the duty of such constitutional convention to consider the constitution recommended by "The Commission on Constitutional Amendment and Revision" appointed under the act approved the fourth day of June Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred nineteen

The convention may submit a proposed constitution as a whole or may submit separately such parts thereof as it may determine Provided That one-third of all the members of the convention shall have the right to require the separate and distinct submission to a popular vote of any change and amendment proposed by the convention

The convention shall also frame the question necessary to elicit from the electors their approval or rejection of the said proposed costitution and of any parts to be separately submitted in brief form and so that they can be answered by either the word "yes" or the word "no"

Section 10 Such constitution as may be proposed by the constitutional convention shall be engrossed and signed by the president and secretary of the convention and shall be delivered to the Secretary of the Commonwealth not later than the first Monday of September of the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty-six The Secretary of the Commonwealth shall enter the proposed constitution upon the records of his office He shall publish the said proposed constitution in at least two newspapers in every county of the State wherein said number of newspapers may be published once during the week immediately preceding the election and shall publish the same in convenient form and send a copy thereof to every elector in the Commonwealth making application therefor He shall also cause to be sent through the county commissioners to each polling place in the Commonwealth in sufficient time to be there available to persons voting thereat at least ten copies of the proposed constitution so published for the use of voters desiring to consult the same while in the polling place

The question framed by the convention as aforesaid shall be by said convention certified to the Secretary of the Commonwealth who shall in turn at least thirty days before the general election of one thousand nine hundred and twenty-six certify the same to the county commissioners of the several counties The question so certified shall be printed on the official ballot to be used at such general election followed by the words "yes" and "no" and appropriate voting blocks as provided by the election laws of the Commonwealth for the submission of question to the vote of the people

Section 11 The constitution and any parts thereof to be submitted separately proposed by such constitutional convention shall be submitted to the qualified electors of the Commonwealth for their approval or rejection at the general election in the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty-six A majority of the electors voting upon the adoption or rejection of the proposed constitution shall be necessary for its adoption Such proposed constitution and any parts thereof submitted separately if approved by a majority of the electors voting thereon shall become effective unless the proposed constitution or the schedule thereto shall otherwise provide upon the first day of January one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven Returns of the vote cast for and against the proposed constitution and for and against any parts thereof submitted separately as hereinbefore provided shall be canvassed as provided by law and shall be certified by the prothonotary of every county to the Secretary of the Commonwealth who shall compute the same and certify the result to the Governor If from said certificate it shall appear that the proposed constitution and any parts thereof submitted separately shall have been adopted by the people the Governor shall immediately make proclamation thereof

Section 12 The members of the constitutional convention if held as provided by this act shall receive a salary of one thousand dollars ($1,000) payable in five equal instalments an allowance for traveling expenses of twenty cents per mile circular for one session and an allowance for postage stationery and contingencies of one hundred dollars ($100)

The convention shall have the power to employ and to fix the compensation of a secretary and such officers assistants clerks and other employes as shall be deemed necessary to carry out the provisions of this act

Section 13 It is the intent of this act that the procedure provided for the nomination and election of district delegates shall be the same as that provided by law for the nomination and election of Senators in the General Assembly and matters relating to the nomination and election of delegates not expressly covered by this act shall be governed by the laws relating to the nomination and election of such Senators

Section 14 The constitutional convention shall have the aid and assistance of the Legislative Reference Bureau and shall have authority to specially employ any one or more officers or employes of said bureau and may authorize the employment by said bureau of such additional assistants as may be deemed necessary by the convention and provide for the payment of such assistants from any appropriation made by the General Assembly for the payment of the expenses of the convention

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker, continuing the remarks that I had just been making, this being an important measure, and there being a division of opinion in regard to the merits of this bill, it is only reasonable and fair that there should be a full House. I therefore move that this bill be placed upon the postponed calendar.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. McVicar.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. McVicar, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McVICAR. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GOLDER. I desire to ask the gentleman from Allegheny upon how many bills he voted tonight, approximately?

Mr. McVICAR. I could not answer that exactly. If you will count the number of bills which have been passed upon I presumed you could determine about how many bills I voted upon.

Mr. GOLDER. I desire to ask the gentleman from Allegheny whether he voted on any bills tonight on final passage.

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker, the records will speak for themselves on that question, which are open to the gentleman from Philadelphia. Furthermore, I take it that the question is not relevant. The question is whether this bill should be placed upon the postponed calendar or not.

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker, the answer from the gentleman from Allegheny is typical and characteristic and is the keynote which prompts the motion tonight to postpone. The questions which I asked were perfectly clear and perfectly fair. They were evaded. The gentleman from Allegheny ran from the questions for the very same reasons he is running from the bills tonight. I think you can understand why.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. McVICAR. My point of order is that a motion to postpone for the present is not debatable.

The SPEAKER. The Chair rules that a motion to postpone for the present is not debatable. A motion to postpone indefinitely is debatable.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The Speaker declared the "ayes" appeared to have it.

Whereupon, a division was called for, and eighty members having voted in the affirmative and twenty-eight in the negative, the question was determined in the affirmative and the motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up for consideration at this time, House Bill No. 1505, Senate Bill No. 763, file folio 4271, and move for its immediate consideration. The bill is on page 25 of today's calendar, the bottom bill, which has been postponed for the present.

Mr. LAFFERTY. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. SPANGLER. My point of order is: No other business having transacted, the motion of the gentleman from Philadelphia is not in order.

Mr. GOLDER. On that particular question the motion was to postpone for the present. There is neither a ruling of the House or any parliamentary rule which requires any other business to intervene. This bill was postponed for the present. The present is here, and I call up the bill and move for its consideration.

The SPEAKER. The Chair rules that the motion to postpone for the present placed the bill on the postponed calendar, from which, under a resolution of the House, it can only be called on a Tuesday.

Mr. GOLDER. I have no desire to take issue with the Speaker, and if, at the conclusion of my remarks, the Speaker is still of the opinion that his ruling is sound, I shall abide by it. The resolution which was introduced, and which was reported out, as I recall, provided that House Bills placed on the postponed calendar could only be called up on a certain day. I believe that was the resolution. This bill was not continued indefinitely. This bill was continued for the present. Does not the Speaker see that the very purpose of this resolution, or the very purpose of a motion such as was made by the gentleman from Allegheny, if made in good faith, would be defeated by the ruling of the Speaker. If it was the intention of the maker of that motion that this bill be postponed and placed upon the calendar so that it could only be caled up on Tuesday, the particular distinction between postponing for the present and postponing the bill would not have been drawn by this astute gentelman from Allegheny, so the Speaker must see that he is defeating the very purpose of the resolution which was introduced by the Committee on Rules and would defeat the very purpose of the particular motion to postpone for the present. I respectfully submit that thought to the Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The Chair desires, in answer to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Golder, to say, that our understanding is that the usual motion to place a bill upon the postponed calendar is to postpone for the present. The effect of that motion, when agreed to by the House, is to place the bill upon the postponed calendar. The usual statement of the Chair in stating the question is that the motion is to postpone for the present, that when it is agreed to the Chair so states and the bill is placed upon the postponed calendar, and of course, therefore, with that understanding the Chair is of the opinion that Bill No. 763 is now upon the postponed calendar; that the House has adopted a resolution under which the bill may be called from the postponed calendar only on Tuesday of each week.

Mr. GOLDER. Will the Speaker further indulge me?

The SPEAKER. The Chair will.

Mr. GOLDER. Will the Speaker, therefore, be good enough to advise me, as one member of the House, why a distinction was made in his ruling which he specifically made, that while a motion to postpone indefinitely was debatable that a motion to postpone for the present was not. What distinction is there between those two motions? Is not the effect of both motions the same?

The SPEAKER. The Chair stated that, for the purpose of conveying to the mind of the gentleman from Philadelphia the thought that a motion to postpone indefinitely if agreed to has the effect of killing the bill or finally disposing of the bill. It is therefore debatable, and ought to be debatable; that a motion to postpone for the present takes into consideration the consideration of the bill at some future time, and therefore, is not debatable.

Mr. GOLDER. Even under these circumstances, Mr. Speaker, it is a pleasure to agree with you.

QUESTION OF INFORMATION.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of information.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, may I have the resolution relating to the Tuesday ruling read?

The SPEAKER. The resolution will be sent for and read for the information of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers.

Mr. SOWERS. While we are waiting for the resolution, does anybody have any recollection whether that applies to Senate bills? My recollection is that it only applies to House bills..

The SPEAKER. Our recollection was that it applied to all bills.

Mr. SOWERS. I thought it applied only to House bills, that is the reason I asked for a reading of it.

The SPEAKER. The Chair states that we have a copy of the resolution here, not an original, but I assume it is a correct copy. We will get the original if the gentleman cares for it.

Mr. SOWERS. No, I think the copy of it will do.

The SPEAKER. The resolution reads as follows: Beginning with the calendar week of Monday, April 30th, 1923, that bills on the postponed calendar may be called up only on Tuesday of each week. The resolution is signed by the Rules Committee.

MOTION TO RECONSIDER VOTE.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, with reference to Senate Bill No. 24, which passed earlier in the evening, after the gentleman from Allegheny made a motion to reconsider, I made a motion that the motion to reconsider lie upon the table. That motion prevailed, but there being a question that the motion to lie upon the table if not called up later on might have the effect of tying up the bill at the Speaker's desk, therefore I would like to move that the vote by which the motion to reconsider was laid upon the table be reconsidered, so that the motion can be finally be disposed of.

Mr. STONER. Mr. Speaker, I have no animosity towards that bill, I simply called it up in a spirit of helpfullness to the members. I will withdraw my motion to reconsider.

Mr. EDMONDS. Then Mr. Speaker, I will withdraw my motion to reconsider the vote by which this motion was laid upon the table.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Edmonds, withdraws his motion to reconsider the vote by which the motion was laid upon the table. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Stoner, withdraws his motion to reconsider the vote by which this bill passed finally, which is lying upon the table.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1436, (Senate Bill No. 59), entitled:

An Act to repeal an Act entitled "An Act to regulate the practice of the profession of engineering and of land surveying creating a State Board for the registration of Professional Engineers and Land Surveyors defining its powers and duties imposing certain duties upon the Commonwealth and political subdivisions thereof in connection with public work and providing penalties"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LUDLOW. Mr. Speaker, is there any person in the membership of the House who can answer questions with respect to this bill.

Mr. HOWARD SMITH. Mr. Speaker, it is all according to what the gentleman wants to know.

Mr. LUDLOW. Mr. Speaker, I will withdraw my interrogation as I understand a motion to postpone is about to be made.

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. NORMAN WOOD. Mr. Speaker, I section the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1614, (Senate Bill No. 1212), entitled:

An act to amend clauses (b) and (c) of section fifty-six of an act approved the seventh day of June, one thousand nine hundred and seventeen, (P. L. 447), entitled "An act relating to the administration and distribution of the estates of decedents and of minors and of trust estates, including the appointment, bonds, rights, powers, duties, liabilities, accounts, discharge and removal of executors, administrators, guardians and trustees herein designated as fiduciaries, the administration and distribution of the estates of presumed decedents widow's and children's exemptions. debts of decedents, rents of real estates as assets for payment thereof, the lien thereof, sales and mortgages of real estate, for the payment thereof, judgments and executions therefor, and the discharge of real estate from the lien thereof, contracts of decedents, for the sale or purchase of real estate legacies, including legacies charged on land, the discharge of residuary estates. and of real estate from the lien of legacies and other charges, the appraisement of real estate devised at a valuation, the ascertainment of the curtilage of dwelling houses or other buildings devised, the abatement and survival of actions, and the substitution of executors and administrators therein and suits against fiduciaries, investments by fiduciaries, the organization of corporations to carry on the business of decedents, the audit and review of accounts of fiduciaries refunding bonds, transcripts to the court of common pleas of balances due by fiduciaries, the rights, powers and liabilities of non-resident and foreign fiduciaries, the appointment, bonds rights, powers, duties and liabilities of trustees durante absentia the recording and registration of decrees, reports and other proceedings, and the fees therefor, appeals in certain cases, and also generally dealing with the jurisdiction, powers and procedure of the orphans' court in all matters relating to fiduciaries concerned with the estates of decedents," so as to permit the orphans' court in its discretion to permit a bank or trust company authorized to act as executor, administrator, or trustee under the laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania appointed as trustee in the place of an executor or executors, trustee or trustees dying, renouncing, resigning, dismissed or refusing to act, to give its own bond without surety.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1541, (Senate Bill No. 985), entitled:

An Act to amend section three hundred and twenty-nine as amended and section five hundred and fifty-four of an act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws three hundred and nine) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any paprts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading-

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

MOTION TO POSTPONE BILL.

Mr. McCAIG. Mr. Speaker, I move that further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. LITTLE. Mr. Speaker I second the motion.

The motion was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. GOSS. Mr. Speaker, is there anyone present that can explain the provisions of the bill?

Mr. HORNE. Mr. Speaker, while I have read the bill reported out from the Committee on Education sometime ago, I am not familiar with all of the terms of the bill. I do know that it effects second, third and fourth class school districts, and for that reason it seems to me that it would be fair to postpone this bill.

I therefore move that further consideration of the bill be postponed.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. GOLDER. A motion to postpone was defeated and another motion to the same effect is out of order.

The SPEAKER. The Chair rules that the point of order is well taken until other business intervenes.

MOTION TO RECONSIDER VOTE.

Mr. HORNE. Mr. Speaker, I move that we reconsider the vote by which the motion was defeated.

The SPEAKER. The same point of order is sustained, no business has intervened.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

RESOLUTION

RECALLING BILL FROM GOVERNOR.

Mr. LITTLE asked and obtained unanimous consent to present a resolution which was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives June 7, 1923.

Resolved, (if the Senate concur) That House Bill No. 605, file folio 9579, entitled:

An Act to amend section one of Article two and section one of Article ten of the act approved the seventh day of March one thousand nine hundred and one (Pamphlet Laws twenty) entitled "An act for the government of cities of the second class" as amended by changing the name of the Department of Charities and correction to the Department of Public Welfare.

be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for its concurrence.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1493, (Senate Bill No. 786), entitled:

A Supplement to an act approved the twenty-first day of March one thousand nine hundred twenty-three entitled "An act for the prevention of fraud and the protection of the public health relating to milk cream or skimmed milk whether or not condensed evaporated concentrated dried powdered or dessicated prohibiting the introdcution of foreign fats into them regulating the sale of and defining condensed concentrated and evaporated milk stipulating penalties for the infraction thereof and providing for the enforcement thereof" defining condensed concentrated and evaporated skimmed milk and compounds thereof regulating the manufacture sale and exchange thereof and providing penalties.

MOTION TO RECONSIDER VOTE.

Mr. STAVITSKI. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 1541 (Senate Bill No. 985.) file folio 4443, entitled:

An Act to amend section three hundred and twenty-nine as amended and section five hundred and fifty-four of an act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws three hundred and nine) entitled "An Act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws generl special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith was defeated on final passage on June 7th be reconsidered.

Mr. GUERIN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. DAVID FOWLER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill was just defeated by a tremendous vote and I feel that we are only taking up the time of the House, and I therefore ask that this motion be defeated.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was not agreed to,

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1532, (Senate Bill No. 743), entitled:

An Act to further amend clause three of section one of an act approved the eighth day of May one thousand eight hundred and fifty-four (Pamphlet Laws six hundred and forty-four entitled "A further supplement to the act entitled 'An act concerning divorces'" as amended making the degree of cruelty as a ground for divorce the same for husband and wife

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to call the attention of the House to the fact that Senate Bill No. 743 is practically the same as Senate Bill No. 744 just passed this evening, and I see no reason for duplicating. Senate Bill No. 744 is on page 24 of the calendar.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the two bills are not the same. The bill now before the House is different from the other bill. The object of the present bill, No. 743, is to do away with the legal fiction of withdrawing from the household. The present divorce law requires, in the event that a married woman owns her own home and her husband lives there, cruelty is sufficient to justify her leaving. If she will go off into one room and stay away from her husband, the supreme courts and the courts have been endeavoring to get around the law by saying that the fiction of separating from one room to another is sufficient. Now, this is one of the equality bills that has been offered at this session by a certain association of women so as to do away with that fiction. The husband at the present time does not have to leave the wife to entitle himself to a divorce on the grounds of cruelty, but the wife has to separate, and when she owns the house, of course, it is hard for her to actually leave. That is to do away with that old time fiction that is no longer even regarded by the courts.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1490, (Senate Bill No. 482), entitled:

An Act providing for a referendum to ascertain the preferences of the voters of the Commonwealth relative to the adoption of daylight saving time for a portion of the year.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. McKIM. Mr. Speaker, I move that further action on this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1523, (Senate Bill No. 742), entitled:

An Act concerning the domicile of a married woman

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WHITEHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know if there is any person who can explain the purpose of this bill. I would like to know if this would affect the domicile in all matters.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, this bill only affects domiciles for election purposes only. The illustration that was given to me, which was the inspiration of the bill, was this: If a husband and wife were married and had lived together say ten or twelve years and the husband moved from the precinct in which he has been voting and goes to some other district to live and registers as a voter, if the wife remains in the old household, the law is that the husband's domicile is the wife's domicile and she, therefore, should register and vote at the new domicile provided by the husband. That cannot always be, because sometimes the husband takes up a domicile where the wife could not go, or would not go if she is a self-respecting woman, and the idea is to allow the wife who remains at the old domicile to register and vote there.

Mr. WHITEHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, the language that the domicile of a married woman for the purpose of voting or holding any public office shall be determined for all purposes, don't you think the language is contradictory. You start out by doing all you want to do by saying, "For all purposes."

Mr. SOWERS. The bill was drafted and then was amended. An amendment was put in so as to confine it to election purposes and also to public office. We have today the right of women to hold public offices. That right to hold public office is then determined by the domicile of the woman, but if the law required that the holder of the public office live in a certain district, and the husband and wife have lived there for years, and she holds a public office while living there, the mere fact that the husband moves to another district is not to disqualify her. She can still keep the old domicile and hold her office.

Mr. WHITEHOUSE. All I wanted to be sure of is the language of the bill which seems to be very contradictory. It starts out by saying it shall be determined for all purposes, but if it only means for election purposes I am satisfied.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

MOTION TO EXTEND TIME ON BILL.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 1158, fiile folio 7783, entitled

An Act to amend sections twenty-four as amended, section twenty-six as amended, twenty-nine as amended, section thirty, thirty-one, thirty-two, thirty-three as amended, and thirty-four and thirty-five of an act approved the thirtieth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and nineteen, (P. L. 678), entitled, "An Act relating to and regulating the use and operation of motor vehicles and vehicles propelled by, or trailing after, motor vehicles; requiring the registration of the same, and the licensing of all operators thereof; providing the fees therefor, and the disposition of such fees; prohibiting the unauthorized use of, and tampering with, motor vehicles; limiting and defining the powers of cities, boroughs, incorporated towns, townships, and counties, as to the regulation of the use and equipment of motor vehicles, and the taxing, registration, or licensing thereof; imposing certain duties on the State Highway Commissioner, and on proprietors of public garages; providing procedure and penalties for violations thereof, and the disposition of fines collected, and regulating the service of process and proceedings in actions for damages arising from the use of any motor vehicle," by providing for the hearing and disposition of certain violations thereof by traffic courts, in cities and in counties of the first second third and fourth classes creating traffic courts and providing for the appointment and compensation of the judges thereof.

on page 36 of today's calendar, be extended for a further period of five days.

Mr. HEFFERNAN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. HORNE. Mr. Speaker, in view of the motion just made, it seems to me to be very unfair, picking out certain bills to be postponed and letting certain others out. Unless the motion is made to postpone all of them for a further period, I should like very much to see this motion down.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was not agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal

Session 1923 125th of the General Assembly

Vol. 7. HARRISBURG, PA., MONDAY, JUNE 11, 1923. No. 68.

SENATE

MONDAY, JUNE 11, 1923.

The Senate met at 9 o'clock, P. M.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor David J. Davis) in the Chair.

The Chaplain, Rev. Edward S. Ninde, offered the following prayer:

Our Heavenly Father: As we come together tonight at the beginning of this last week of the legislative session, we ask Thy special blessing to rest upon us. We have needed Thee in the past, but the need is still greater now. How busy these days will be! At times the strain will be heavy and the Senators will become very weary. Grant them strength for body and mind and soul. Hold them steady, and may the fine dignity and the splendid self-poise which have marked the session thus far, continue to the end. Be present this evening and each day. For Jesus' sake. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED.

The PRESIDENT—A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. BUCKMAN, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE.

Mr. SONES asked and obtained leave of absence for the Senator from Luzerne, Mr. DeWitt for this evening's session, on account of illness.

BILLS INTRODUCED.

Mr. LANIUS read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1547, entitled:

An Act authorizing the depositors and stockholders and certain of them of the City Bank of York, Pa., a Corporation, organized under the Laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, to bring suit in the Court of Common Pleas of York county against the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Which was committed to the Committee on Judiciary General.

Mr. HOMSHER read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No 1548, entitled:

An Act to amend route number two hundred and seventy-four of section six of an act approved the thirty-first day of May, one thousand nine hundred and eleven, (P. L. 468) entitled "An act providing for the establishment of a State Highway Department, by the appointment of a State Highway Commissioner, two deputy State Highway Commissioners, chief engineer, chief draughtsman, superintendents of highways, and a staff of assistants and employes; defining their duties and the jurisidction of the State Highway Department, and fixing salaries of Commissioner and deputies and other appointees; providing for taking over from the counties or townships of the Commonwealth certain existing public roads connecting county-seats, principal cities, and towns and extending to the State line; describing and defining same by route numbers as the State highways of the Commonwealth; providing for the improvement, maintenance, and repair of said State highways solely at the expense of the Commonwealth, and relieving the several townships or counties from any further obligation and expense to improve or maintain the same, and relieving said townships or counties of authority over same; requiring boroughs and incorporated towns to maintain certain State highways wholly and in part; requiring the State Highway Commissioner to make maps to be complete records thereof; conferring authority on the State Highway Commissioner; providing for the payment of damages in taking of property, or otherwise, in the improvement; providing for purchase or acquiring of turnpikes or toll-roads, forming all or part of any State highways, and procedure therein; providing for work of improvement of State highways to be done by contract, except where the State Highway Commissioner decides the work be done by the State; providing aid by the State to counties and townships desiring the same in the improvement of township or county roads; defining highways and State-aid highways; providing method of application for State aid in the improvement, maintenance, and repair of township or county roads, and prescribing the contents of township, county, borough, or incorporated town petitions; providing for percentage of cost of improvement, or repairs to be paid by State, county, township, borough, or incorporated town, and requiring contracts by counties, townships, boroughs, and incorporated towns, with Commonwealth governing same; providing for the minimum width of State highways and State-aid highways, and kind of materials to be used in the improvement; providing for payment of cost of improvement and repairs; providing penalty for injuring or destroying State highways; making appropriations to carry out the provisions of the act, and providing for the repeal of certain acts relating to Highway Department and improvement of roads, and of all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith; and providing that existing contracts are not affected by provisions of this act," as amended.

Which was committed to the Committee on Public Roads and Highways.

RESOLUTION RECALLING FROM GOVERNOR SENATE BILL No. 1080.

Mr. SALUS offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and agreed to.

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur), That Senate Bill No. 1080, Printer's No. 412, File Folio 2977, entitled "An Act amending section two of ARTICLE XVI of an act approved the twenty-ninth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (Pamphlet Laws, five hundred and eighty-one) entitled "An act for the better government of cities of the first class of this Commonwealth," be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

RESOLUTION RECALLING FROM GOVERNOR HOUSE BILL NO. 1120.

Mr. McCLINTOCK offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and agreed to.

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur), That House Bill No. 1120, entitled "An act to amend section one of an act approved the seventeenth day of June, Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (Pamphlet Laws five hundred and seven), entitled 'An act to provide revenue for state and county purposes and in cities co-extensive with counties for city and county purposes imposing taxes upon certain classes of personal property, providing for the assessment and collection of the same, providing for the duties and compensation of prothonotaries and recorders in connection therewith and modifying existing legislation which provided for raising revenue for state purposes," be returned to the Senate from the House of Representatives for the purpose of amendment.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

RESOLUTION RECALLING FROM GOVERNOR SENATE BILL No. 150.

Mr. KRAUSE offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and agreed to.

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur), That Senate Bill No. 150 entitled "An Act making an appropriation to the State Hospital for Injured Persons of the Trevorton, Shamokin and Mount Carmel Coal Fields," be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO EXTENDING TIME OF FINAL ADJOURNMENT.

Mr. LANIUS offered the following resolution, which was twice read.

In the Senate, June 11, 1923.

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur), That the date of final adjournment of the General Assembly of one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three, as fixed for June 14, 1923, be extended to June 21, 1923, at twelve o'clock noon.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. LANIUS. Mr. President, I am not surprised that the Senate is not in favor of staying over another week. However, the Senate will bear in mind that I have presented a resolution, the intention of which appears merely upon the surface, and the motive for offering it has not yet been stated. The last week in April of this year the City Bank of York closed its doors. It is said that the shortage is approximately one million dollars, the money coming from depositors in every walk of life, some of it from men and women who have accumulated it through many years of labor. It is what they have been depending upon to help them in their old age. Today, Baird, the cashier of that bank, and William H. Boll, the assistant cashier of the bank, plead guilty in the Court of York County and both men were sentenced, Mr. Baird for not less than twenty years and Mr. Boll for not less than fifteen.

Mr. President, strange as it may seem their counsel when asked if he had anything to say as to whether these men should not be punished, said that they were willing to leave it up to the court. Tonight, at the request of the depositors of the City Bank of York, who have retained Mr. H. O. Ruby to represent them, I introduced in the Senate a bill asking for permission for the stockholders to sue the State of Pennsylvania in an attempt to recover the money lost in that bank. Mr. President, the reason for this is because some suit in Wisconsin has been decided in favor of the depositors, and because it is believed that the State of Pennsylvania is liable to suit under such conditions and that bill says that the amount of money shall be paid by reason of the failure on the part of the Pennsylvania Department of Banking to fulfil its duties as prescribed by law to this bank.

Mr. President, I know that it takes six readings to pass a bill in this legislature. I am not here to say to this legislature you must. I am not here to say that I demand you shall, but I am here to ask if you will do this, to extend the time to consider this tremendous question. I placed this bill in the hands of this body and I have every reason to believe that whatever action is taken on this resolution will be the result of mature reflection. I know that every community of the State will give to York County the same consideration as they would ask under similar conditions. I believe the stockholders and depositors are entitled to an opportunity to show cause why the State should not be sued. The passage of this bill does not mean that this legislature believes that the State is liable for this loss, but merely says we are willing to give you an opportunity to bring the suit and allow the courts of the State to decide whether you are right or wrong. Mr. President, That is my reason and my only reason for offering this resolution.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. SCHANTZ. Mr. President, I move that the resolution be referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. CRAIG. Mr. President, I direct the attention of the Senate to the fact that the Supreme Court of this State has decided that Acts of Assembly passed by as granting permission to sue the State are unconstitutional. While I greatly sympathize with the Senator from York and with the unfortunate depositors of the bank who have lost their money, he has absolutely nothing to gain by extending the time for adjournment for the passage of the bill that he has introduced. In a clear cut opinion exactly the same state of facts, the Supreme Court of this State some years ago decided that such Acts of Assembly were unconstitutional and we will have absolutely nothing to gain.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. LANIUS and Mr. BARR and were as follows, viz:

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO AWARDING SCHOLARSHIP BY COLLEGES AND UNIVERSITIES.

Mr. BARR offered the following resolution, which was twice read.

In the Senate, June 11, 1923.

Whereas, It is proper that worthy and deserving young men and women, graduates of secondary schools of the Commonwealth, should be afforded every opportunity to acquire higher education, and

Whereas, The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania biennially appropriates large sums of money to certain institutions of higher learning to assist in the maintenance of the same, and

Whereas, Some direct return should be made to the people, who through taxes paid into the Commonwealth, contribute a portion of the cost of maintenance of said institutions, therefore be it

Resolved, That each college, university, or other institution of learning, receiving appropriations from the Commonwealth, shall, for each appropriation period award to each Member of the Senate of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth, three scholarships in a complete course of study at said college, university or institution, and be it further

Resolved, That said scholarships shall be distributed or awarded by the said Members of the Senate, after competitive examinations or otherwise, as to each of them may seem proper.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires consent resolutions to be referred to an appropriate committee be suspended and that the Senate do now proceed to the immediate consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the Resolution?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Barr.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Barr, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I am not sure in hearing this resolution read, whether or not it requires a competitive examination, or whether it is optional.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, that is left to the discretion of the Senator himself.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair hears no objection.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

Ordered that the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON CONFERENCE ON SENATE BILL No. 163.

Mr. CRAIG. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the report of the Committee on Conference on Senate Bill No. 163, entitled:

During such time no execution or attachment shall issue against such corporation or person nor shall any pending execution or attachment be proceeded with except by special leave of the court

Section 37 Enforcement of Individual Liability of Stockholders Whenever the stockholders of a corporation whereof the Secretary shall have taken possession are liable in addition to their liability as such stockholders for unpaid subscription to an amount equal to the par value of their stockholdings in such corporation and the Secretary has determined from his examination of the affairs of the corporation that the reasonable value of its assets is not sufficient to pay its creditors in full he may enforce the individual liability of such stockholders to such extent as may be necessary

If he determines to enforce such liability he shall make demand in writing upon such stockholders by causing the same to be mailed by registered mail to the respective stockholders at their last known places of address as the same appear on the stock ledger of the corporation or at their last known addresses if no addresses appear in such ledger Such demand shall state the total amount assessed by the Secretary against the stockholders and the pro rata share assessed against the particular stockholder addressed and the total sum to be paid by such stockholder The demand shall also fix a date not less than thirty days after the date of such demand on which the stockholders shall be required to pay such assessment to the Secretary

If any stockholder shall fail or refuse to pay such assessment within such time the Secretary shall have a cause of action at law or in equity against such stockholder either severally or jointly with other stockholders for the amount of such assessment together with interest from the date when the same was due and payable In any such action the written statement of the Secretary under his hand and seal of office reciting his determination to enforce the individual inability or any part thereof of such stockholders and setting forth the value of the assets of the corporation and its liabilities as determined by him after examination and investigation shall be prima facie evidence of such facts as therein stated

Section 38 Inventory and Appraisement Statement of Liabilities When the Secretary has determined to liquidate the affairs of any such corporation or person he shall forthwith cause an inventory and appraisement of the assets of such corporation or person under oath or affirmation to be made in duplicate by two disinterested appraisers chosen by him and shall file such inventories and appraisements accompanied by a complete statement certified by him of the liabilities of such corporation or person so far as he has been able to ascertain the same one in his office and the other in the office of the prothonotary

Section 39 Procedure as to Property in Safe Deposit After taking possession as aforesaid the Secretary may give written notice to anyone claiming or appearing on the books of the corporation or person to be owner of any personal property left in the possession of such corporation or person as bailee or depository for hire or the lessee of any safe vault or box notifying such bailor or lessee to remove all such personal property within a period of not less than sixty days

At the expiration of such period if such property has not been removed the Secretary may proceed as the corporation or person might have proceeded as provided in the contract of bailment or lease or at his option may cause any such safe vault or box to be opened in his presence or the presence of his special deputy and of a notary public not an officer or employee of the corporation or person or of the Department and the contents if any of such safe vault or box shall be sealed and marked by such notary with the name and address of the bailor or lessee in whose name such safe vault or box stands upon the books of the corporation or person and a list of the property therein shall be attached thereto such package so sealed and addressed shall be removed by the Secretary to his office and there preserved until delivered to the owner or otherwise disposed of in accordance with law

After the service or mailing of the notice as aforesaid the contract of bailment or leasing if any shall cease and determine upon the date for removal fixed by said notice and the amount of unearned rent or charges if any paid by the bailor or lessee shall become a debt of the corporation or person all contracts of bailment or lease such as aforesaid made after the date of the approval of this act shall be subject to the provisions of this section

Section 40 Trust Funds

(a) Taking Possession by Secretary Whenever the Secretary takes possession of the business and property of a corporation or person in accordance with the provisions of this act he shall also take possession of all funds property and investments held by such corporation or person in any fiduciary capacity but shall keep the same separate and apart from the assets thereof

(b) Substituted Fiduciaries Upon determining to liquidate the affairs of such corporation or person the Secretary shall forthwith give written notice to all parties interested in any such funds property or investments held in a fiduciary capacity so far as such notice is practicable requiring them within thirty days to apply to the proper court or official for the appointment of substituted fiduciaries to take the place of such corporation or person On the failure or neglect of the parties so notified to make such application within the time designated or in case the parties in interest can not be notified the Secretary shall himself apply for such appointment of substituted fiduciaries

(c) Settlement without Accounting In any instance where there shall be no dispute as to the amount or identity of such funds property or investments and all parties in interest are sui juris and so request in writing the Secretary may without the filing of an account transfer pay over and deliver to such substituted fiduciary all funds property and investments of the particular trust taking from parties and such substituted fiduciary a receipt and release in full which shall discharge the Secretary and such corporation or person from any further liability in the premises

(c) Accounting In all other instances the Secretary shall with the least possible delay prepare and file in the courts having jurisdiction thereof the accounts of such corporation or person in such fiduciary capacities and shall transfer pay over and deliver the balances determined upon such accounts to be due in accordance with the orders and decrees of such courts

(f) Deficiences and Surcharges In any instance where it shall be ascertained by such court that there is a deficiency in any such trust funds property or investments for which such corporation or person is liable or that such corporation or person is liable to surcharge in respect thereof the amount thereof shall constitute an unpreferred claim against the general funds in the hands of the Secretary and the order or decree of such court shall be conclusive subject to appeal as to the amount of such claim Should the existence or amount of any deficiency or surcharge or the liability of the corporation or person thereof be undetermined at the time of any distribution of such general funds it shall be the duty of the court ordering such distribution to set apart and withhold from such distribution a sufficient amount to pay the proportionate dividend upon such undetermined claim until the same shall have been finally adjudicated

Section 41 Notice to Depositors and Creditors When the Secretary shall have determined to liquidate the affairs of such corporation or person he shall forthwith give written or printed notice to all depositors to produce to him their deposit or pass books for settlement stating in such notice the amount which the books of the corporation or person show to be due to each depositor subject to outstanding checks and notifying such depositors that unless a settlement of the deposit or pass books shall show a different amount to be due or unless a depositor shall within four months from the date of such notice make proof in the matter hereinafter set forth that the amount due him differs from the amount as shown by the books of the corporation or person the amount last mentioned will be conclusive as to the amount of the claim of such depositor subject as aforesaid to any outstanding checks

The Secretary shall at the same time give written or printed notice to all creditors other than depositors so far as known to him to make proof of their claims in the manner hereinafter set forth within four months from the date of such notice or be debarred from coming in upon the fund

He shall also advertise such notices to depositors and other creditors in a newspaper and in the legal newspaper if any designated by rules of court for publication of legal notices in said county once a week for four successive weeks

Section 42 Proof of Claims of Creditors No claim other than the claim of a depositor shall be allowed unless the claimant or someone for him if he cannot do so shall furnish to the Secretary a statement of his claim together with a copy of any book entries pertaining thereto or any note or writing evidencing the same verified by an affidavit in substantially the following form

"I (name of claimant) do solemnly swear (or affirm) that the above is a true statement of my claim against (name of corporation or person) that there are no credits or allowances against the same except as therein set forth that I have not directly or indirectly made or entered into any bargain arrangement or agreement express or implied to take or receive directly or indirectly any money property or consideration whatever to or for myself or to or for any other person firm or corporation whatever other than my dividend as a creditor and that there is no collateral security for said indebtedness or any part thereof held by me or anyone else other than as above set forth"

In case the claimant shall be a partnership or corporation such affidavit shall be made by a member of the partnership or by the treasurer or assistant treasurer of the corporation claimant and the form thereof shall be modified accordingly

The provisions of this section shall not apply to the claims of cestius que trust or others to or against trust funds or property in the custody possession or control of a corporation or person possession of whose business and property is taken by the Secretary under the provisions of this act

Section 43 Proof of Claims of Depositors When proofs of claims by depositors are necessary under the provisions of section forty-one of this act the same shall be in such form as the Secretary shall prescribe and shall on request of any such depositor be prepared by the special deputy in charge of the affairs of the corporation or person in question and the affidavits thereto shall be taken by him without charge

Section 44 Allowance of Claims If such claim and affidavit when required are in proper form and if the amount claimed by a depositor or other creditor agrees with the amount shown by the books of the corporation or person or if upon consultation with the claimant and such corporation or person the amount is ascertained to the satisfaction of the Secretary the claim shall be allowed if presented within the time limited by the notice as aforesaid unless objected to in the manner hereinafter provided

Section 45 Partial or Final Account Objections At the expiration of the time fixed by the notice and advertisement for the presentation of claims prescribed in section forty-one of this act the Secretary may file a partial or final account consisting of a statement of receipts and expenditures together with a list of the claims which have been allowed and separately a list of the claims which have been objected to or are disputed showing as to all claimants the names addresses and amounts

If no account is filed within a year from the time when the Secretary takes possession any party interested may petition the court for an order on the Secretary requiring the filing of an account

Any account filed by the Secretary shall be duly verified by him under oath or affirmation Upon the filing thereof he shall give written or printed notice to all the depositors and other creditors known to him of such filing and that unless objections shall be filed within thirty days from the date thereof the same will be confirmed absolutely He shall also at the same time advertise such notice in two newspapers once a week for four successive weeks

During such period of thirty days any depositor other creditor stockholder or anyone having any interest may file in the court objections in writing to said account or to the allowance of any said claims a copy of which objections shall forthwith be served upon the claimant whose claim is objected to or his counsel and upon the Secretary or his counsel or the special deputy appointed by him in such proceeding

Section 46 Distribution If at the expiration of said period of thirty days from the filing of the account no objections shall have been filed thereto the same shall be confirmed absolutely and the Secretary shall prepare and file a schedule of distribution in accordance with the priorities fixed by law Said schedule shall be subject to the approval of the court and in accordance therewith when so approved a partial or final dividend as the case may be shall be declared and paid by the Secretary In case there shall be any disputed claim or any claim to which objections shall have been duly filed the dividend shall be calculated as if all claims were valid and approved and after deducting and setting apart such portion of the dividend as represents claims which are disputed or objected to the balance shall be distributed among the other claims If all or any of the claims disputed or objected to shall thereafter be determined to be valid they shall then receive their portions of such dividend If all or any of such claims shall be determined to be invalid the portions of such dividend set apart to them shall be distributed to the valid claims

Section 47 Conclusiveness of Confirmation and Distribution The confirmation of a partial account and distribution thereunder as aforesaid shall be conclusive only as to the fund distributed and shall not prevent the proof and allowance out of the fund involved in any subsequent account of claims not presented in time for allowance out of such previous fund

Section 48 Hearing and Decision of Matters in Controversy If there shall be claims disputed or objected to or if there shall be objections to the account the court shall itself without delay hear and decide the matters in controversy The court shall fix a time and place for the hearing of which three weeks' written notice shall be given to the Secretary and to the corporation or person and to all depositors and other creditors whose claims have been filed as aforesaid Said notice shall also set forth that all parties whose claims are disputed or objected to must appear at said time and place and prove their claims or be debarred from coming in upon the fund for distribution

Section 49 Expenses to be Paid out of the Fund All assessment charges and penalties due to the Department by such corporation or person all expenses of the taking and maintaining possession of the business and property or the continuing of the business by the Secretary and all expenses of liquidation under the provisions of this act shall first be payable out of the funds of such corporation or person including the compensation of special deputies assistants and others employed by the Secretary to assist him in such proceedings the allowance of all such expenses to be subject to the approval of the court

Section 50 Distribution of Balance Liquidating Trustees If after the filing and confirmation of the final account of the Secretary and the payment of all creditors in full and the return to stockholders who have paid to the Secretary the amount demanded pursuant to section thirty-seven of this act of their pro rata shares of any such amounts not necessary to pay creditors in full there shall remain a balance in the hands of the Secretary he shall call a meeting of the stockholders by serving written or printed notice upon them at least thirty days before the day fixed for the meeting

At such meeting the stockholders shall elect by ballot a trustee or trustees for the purpose of completing the liquidation A majority of the stock present in person or by proxy shall be necessary to elect Should the stockholders fail or refuse to elect the Secretary or any stockholder may petition the court for the appointment of such trustee or trustees who when appointed shall give bond to the Commonwealth in such amount with such surety and on such conditions as the court may direct

When such trustee or trustees have been duly elected or appointed as aforesaid the Secretary shall then transfer convey and deliver to such trustee or trustees all the assets of the corporation then remaining in his hands He shall thereupon be discharged from all further liability to such corporation and its creditors and shall file a certified copy of the proceedings of said stockholders' meeting in his office and cause a certified copy thereof to be filed in the office of the prothonotary No powers subject to the provision of the Department shall thereafter be exercised by such corporation except by permission of the Secretary and after compliance by such corporation with all the requirements of law as to a new corporation desiring to exercise such powers

Section 51 Constitutionality of Act If any section clause sentence paragraph or other part of this act shall for any reason be adjudged by any court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid such judgment shall not affect impair or invalidate the remainder of this act or any part thereof but shall be confined in its operation to the part thereof directly involved in the controversy in which such judgment shall be rendered it being hereby declared that the legislature would have enacted the remainder of this act without such part adjudged to be invalid

Any section clause or other part of this act so declared to be invalid shall not be considered as having been stricken out from any other portion or portions of this act wherein cross-references thereto are made but shall be taken and construed as having been actually written in full into such other portion or portions from which cross-references are made

Section 52 Repealer Sections one to fifty-two inclusive of The Banking Act of one thousand nine hundred and nineteen approved May twenty-first one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (Pamphlet Laws two hundred and nine) are hereby repealed it being expressly declared that section fifty-three of said act being the repealing section thereof shall remain in full force and effect

All other acts of assembly or parts thereof that are in any way in conflict or inconsistent with this act or any part thereof are hereby repealed

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the same?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Chairman of the Committee, Mr. Craig.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Beaver, Mr. Craig, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CRAIG. Mr. President, with pleasure.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Beaver, Mr. Craig, whether the bill as returned by the Committee of Conference is in its original form, as is came from the House?

Mr. CRAIG. Mr. President, the bill was not returned by the Conference Committee in its original form, but the Conference Committee reported the amended bill, as amended by the House.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator whether it leaves in the bill the necessity of advertising in the Legal Journals of the state?

Mr. CRAIG. Mr. President, it does. It provides, as I understand, that where the Banking Department takes over an insolvent institution, and the publication of any notices is required in the proceedings to be had, that the counties in which a legal journal is published, they are to be published in that legal journal.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I direct the Senate's attention to the fact that there has not been a bill in the Session of 1919, 1921 or 1923 to which legal contributions could attach themselves like the barnailes to a ship, that escaped their attention. They have even gone so far, I found upon investigation, of requiring municipalities to advertise their bonds for sale in their journals at very large rates, and I believe it is bad, bad practice to put that extra expense on the people. Mr. President, it is going to compel me to vote against the report of the Conference Committee.

Mr. CRAIG. Mr. President, I think in view of the remarks of my friend, the Senator from Allegheny, that I ought to say to you, gentlemen of the Senate, that I hope you will adopt the report of the Committee of Conference. I practise law. In my county we have at least ten or twelve little newspapers. The publication of notices required to be made by law in any of these papers is in compliance with the terms of the statutes. If a lawyer wishes to do so, he may make his publication in a newspaper that he is quite sure will not come to the attention of the party to whom the law intends that notice shall be brought. For example, if a party to be affected by notice lives in the extreme northern end of my county, if I were to do so, I may go to the opposite end of the county and publish my notice in a newspaper that has a very small circulation, with reasonable assurance that the parties to be affected by notice will never see it, and lawyers who do not stick as closely to the ethics of their profession as they ought to do frequently resort to that practice. It is necessary, in the practice of my profession in my county, for me to subscribe to every newspaper published in my county and my office force carefully inspects ever issue of those papers in order to make certain that no legal action is being taken that affects the interests of my clients. Now this is not of importance to me only as a lawyer, but to every client whom I represent and to every party interested in the litigation in hand. Now this bill simply requires,—and I say to you that it is a good thing not only for the legal profession but it is a good thing for every party interested, it simply required that when the Banking Commissioner takes over a defunct or insolvent institution and is required by law to publish notice of some action being taken by the Department, that if there be a legal journal published in the county in which such notice is required to be given that it be printed in that as well. Now I know that that makes money for the publishers of the legal journal but it also affords protection to the public, because in such cases practically everyone interested is represented by counsel and it is possible for the attorneys who represent these people to consult the pages of his legal journal and at all times be sure that the interests of his client are protected. It would be of especial interest in Senator Lanius's county just at the present time that the depositors in that bank might protect their interest without fear of publication in some newspaper that might never reach them. That is the purpose of the amendment. Your committee looked upon it as justified and I hope you will adopt the conference committee's report.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Beaver, Mr. Craig.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Beaver, Mr. Craig permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. Craig. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, do I undertsand the Senator to say that this affects Beaver county, Lawrence county and so on.

Mr. CRAIG. Mr. President, no, the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Barr, does not so understand. I say it would affect every county in which a legal journal is published. There is no legal journal published in Beaver County or Lawrence county; therefore the requirements of the act that publication be made in the legal journal would not affect those counties.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, that is the point that I make. The proposition as the Senator from Beaver puts it will not in any wise help in the passage of this bill. The bill as amended refers only to first and second class counties, that is, Philadelphia and Allegheny, and I again state to the Senate that no bill has gone through that the legal journal has not attached itself to the bill like a barnacle to a ship.

Mr. CRAIG. Mr. President, I have been given to understand very frequently lately in the Senate and in Committees thereof that there are not any two counties in the State in which it is so highly important that the utmost publicity of every kind should be given to proceedings in their courts and I heard it especially dwelt upon with reference to a bill pending that affected the county of Allegheny just last week, that justice is so often denied in that county that it becomes highly important that the utmost publicity be given.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate concur in the report?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 1073, as follows:

An Act to amend section three hundred and one and sections three hundred and six and three hundred and seven as amended of an act approved the second day of June one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred and thirty-six) entitled "An act defining the liability of an employer to pay damages for injuries received by an employe in the course of employment establishing an elective schedule of compensation and providing procedure for the determination of liability and compensation thereunder"

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonewalth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section three hundred and one of an act approved the second day of June one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred and thirty-six) entitled "An act defining the liability of an employer to pay damages for injuries received by an employe in the course of employment establishing an elective schedule of compensation and providing procedure for the determination of libility and compensation thereunder" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 301 When employer and employe shall by agreement either express or implied as hereinafter provided accept the provisions of article three of this act compensation for personal injury to or for the death of such employe by accident in the course of his employment shall be made in all cases by the employer without regard to negligence according to the schedule contained in sections three hundred and seven of this article provided that no compensation shall be made when the injury or death be intentionally self-inflicted but the burden of proof of such fact shall be upon the employer

The terms "injury" and "personal injury" as used in this act shall be construed to mean only violence to the physical structure of the body and such disease or infection as naturally results therefrom and wherever death is mentioned as a cause for compensation under this act it shall mean only death resulting from such violence and its resultant from such violence and its resultant effects and occurring within three hundred weeks after the accident the term "injury by an accident the course of his employment" as used in this article shall not include an injury caused by an act of a third person intended to injure the employe because of reasons personal to him and not direct against him as an employe or because of his employment but shall include all other injuries sustained while the employe is actually engaged in the furtherance of the business or affairs of the employer whether upon the employer's premises or elsewhere and shall include all injuries caused by the condition of the premises or by the operation of the employer's business or affairs thereon sustained by the employe who though not so engaged is injured upon the premises occupied by or under the control of the employers or upon which the employer's business or affairs are being carried on the employe's presence thereon being required by the nature of his employment

Working in violation of any of the laws of this Commonwealth shall not defeat the right of an employe to compensation under the provisions of this act

Section 2 That section three hundred and six of said act which was amended by the act approved the twenty-sixth day of June one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (Pamphlet Laws six hundred and forty-two) entitled "An act to amend an act approved the second day of June Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred and thirty-six) entitled 'An act defining the liability of an employer to pay damages for injuries received by an employe in the course of employment establishing an elective schedule of compensation and providing procedure for the determination of liability and compensation thereunder' and providing when the same shall become effective" and the act approved the twentieth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one (Pamphlet Laws nine hundred and sixty-six) entitled "An act to amend clause (c) section three hundred and six of an act approved the second day of June one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred and thirty-six) entitled 'An act defining the liability of an employer to pay damages for injuries received by an employe in the course of employment establishing an elective schedule of compensation and providing procedure fro the determination of liability and compensation thereunder'" and the act approved the twenty-eighth day of March one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three entitled "An act to amend clause (c) of section three hundred and six of an act approved the second day of June one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred and thirty-six) entitled 'An act defining the liability of an employer to pay damages for injuries received by an employe in the course of employment establishing an elective schedule of compensation and providing procedure for the determination of liability and compensation thereunder' as amended" is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 306 The following schedule of compensation is hereby established for injuries resulting in total disability

(a) For the first five hundred weeks after the seventh day of total disability sixty per centum of the wages of the injured employe as defined in section three hundred and nine but the compensation shall not be more than fifteen dollars per week or less than seven dollars per week Provided That if at the time of injury the employe receives wages of less than seven dollars per week then he shall receive the full amount of such wages per week as compensation Nothing in this clause shall require the payment of compensation after disability shall cease Should partial disability be followed by total disability the period of five hundred weeks mentioned in this clause of this section shall be reduced by the number of weeks during which compensation was paid for partial disability

(b) For disability partial in character (except the particular cases mentioned in clause (c) sixty per centum of the difference between the wages of the injured employe as defined in section three hundred and nine and the earning power of the employe therafter but such compensation shall not be more than fifteen dollars per week This compensation shall be paid during the period of such partial disability not however beyond three hundred weeks after the seventh day of such partial disability Should total disability be followed by partial disability the period of three hundred weeks mentioned in this clause shall be reduced by the number of weeks during which compensation was paid for such total disability

(c) For all disability resulting from permanent injuries of the following classes the compensation shall be exclusively as follows

A majority of all the Senators having voted “aye the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading of Senate Bill No. 504, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Sesqui-Centennial Exhibition Association in the city of Philadelphia State of Pennsylvania

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I desire to call the attention of the Senate to the fact that this bill makes an appropriation of five million dollars to the Sesqui Centennial Exhibition Association for the purpose of having a fair in the city of Philadelphia in 1926. If I understand the situation correctly this fair is not desired by the general population of the City of Philadelphia nor of the State of Pennsylvania. If I were to name five groups of people in the city of Philadelphia I would have named practically all the people who desire this fair to be held and those groups would include real estate men, the newspaper men, the merchants the transportation companies and the hotels.

Mr. President, the condition of our State Treasury is not such that I would put any more burden upon the State of Pennsylvania at this time by appropriating a sum of five million dollars for a purpose of this kind, when in my judgment there is no such substantial demand for this appropriation. I feel that it would be a grave mistake for this Senate to go along with this proposition at this time. I therefore hope that this appropriation bill will not pass.

Mr. EYRE. Mr. President, two years ago the Senate of Pennsylvania and the legislature of Pennsylvania, I think, with practical unanimity passed resolutions in favor of the Sesqui-Centennial to be held in Philadelphia in 1926. They further passed a joint resolution authorizing the Governor of the State to appoint a Commission to cooperate with the commission of the City of Philadelphia for the purpose of helping to raise money in other legislative bodies of this country for that purpose and, it seems to me, that we owe a moral obligation, having once fastened ourselves to the proposition, to give the money that is asked for here. I do not know how the city of Philadelphia stands, for or against the holding of the Sesqui-Centennial but this Sesqui-Centennial has had world wide advertisement, and, it seems to me not to be fitting for the great state of Pennsylvania, that has never been known to take a backward step in any of these great celebrations, at this time to decline to give that which they morally promised to this Sesqui-Centennial two years ago. I sincerely hope that this Senate will pass this bill and it is up to the management of the Sesqui-Centennial to make good. If you defeat this bill you might just as well put over the headquarters of the Sesqui-Centennial Commission of Philadelphia, the word “closed”, because if the State of Pennsylvania is not going to give their moral and financial support to the proposition there is very little show of the Sesqui-Centennial being held and I for one would want to be held responsible, after this has gone as far as it has in this Nation and in all foreign nations, as being heralded as a Pennsylvania and Philadelphia proposition. My State pride is sufficient to induce me to believe that it is a small sum of money for this great State to contribute toward a proposition of this kind that will bring people within our borders from all quarters of the earth, and I sincerely trust that this Senate will stand true to the colors that she heralded two years ago in favor of this proposition.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President and members of the Senate. I represent a party of the City of Philadelphia. Philadelphia is no longer a boom town. We need no excitement to grow, we are growing faster than we can take care of our population. We are not in favor of the Sesqui-Centennial. Our people do not want it. The State of Pennsylvania cannot afford to give five million dollars, and I for one do not propose to vote for it. I do not propose to sit in my seat in this Senate and place taxes on the owners of automobiles and other things that are more of a necessity than this Centennial is, and then pass a bill taking five million dollars out of the State Treasury. The Senator from Chester says if we do not pass this five million dollars the Sesqui-Centennial Society might as well put the word “Closed” over their doors. I think the citizens of Philadelphia would be very thankful to the State of Pennsylvania if they happen to put the word “Closed” over those doors.

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO APPOINTMENT OF COMMISSION TO INVESTIGATE EXPENDITURE OF FUNDS IN STATE TREASURY.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. BARR offered the following resolution, which was twice read.

In the Senate, June 11, 1923.

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur), That there is hereby constituted a Commission to be known as the Commission to Investigate the Disbursements of the Commonwealth. This Commission shall be composed of two members of the Senate, to be appointed by the President pro tempore of the Senate, three members of the House of Representatives, to be appointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives. Any vacancy occurring in the membership shall be filled by the aforesaid appointing power. The Commission shall immediately, after the appointment of its members, organize by the election of a Chairman.

Resolved, That it shall be the duty of the Commission to study and investigate the expenditures and methods of expnditure of the funds in the State Treasury, to report their findings to the next General Assembly, and to recommend in such report such changes in the existing law as the Commission may seem desirable to produce the greatest economy, efficiency and integrity in the expenditure of the revenues of the Commonwealth.

Resolved, That the members of the Commission shall receive no compensation for their services, but shall be reimbursed for all expenses necessarily incurred in the performance of their duties. The Commission is authorized to issue subpoenas for any person, books or papers, and to administer oaths, and may appoint a stenographer or secretary at such reasonable compensation as it may determine.

Resolved, That to carry out the purposes of this resolution an item not to exceed ten thousand dollars, shall be inserted in the General Appropriation Bill, to pay the expenses of the Commission.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Barr, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President and gentlemen of the Senate, I received a letter from the Governor of the State of Pennsylvania in which he says:

GOVERNOR OFFICE.

Harrisburg, Penna. June 2, 1923.

Hon. Cadwallader M. Barr, Senate of Pennsylvania, Harrisburg, Penna.

My dear Senator Barr: During the course of my campaign for both nomination and election as Governor of Pennsylvania, I repeatedly declared that there was crying need in this State for "cleaning up the mess". This statement meant, as I then explained, that known conditions demanded an unsparing investigation of direct misuse of public funds and the correction of a situation which made for indirect misuse of the taxpayers' money through overloaded payrolls, duplication of effort, and other familiar forms of extravagance.

There is no necessity at this time to go into these matters in detail. I am satisfied that the adoption by the Legislature of the Administrative Code and the Budget System which coordinates with it will place government in this State on a basis which will do away with the second form of misapplication of public funds against which I campaigned.

The first form of misuse of public moneys had concrete expression in the Kephart case. As you know, this unsavory mess found its way into the Courts in the midst of the campaign and, as I then stated, was thus automatically removed from political discussion.

For the same reason I have refrained from addressing the Legislature on the subject until after the Courts have finish with the case. My desire to bring about a legislative investigation of the conditions which permitted such a situation to develop, and to pursue such inquiry in all proper direction has, of course, not changed.

The primary object of such an investigation would be to make such recommendations to the next Legislature as will prevent a recurrence of this sort of scandal. I, therefore, ask you to present the accompanying resolution, or its equivalent, to the Senate and urge its adoption. In my judgment the Republican Party owes it to itself to insure this investigation so that its own house may be cleansed. The committee authorized to be appointed by the resolution will, I am sure, be able to do its work in a more effective manner because its operations will not be confused by, nor will they confuse, the deliberations of the Legislature, which will shortly adjourn.

Sincerely yours,
Gifford Pinchot.

Mr. President and gentlemen of the Senate, on April 11, 1922, prior to the nomination of Gifford Pinchot as the Republican Party choice for Governor of the State of Pennsylvania, he made the following declaration in Philadelphia:

"But there is also a widespread belief that the public money has been spent wastefully and wrongfully to advance the interests of political bosses and machines rather than to do the work and serve the interests of the people of Pennsylvania. In my opinion that belief is justified.

The Governor of Pennsylvania is not the Legislature and cannot give orders to the representatives of the people, but he can point out and recommend. If I am elected Governor I will use every influence at my command to secure a complete and searching Legislative investigation of the way the State's money has been spent, shielding no one and persecuting no one, and to have the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth laid clearly before the people.

If we have been letting a few men use the Government of Pennsylvania for their own selfish purposes we ought to know it, and know their names and just what they have been doing and who let them do it. If we have not we ought to know that, and stop believing that we have.

Such an investigation ought to have power to send for any person or paper and to hear testimony under oath. If it finds the trail of wrong doing it must follow it fearlessly, impartially, and doggedly to the very end, no matter where it leads, and tell the story as it is, no matter who is helped or hurt.

"As Governor I will give such an investigation all the backing and assistance that lies within my power. While we are at it we might as well turn on the light and clean up the whole mess." Therefore, gentlemen, on the strength of the declaration made before the people as a candidate for Governor by a man who was elected Governor of the State of Pennsylvania by a majority of two hundred and fifty thousand, I ask that the Governor now be sustained in his request that a legislative investigating committee be appointed, two by the Senate to be appointed by the President Pro Tempore and three from the House of Representatives, to be appointed by the Speaker of the House. Mr. President and gentlemen of the Senate the resolution is before you, and I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires concurrent resolutions to be referred to an appropriate committee be suspended, and that the Senate proceed to the immediate consideration of the resolution and trust it will be passed and be sent to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. President, I move that this resolution be referred to the committee on Banks and Building and Loan Associations for further consideration.

Mr. STINEMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I ordinarily would not object to referring this resolution to committee, but the Assembly is very busy, it is going to work very hard between now and Thursday. It is a reasonable request that the Governor has asked and I would ask that this motion be voted down on the part of the friends of the Governor who wish to carry out the pledges that he has made to the people.

Mr. CRAIG. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Beaver, Mr. Craig, will state his point of order.

Mr. CRAIG. Mr. President, my point of order is that the request of the Senator from Allegheny is out of order. Rule 39 requires such resolutions to be referred to an appropriate committee upon being read.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair decides the point of order well taken.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 733, (House Bill No. 999), as follows:

An Act providing for the refunding of retail liquor license fees and additional taxes to holders of licenses to sell vinous spiritous malt or brewed liquors or any admixture thereof or intoxicating liquor where the Act of Assembly under the authority of which such licenses were granted has been repealed by the General Assembly of one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three prior to the expiration of the license year for which such licenses were issued providing for the payment of such refund in certain cases by the county in which such license was granted and the repayment to such county by the city borough township and State of their respective shares of such refund and for the payment of such refund in certain cases by the State alone providing the procedure in such cases and making an appropriation

Whereas the Legislature of 1923 has repealed certain Acts of Assembly which provided for the granting of licenses to sell intoxicating liquor and vinous spiritous malt or brewed liquors or any admixture thereof and which provided for the payment of certain license fees and additional taxes annually in advance of the issuance of said license

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the holder of any retail license granted under and by virtue of any of said repealed acts who has paid to the proper authorities all such licenses and additional taxes in full for and in advance of the then current license year as fixed by the rules of the Court from which said license issued and which current year had not expired at the date of the repeal of the act under authority of which his said license was granted shall be reimbursed for a proportionate amount of the license fee and additional tax paid or the privilege of engaging in such business during said year

Section 2 Any such retail licensee whose license has been so affected may file his her or its petition in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the proper county setting forth the facts and specifying the time remaining during said license year and for which the full license fee and additional tax has been paid after the repeal of the act under which said retail license was granted which petition shall be verified by affidavit Reasonable notice of the presentation of such petition shall be given by mail to the State Treasurer and personally to the County Treasurer and to the treasurer of all municipalities to be affected by said order After a full investigation of the matter if the Court finds that such retail licensee had paid his license fee and additional tax in full for the whole license year and that there was an unexpired portion of said license year at the time of the repeal of the act under authority of which said retail license was granted it shall make an order upon the proper county treasurer directing him to pay from the county treasury as a refund of the said license fee and additional tax therefore paid an amount sufficient to reimburse such licensee for the period of such license year remaining after the repeal of said act and shall also in such order determine the proportion of such refund which has been paid into the treasuries of the several municipalities and the proportion of such amount which has been paid into the treasury of the Commonwealth and shall make an order upon the respective municipalities and upon the State Treasurer to return to the County treasury such amount Provided that the proportionate amount of the collection fees allowed by law thereon to the respective treasurers and all costs and expenses paid out of such retail license fee shall be first deducted

Section 3 The respective townships boroughs cities counties and the State Treasurer shall within sixty days of the receipt of notice of the final order of said Court in the premises make payment as therein directed and for the purpose of refunding from the State Treasury the amounts necessary to reimburse the county treasuries hereunder the sum of fifty thousand dollars or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated Payments from said appropriation shall be made by warrant of the Auditor General on the State Treasurer

An Act to repeal the act approved the eleventh day of July one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (Pamphlet Laws eight hundred and eighteen) entitled "An act relating to dogs and the protection of livestock and poultry from damage by dogs providing for the licensing of dogs regulating the keeping of dogs and authorizing their destruction in certain cases providing for the protection of licensed dogs and for dogs temporarily imported for trial show and breeding purposes prescribing certain privileges for hunting dogs and dogs owned or used by the Board of Game Commissioners providing for the assessment of damages done by dogs and payment thereof by the proper county to the owners of livestock and poultry and of damages to licensed dogs imposing powers and duties on certain State county city borough town and township officers and employes and on city councils of cities of the first and second class and providing penalties" and section thirty-nine of the act approved the eleventh day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one (Pamphlet Laws five hundred and twenty-two) entitled "An act relating to dogs and the protection of live stock and poultry from damage by dogs providing for the licensing of dogs by the Secretary of Agriculture providing for the enumeration of dogs by assessors regulating the keeping of dogs and authorizing their destruction in certain cases providing for the protection of licensed dogs and for dogs temporarily imported for trial show and breeding purposes prescribing certain privileges for hunting dogs and dogs owned or used by the Board of Game Commissioners providing for the assessment of damages done to live stock and poultry by dogs and for the illegal killing of licensed dogs and the payment of such damages by the Commonwealth imposing powers and duties on certain State county city borough town and township officers and employes directing the payment of all moneys collected into the State Treasury and making an appropriation thereof

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the act approved the eleventh day of July one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (Pamphlet Laws eight hundred and eighteen) entitled "An act relating to dogs and the protection of live stock and poultry from damage by dogs providing for the licensing of dogs regulating the keeping of dogs and authorizing their destruction in certain cases providing for the protection of licensed dogs and for dogs temporarily imported for trial show and breeding purposes prescribing certain privileges for hunting dogs and dogs owned or used by the Board of Game Commissioners providing for the assessment of damages done by dogs and payment thereof by the proper county to the owners of livestock and poultry and of damages to licensed dogs imposing powers and duties on certain State county city borough town and township officers and employes and on city councils of cities of the first and second class and providing penalties" and section thirty-nine of the act approved the eleventh day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one (Pamphlet Laws five hundred and twenty-two) entitled "An act relating to dogs and the protection of live stock and poultry from damage by dogs providing for the licensing of dogs by the Secretary of Agriculture providing for the enumeration of dogs by assessors regulating the keeping of dogs and authorizing their destruction in certain cases providing for the protection of licensed dogs and for dogs temporarily imported for trial show and breeding purposes prescribing certain privileges for hunting dogs and dogs owned or used by the Board of Game Commissioners providing for the assessment of damages done to live stock and poultry by dogs and for illegal killing of licensed dogs and the payment of such damages by the Commonwealth imposing powers and duties on certain State county city borough town and township officers and employes directing the payment of all moneys collected into the State Treasury and making an appropriation thereof and providing penalties" are hereby repealed

The repeal of such act shall not revive any acts or parts of acts repealed by it This act shall take effect January fifteenth one thousand nine hundred and twenty-four

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. STITES. Mr. President, this bill now before the Senate is a bill repealing two previous acts of Assembly relating to cities of the first and second classes insofar as the funds derived from dog license are concerned. In the city of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh and I think, perhaps in one other county, funds derived from dog licenses are turned over to the humane societies, and these humane societies take care of the protection of animals and dogs in those cities. The very best type of citizens in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh are highly interested in those societies. It is now proposed to turn over those funds to the Department of Agriculture for some purpose which may be deemed wise. I have no quarrel at all with the Department of Agriculture, on the contrary I think that the Agricultural interests of the State are being splendidly looked after by that Department, but it seems to me that they are not so pinched for funds in the State of Pennsylvania that we should take away from those humane societies of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh the funds received from dog licenses which are now used in the amelioration of suffering on the part of animals. It is a fine constructive piece of work. For that reason I am opposed to this bill and I hope the Senate will vote it down.

Mr. SISSON. Mr. President, The Acts of Assembly involved in this bill are the Act of 1917 and the Act of 1921. The Act of 1921 provided for the licensing of dogs and for the paying of the license money to the county treasurer and had some other provision with regard to the treatment of dogs and the care and maintenance of them. The Act of 1921 repealed the Act of 1917, all but the thirty-ninth section, which left the counties of Allegheny and Philadelphia the dog tax to be paid to the Treasury as before for those two counties, but in all the other counties of the State the dog license money was paid to the Department of Agriculture, so that under the provisions of the two acts that are repealed by this Act and that is the Act of 1917 repealed by this Act, repealed the Act of 1921, the dog license money all went over to the Department of Agriculture, and, therefore, the dog license tax in Philadelphia and Allegheny counties, if this bill goes through, will go to the Department of Agriculture of the state, the same as the dog license tax in all other counties of the state. Now it is true that the County of Philadelphia has been giving some of the money to humane societies, but not by any means all of it, and what they do not give, of course, remains in their treasury, and the same with Allegheny County. We ought to have some system of uniformity. There is no reason why it should not be handled alike in all the counties of the State and that is the only way to bring it about. Perhaps something ought to be done to aid these splendid societies in taking care of the dogs in Philadelphia County.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, will the gentleman yield to a question?

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Erie, Mr. Sisson, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SISSON. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, has the committee any complaint from the societies of Philadelphia, or from its citizens, as to the management in the past?

Mr. SISSON. Mr. President, no, sir.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, they concede that it has been well managed and well cared for.

Mr. SISSON. Mr. President, as near as we can find out, about five or eight thousand dollars have paid these humane societies and the county has been getting from forty to fifty thousand.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. President, this is another one of those centralization power bills, taking away from all the cities of the first and second classes revenue which belongs to these cities. I have the honor to represent a second class city, the class mentioned by my friend from Montgomery. Therefore I ask the Senate to vote down this bill, because it takes away from the cities of the first and second classes revenue which belongs to them and centralizes power in this Commonwealth.

Mr. LONG. Mr. President, this bill simply seeks to make the law uniform throughout the State of Pennsylvania. If the dog licenses are a good thing for the treasuries of the Cities of Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and Scranton, it ought to be a good thing for the treasuries of all the other counties of the state. Now the other counties of the State are turning over this money to the Department of Agriculture and we feel that inasmuch as the other 63 counties or 64 counties are turning this money into the Department of Agriculture for the purpose of paying for the care of cattle and thus insuring that the people of the cities get a pure milk supply, we feel that this bill ought to pass because it simply makes the law uniform throughout the state, that is all. This is not taking anything from anybody that has not been taken from anybody else.

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, the Humane Society in the City of Pittsburgh, and I may add also of Philadelphia, three-fourths of the money with which they are maintained is contributed by their own people. In Pittsburgh and Philadelphia there is a system under the law by which the dog catchers with their wagons and their nets clean our streets. The Humane Society goes there with their officers and take the dogs that they believe are fit and should live on farms and that is the only way to help to maintain that farm. That farm also includes maimed and crippled horses, all going together on the proposition of doing something for the dumb animal. This money is only one drop in the bucket to help maintain it and while it is a fact that the two cities cost ten times more than those in the balance of the state it is an incentive to maintain the life of these organizations and compared to the great wealth of this State it is insignificant. By maintaining these organizations you are doing a humane act. And to strike them down after twenty-eight, thirty and some of them forty years of existence you are taking away the incentive of being humane. You are absolutely doing a wrong thing. Allow this to be continued and perpetuated, and remember there is not a single officer paid but two men who are investigators, all the other officers render their services, daily almost, for nothing, for a humane cause,—to do something for the dumb beast, the dog and the horse. Therefore, do not try to take this away from people who give their time for society and for the better interests of the people, for the few dollars collected in their own community.

Mr. LONG. Mr. President, I understand the purpose of Secretary of Agriculture that the purpose is not to deprive these people of funds; he proposes to give funds to those people to carry on the work, as much as they have been receiving from the cities of Pittsburgh and Philadelphia.

Mr. MANSFIELD. Mr. President, and members of the Senate, I believe that this is an unreasonable piece of legislation, directed at the cities of the first and second classes in this state I do not have the figures for the city of Philadelphia and the city of Scranton, but in the city of Pittsburgh there is derived from license fees in the neighborhood of fifteen thousand dollars. Ten thousand dollars of this is paid to the Animal Rescue League of the city of Pittsburgh and along with that ten thousand dollars they expend an additional twelve thousand each and every year that is collected by other subscriptions. I believe it is absolutely unfair for the Senate to pass the bill that would put the expense of taking care of the dogs in the cities of the first and second classes upon those cities. I think it is also unfair to compare the country districts with the congested centers and I hope that the members of the Senate will vote down this bill.

Mr. CHRISTLEY. Mr. President, dogs must be looked after and we have got to put this dog tax in an equitable and right place if we can. It seems to me, from the discussion here to-night, it is a question between the two great cities of this Commonwealth and the suburban counties and from the discussion my mind runs back that occurred some years ago to an incident at Washington in the House of Representatives about which I read. Thomas Reed was Chairman of the House and there was a question with reference to a taxation bill and the South was opposed to anything south of the Mason and Dixon line being taxed and the North did not want anything in the north taxed, and Tom Reed was Chairman of the House and he put some one else in the Chair after listening to the discussion for two days, and he said "As near as I can find out the proposition resolves itself into this little couplet:

"Little boy blue come blow your horn nice
Blow hell out of mutton but don't you touch rice."

We are discussing here the question of classification of taxes. In the country districts this tax goes to the Department of Agriculture. The three cities of the state referred to in this bill would place everybody on an equality. Now I see no reason why this bill should not pass and become the law of the State. It is absolutely fair. If these cities have their organizations, we have our humane organizations and every cent of this tax goes to the Department of Agriculture and we maintain our humane organizations for these animals. I do not see any reason why this should not be uniform the State over.

And the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

RECONSIDERATION OF SENATE BILL No. 499.

Mr. KRAUSE. Mr. President, I move to reconsider the vote by which Senate Bill No. 499, (House Bill No. 763), entitled:

An Act to amend section one of an act approved the twenty-eighth day of July one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (Pamphlet Laws twelve hundred thirty-five) entitled "A supplement to an act approved the thirteenth day of May one thousand eight hundred seventy-six entitled 'An Act for the incorporation and regulation of banks of discount and deposit' and authorizing the creation and maintenance of suboffices or subagencies" was defeated.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. KRAUSE. Mr. President, I voted "no."

Mr. NORTON. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. NORTON. Mr. President, I voted "no."

Mr. STITES. Mr. President, the purpose of the motion made by the Senator from Philadelphia, seconded by the Senator from Berks, is to give an opportunity to amend this bill. The suggestion was made when the vote was taken last week that this was for the purpose of establishing branch banks. That is not the purpose of the proposed amendment at all. At the present time under the Act of 1917, in the city of Philadelphia, there are about forty institutions maintaining branch banks. Under the rulings of the Banking Department every night they are required to convey their cash from the branch institution to the main institution, sometimes involving a great many thousands of dollars. It is an exceedingly dangerous practice. It is likely to lead to murder and bloodshed and it is a matter of very great concern to the financial institutions of the city of Philadelphia. Our purpose here is to amend the bill so that the act shall relate only to cities of the first class and to permit those institutions having branch institutions in the city of Philadelphia to maintain their cash each day at the institution and not be obliged to take it to the main bank. There is no thought of establishing branch banks in other counties of the Commonwealth. That is the purpose of the amendment and we are asking here that the vote be reconsidered and that the amendment may be inserted limiting the action of the bill simply to cities of the first class.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. KRAUSE. Mr. President, I move to reconsider the vote by which the bill passed third reading.

Mr. NORTON. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. STITES. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to amend Section 2, line 16, by removing the strike out bracket before the word "and"; also line 17, by inserting after the word "sub-agencies" the following: "except in any county having a population in excess of 1,700,000"; also line 10, by removing the strike out bracket after the word "day".

The PRESIDENT. Is there obejction? The Chair hears none.

The amendment was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended be printed for the use of the Senate.

COMMUNICATION RELATIVE TO HOSPITALIZATION OF PATIENTS OF UNITED STATES VETERANS BUREAU RESIDING IN PHILADELPHIA AND ITS ENVIRONS.

The CHAIR laid before the Senate the following communications:

United States Veterans Bureau
Washington, May 26, 1923.

Hospitalization of patients resident of Philadelphia and its environs GAR—ecr:0.233

Honorable G. W. Pepper, United States Senate, Washington, D. C.

Dear Senator Pepper: Acknowledgment is made of the receipt of your recent communication inclosing copy of Resolutions passed by the Pennsylvania State Senate dated May 14, 1923, concerning the hospitalization of patients, resident of Philadelphia and its environs.

Certain semi-permanent buildings at U. S. Veterans' Hospital No. 49 were condemned as dilapidated and unsafe, and so unfit for occupancy for patients of the Bureau, by our inspectors. Accordingly, transfer of patients in the wards of these buildings was made at once to the Hospitals as above indicated. In each case the relatives of the claimant were advised by letter of the transfer and of the necessity under which it was done.

In any case in which transfer has been made and the relatives desire the return of the claimant to his home for further hospitalization by them in hospitals not operated by the Bureau, such return of the claimant will be made. It must be understood however, that no vacancies exist at U. S. Veterans' Hospital No. 49, Philadelphia, Pa., and accordingly hospitalization in non-Government Hospital will not be made at the expense of the Bureau.

It is regretted that urgent necessity required the immediate transfer of these patients from the Hospital at Philadelphia, but as stated above, the relatives were advised in each instance of the necessity, and in any case where they desire the claimant returned to his home, such return can be made.

It is the intent of the Bureau to retain, for the time being, the facilities that exist in the permanent hospital structure at U. S. Veterans' Hospital No. 49 leased from the Navy containing one hundred beds for observation of and for the care and treatment of neuropsychiatric patients residents of Philadelphia and its environs.

Yours very truly, Frank T. Hines, Director.

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO AIDING AND ASSISTING IN ALLEVIATING UNFAVORABLE FARMING CONDITIONS.

He also presented extract from the Journal of the House of Representatives, which was twice read as follows:

Whereas there is a serious scarcity in farm labor throughout the Nation and a continuous movement away from the farm to the city which is evidenced by the number of vacant farms which may be found in most every county of Pennsylvania and

Whereas said movement is due largely to the cheap prices obtainable for farm products the heavy taxes imposed upon farm lands and the high prices required to be paid to labor to compete with wages paid by industries therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur) That a commission is hereby created to be composed of three Senators to be appointed by the President pro tempore of the Senate and five members of the House of Representatives to be appointed by the Speaker of the House which shall consider ways and means which will in some measure aid and assist in alleviating the unfavorable conditions facing the farming interests of the State and assure farmers of reasonable profits for their labors The commission shall hold such hearings in different parts of the Commonwealth as may be deemed necessary and shall make a report to the Session of the General Assembly of one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three containing such recommendations or legislation as may be deemed advisable

Resolved That an item not to exceed five thousand dollars ($5,000) shall be inserted in the General appropriation bill to pay the expenses of the commission

Mr. EYRE. Mr. President, I move that the resolution be referred to the Committee on Appropriations for the purpose of amendment.

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented communications in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, which were twice read as follows:

APPROVAL OF SENATE BILL NO. 586.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, June 7, 1923.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen: I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed Senate Bill No. 586, entitled, "An Act providing for and reorganizing the conduct of the executive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof and certain existing and certain new Administrative Departments Boards Commissions and officers abolishing combining changing the names of reorganizing or authorizing the reorganization of certain administrative Departments Boards Commissions Bureaus Divisions offices and Agencies defining the powers and duties of the Governor and other executive and administrative officers and of the several administrative Departments Boards and Commissions fixing the salaries of the Governor Lieutenant Governor and certain other executive and administrative officers providing for the appointment of certain administrative officers and of all deputies and other assistants and employes in certain Departments Boards and Commissions and prescribing the manner in which the number and compensation of the Deputies and all other assistants and employes of certain Departments Boards and Commissions shall be determined".

GIFFORD PINCHOT.

APPROVAL OF SENATE BILLS NOS. 1105, 610, 686.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, June 8, 1923.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen: I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed the following:

Senate Bill No. 1105, entitled, "An Act authorizing county commissioners to appropriate money for the compilation and publication of a County War History".

Senate Bill No. 610, entitled, "An Act providing for the creation of a commission to study the subject of consolidation of the various municipalities to wit cities boroughs and townships in counties of the second class into one municipality and to file with the next General Assembly its report together with an act providing a method for such consolidation and prescribing its powers and duties".

Senate Bill No. 686, entitled, "An Act relating to the registration and re-registration of nurses and licensed attendants by the State Board of Examiners for Registration of nurses and the issuance of a license to practice nursing making the violation of the provisions of this act a misdemeanor and providing penalties therefor".

GIFFORD PINCHOT.

NOMINATIONS BY THE GOVERNOR

SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, June 11, 1923.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen: In conformity with law, I have the honor to nominate for the advice and consent of the Senate, J. George Becht, of Clarion, Clarion County, to be Superintendent of Public Instruction for a term of four years, to compute from date of confirmation.

GIFFORD PINCHOT.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I move that this nomination be referred to the Committee on Education.

Mr. STITES. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, if the Senate is ready to vote on the confirmation I am willing, with the consent of the Senator, to withdraw my motion, if not I would ask that my motion stand and go before the Senate.

Mr. SCHANTZ. Mr. President, I move that the nomination be referred to a special committee of five to be appointed by the President Pro Tempore.

Mr. CLARK. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, the Committee on Education has been the committee that has functioned the entire year on matters referring to education, and, it seems to me, it is a matter of very great discourtesy to the Committee on Education, of which I have the honor of being Chairman, to pass this Committee up on a question of this kind, when it refers purely and simply to a matter that our Committee has had in charge the entire session, and, I think, to the satisfaction of the Senate. I would ask the Senate to vote down the motion of the Senator from Lehigh, Mr. Schantz.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, I am in full sympathy with the statement made by the distinguished Senator from Allegheny Mr. Barr. I think myself the Committee on Education has handled these affairs during the Session in a satisfactory manner.

Mr. SCHANTZ. Mr. President, that is hardly an argument against my motion. For a long time this body carried a committee on Executive nominations. If that were a sound argument then all nominations affecting the Highway Department should be referred to Public Roads and Highways and so all down the line. The nomination by the Governor of the Commissioner of Health should be referred to committee on Public Health and Sanitation and so all along down the line every appointment made by the Governor should be referred either to the Department of Health or the Department of Public Roads and Highways. The question involving this nomination is a constitutional question and not an educational question and it is a question that should be passed upon by a particular committee, certainly more properly the Committee on Judiciary General, which is the committee that passes on that kind of matters. Mr. President, I withdraw the motion that I have made and move to amend to refer it to the Committee on Judiciary General.

Mr. CLARK. Mr. President, I withdraw the second to the first amendment and I will second the motion just made.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. BARR. I do not see the argument of the Senator from Lehigh. There is nothing in the statement that it is a constitutional question other than the constitution provides that the Governor shall nominate a candidate who shall serve four years. Beyond that there is no constitutional question in this. It is a question of the ability of the man nominated by the Governor of Pennsylvania to be the head of the schools of Pennsylvania, and I would say to you that there are many men on the Committee of Education that are just as able to determine this question as there are on the Judiciary General. I happen to be a member of both and I ask that, as a matter of courtesy to the Committee on Education the nomination be referred to the Committee on Education. It is a subterfuge, pure and simple, the argument about constitutional questions.

Mr. EINSTEIN. Mr. President, I do not undrestand Senator Barr's motion to have the matter referred to the Committee of Education. Personally it is an educational matter but I believe the members of the Senate have had nominations before and we have acted on them. I think, gentlemen, we either should vote to pass this appointee or vote it down. I do not believe it is a matter for the Committee on Education. I am prepared to vote either for or against the appointment to-night. I do not think there is any use of sending it to the Committee of Education. I will vote against the motion.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

It was not agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the original motion?

Mr. LONG. Mr. President, it seems to me there is no occasion to refer this matter to any committee. The Governor in his wisdom has seen fit to appoint this man and it is up to the Senate to confirm him or not and we can do it just as well to-night as we can any other time. It seems to me this motion ought to be defeated also.

The PRESIDENT. Under the rules of the Senate it requires unanimous consent to consider the nomination now. The motion before the Senate is to refer to the Committee on Education.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, the only reason that the motion was made was to offset any attempt that might be made to refer it to some other committee which really had no right to the consideration of it and with the consent of the seconder, if the Senate so pleases, I will be glad indeed to withdraw the motion to refer it to the Committee on Education and come to a vote on a confirmation right now.

Mr. CHRISTLEY. Mr. President, I propose to vote against this motion. There is no reason why we cannot vote on it to-night, without referring it to any committee. I am just as ready to vote on it now as to-morrow or any other time. I will vote against referring it to this Committee.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, my understanding is that Senator Barr has withdrawn the motion.

The PRESIDENT. The seconder did not withdraw his second, not that the Chair heard.

Mr. BARR, Mr. President, I made the statement that I would be willing to withdraw my motion with the consent of the seconder provided the Senate was ready to vote on the confirmation of the Governor's appointee.

Mr. CHRISTLEY. Mr. President, we are ready.

Mr. CRAIG. Mr. President, we are not all ready.

The PRESIDENT. In order to act upon the nomination to-night it requires unanimous consent and apparently there is objection.

Mr. LONG. Mr. President, I understand the Chair to say then that if there is objection it must go to a Committee.

The PRESIDENT. That is right.

Mr. LONG. Mr. President, then I am ready to vote.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Einstein and Mr. Long and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—39.

Aron,
Baldwin,
Barr,
Betts,
Brown,
Buckman,
Clark,

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

MONDAY, JUNE 11, 1923.

The House met at 8:00 o'clock P. M.

The SPEAKER (C. J. Goodnough), in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Rev. Lorenzo D. Thomas, a member of the House, offered the following prayer:

Our Father who art in heaven, we come before Thee at this time, as a body of dutiful children would come before their parents, asking Thee for the things necessary and good for their welfare. We thank Thee for Thy wisdom, Thy power and Thy love, and for the ability Thou dost give unto us to interpret these gracious attributes of Thine. Help us, then, that we may use Thy wisdom for our own good and for the perpetual good of the Commonwealth that it is our pleasure and our honor to represent. Be Thou with those for whom we should pray and grant that we may, everyone, find in Thee our sufficiency for the task in hand, today and forever. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED.

MOTION TO PLACE BILL ON CALENDAR.

Mr. RIPPMAN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the Committee on Public Roads be discharged from further consideration of House Bill No. 201, file folio 1687, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the State Highway Department for the construction of an important link in the William Penn State Highway in the County of Perry.

Mr. HOWELL. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

MOTION LAID UPON THE TABLE.

Mr. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I ask the indulgence of the House for a moment.

This is a bill introduced by the gentleman from Perry county, Mr. Rippman. It was introduced on the 6th of February. We have given Mr. Rippman three hearings on this bill; the bill has been thoroughly discussed by the committee and each time, further consideration of it was indefinitely postponed. The last hearing was on Wednesday of last week. This is a bill which calls upon the Highway Department to set aside $750,000 of highway money for the purpose of building a particular piece of road. The opinion of the Highway Department on this bill is as follows: "The Department opposes this measure for the reason that should such legislation become effective it would be only a short time until other demands would be made similarly to appropriate funds for such sections of road. Further, the Department would have no discretion as to the roads to be improved and the result will be a return to the so-called "island" method of road building with no regard for the system.

MOTION LAID UPON THE TABLE.

Now, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I feel that due consideration was given Mr. Rippman on the consideration of this bill, and I move that the motion to discharge the Committee from further consideration of this bill be laid upon the table.

Mr. BIDELSPACHER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER announced the Chair was unable to decide,

Whereupon a division was called for and 108 members or more than a majority of the House having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative and the motion was agreed to.

RESOLUTION

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill is known as the motor license fee bill, and is intended to increase the fees on certain classes of motor cars fifty per cent, and to provide additional revenue to the amount of approximately seven million dollars. The bill is only a portion of the revenue program of this session in the sense that when the program was agreed upon last week there was some difference of opinion which arose between the members of the House and Senate as to whether or not the motor tax portion of the program should include a gasoline tax or a motor tax. That question was not settled fully, it was not fully determined which one of these bills should be enacted and become a part of the revenue program, so that an agreement was entered into with members of the Senate at that time to pass the gasoline tax bill, later on pass this motor tax bill, and to determine after the bills reach the Senate as to which bill should be finally enacted. I am carrying out that agreement tonight when I make the statement that the bill before you will not be enacted in case the gasoline tax bill is finally enacted. It will only become a part of the revenue program in case the gasoline tax is rejected. With that understanding in view, Mr. Speaker, I ask the members of the House to support this bill.

Mr. RHODES. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the Chairman of the Committee on Ways and Means.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Butler, Mr. Woner, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WONER. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. RHODES. Will the Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee advise the House as to how many makes of automobiles are exempted under the provisions of this proposed act?

Mr. WONER. Mr. Speaker, two classes of vehicles are included. One is the commercial motor vehicle, and the other is the passenger motor vehicle of over 25 horse power. Traction engines and tractors, steam shovels, road rollers, agricultural machinery and vehicles, and so forth are excluded. The following may be enumerated as those cars that come in the exempted list:

Mr. RHODES. Will the gentleman from Butler, Mr. Woner, permit himself to be interrogated further?

Mr. WONER. Yes.

Mr. RHODES. Will the gentleman explain to this House by what method he arrived at the horse power of cars to be exempted.

Mr. WONER. I am not a specialist on gas engines. I do not know what the motor registration department arrived at the horsepower of the various gas engines used in motor cars.

Mr. RHODES. Will the Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee state whether or not he did not say to the House that the gas tax and the profits tax would be sufficient to take care of the revenue needed?

Mr. WONER. I do not recall my exact words but as my colleague, Mr. Flynn, has explained, if this bill, No. 1118, is sent to the Senate both will not be passed, but either this one or the gas tax.

Mr. RHODES. Was the Ways and Means Committee a party to this deal with the Senate?

Mr. WONER. The Ways and Means Committee as a whole was not a party to the deal with the Senate. It is perfectly plain to anyone that a body with the wisdom of the Senate would not, in the nature of things, impose both a gas tax and a high power motor tax, and the assurance may be given to this House without any equivocation or evasion that the large number of senators with whom I have conferred, as well as with a number of leaders in the Senate, that under no circumstances will both measures be passed by the Senate, if they are given an opportunity to pass on both of them.

Mr. RHODES. Will the gentleman from Butler advise us who had authority to speak for the Senate?

Mr. WONER. I do not believe that the House will insist upon such information. It is sufficient for me to say that all of those in the Senate with whom I have conferred have given this assurance.

Mr. RHODES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this is probably the first time during the experience of a great many members of this House that this kind of a proposition has been submitted. It seems to me, although I me a most peculiar sitution for the House to eliminate itwiles of the game, that this is somewhat of an affront to the intelligence of this House, that a proposed deal should be made between some self-constituted bodies of the House and of the Senate relative to this tax program; that we, having already passed a gasoline tax bill and a net profits tax bill, which are now over in the Senate, and which it has been stated, would be sufficient to raise all the necessary revenues that have been demanded, and ask us now to come along and to pass this bill, which would carry with it an additional income in the amount of $7,000,000 and then turn the three bills over to the Senate to play football with. It seems to me a most peculiar situation for the House to eliminate itself insofar as the prerogatives are concerned and turn them over to the Senate so that they may act as they see fit with three tax bills, taking any two that they want to take. In my opinion, the House should not come to that point where it is willing to surrender its prerogatives to the Senate or to anybody else. It seems to me that we are intelligent enough that we need not yet permit ourselves to become rubber stamps for anybody, and insofar as a deal is concerned, it seems to me entirely out of place for anyone to come up before this House and ask the members to carry out a deal which has been made with some of the members, as leaders of this House, and also with some of the members of the Senate for the purpose of playing politics. It is self-apparent as to why the gentleman wants to get this bill over there. It is merely a political game, and therefore I can see no reason why this House should help to carry out any such program. There has been no disclosure as to the nature and as to the details of this agreement; there has been no disclosure as to who has made the agreement on the part of the Senate. The Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee has refused to divulge the names of senators with whom he has conferred and upon whom we may rely. Certainly it is not up to us to go along any such lines. We should have the full details laid bare before us and the parties thereto before we vote upon any such proposition as this. In addition to that, I want to call your attention to two or three phases of this bill. If you will refer to Article 9, Section 1, of the constitution, you will find therein the following provisions:

You have just been told that there are eighteen different kinds of automobiles exempted from the provisions of this bill. I cannot possibly see how any court could sustain the constitutionality of such an act, which exempts eighteen different makes of automobiles in favor of others, it certainly is a bill that discriminates and is not in compliance with the constitutional provision. In addition to that, we defeated last Monday night, House Bill No. 1179, which carried with it a two-dollar drivers' license fee in addition to the regular fee. This bill tonight has that same provision in it, and I think you probably all have received a letter from the Highway Commissioner, wherein he states that House Bill No. 1179 has been put back upon the calendar and that provision has been changed to one dollar. Therefore, this bill is in conflict with that bill which we defeated on Monday night last. Taking these things all into consideration, it seems to me that this bill should be overwhelmingly defeated.

Mr. LUDLOW. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, when the revenue raising program was before us you will recall the criticisms made of a program which brought a bill out, put it back and brought it out again until none of us knew just where we were. Finally there was suggested to us a program, and the program was the thing which we adopted. When I voted on the gasoline tax bill it was with the understanding that it was to supplement another bill, the bill imposing a tax on all net profits of corporations. When those two bills left the House, I think every one of us understood they were the two bills which should go to the Senate as representing the measures for revenue originating in this House. Under our State Constitution, Article 3, Section 14, all bills for raising revenue shall originate in the House and the only thing that the Senate can do is to make or offer amendments thereto in which of course we have the right to concur. It seems to me we are entirely surrendering our right to originate revenue measures if we pass this bill tonight. We might just as well pass a dozen revenue bills and send them all to the Senate and say, "Gentlemen, take your choice." It is like the old game of battledore and shuttlecock. It is like the old deal of me saying to you, "I am thinking of a number between one and ten," and no matter what you get, I say you are wrong, because I have nine other numbers to pick from and assure you that you are wrong. Now, we debated and voted upon the merits of an alternate proposition with reference to motors. We know that a certain amount of money is needed from motor sources for our highways and to make up a deficiency that now exists, and we adopted finally after much debate and the submission of many figures a form of revenue raiser as based upon gasoline, which in turn reflects the use of the highway exactly in accordance with the size of the machine, everybody knows that your gas used is reflected. Now, members of the House, it seems to me that by handing over to the Senate another form of taxation, that we might just as well say that from now on until our adjournment when the clock is stopped at twelve o'clook next Thursday night, that we are only here to concur in whatever the Senate does. The constitution does not so say. We do the same thing in Pennsylvania that they do in Washington under the Federal Constitution. Revenue measures must originate here. Had there been a program such as has been suggested by the gentleman from Elk, Mr. Flynn, as stated on the floor of this House the night we voted on the measure, I personally should have voted "no" here. I voted for the gasoline tax, I voted for the corporation tax and the net profits tax, and I propose to stand by it, with such minor amendments as the Senate may make when they come back to us asking for our concurrence. This bill, it seems to me, violates the whole program, and we are back to where we were several months ago, playing battledore and shuttlecock with the whole Ways and Means' program. I earnestly hope that the House will vote down this bill.

Mr. WONER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in reply to the statement made by my colleague from Monroe, Mr. Rhodes, concerning the two dollar fee for license for an operator and the statement that it has been changed to one dollar, I will advise him that this will be changed to one, to conform to Bill No. 1179, that is, line 11, on page 24.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I agree exactly with what the gentleman from Montgomery says, that this House is able to measure and decide what we think should be passed as revenue raisers and especially is that true as to what the gentleman from Monroe said, when he said you had no assurance that the Senate would not pass all three of them. My experience with that Senate in this session has been that they have done nothing they have been asked to do, and they have not had any job passing things over to us, passing them without very much consideration and passing them to us. Now, there is another reason, I have said, and it has been written in the newspapers that I have said it, that I have lost confidence in the Governor. And in the face of the fact that the Code was passed last week, and which has been signed by him, which gives him full power to appoint whom he pleases and fixes their salaries and designating them their duties and practically running the whole "shebang," with no let or hindrance, without any checks or balances of the other constitutional officers, the fact that all of this money is going to him, to be expended by him, I think it is about time we are examining into his actions up to this time. We have heard heretofore about the joyrides of the former Governors. We have heard heretofore about one Governor having his pants pressed and buying baby coaches and having them charged to the State, and that was condemned. We have heard about the last Governor having joyrides, and now we are making up the deficiency, and those bills that we are asked about at the present time is for that purpose, and we are told that the State had nothing to do with those joyrides. Now, then, I am going to give you a leaf out of the book of a Governor who is economical, so he says, and is practicing economy, and whom you are voting this money to, to be used as he pleases.

The first bunch of bills which I have from the Treasury Department is for services of expert accountants. Now, mind you, this is an economy plan, mind you, gentlemen. We are at a time when we are hunting money. We have already approved between $18,000,000 and $20,000,000, we have that approved, or rather we have found for him from $18,000,000 to $20,000,000 more than we have ever raised for any other Governor. Economy! gentlemen. He was going to clean up the mess. He was going to go along without any further revenue, and mind you, we have an Auditor General downstairs who has been as efficient as any Auditor General that ever lived, or ever held office, and I have not heard yet that any of those experts has found anything that he did not find long before the Governor was nominated or came into office. Now, I will give you his extra bills, which he has asked the State to pay. To Charles E. Reitell, for services as expert accountant from January 16, 1923, to January 31, 1923, which is one-half month, $322.58. To the same gentleman for services for the month of February, $625.00. To E. L. Van Sickle, debtor, for special assistance to Charles E. Reitell, $45.62. To Main & Company for professional services rendered in respect to the examination of the books, records and accounts of the State Highway Department for the month of February, 1923, $850.00. To J. Franklin Meyer, for three days' services as consulting expert as per letter of February 9, 1923, at $25.00 per day, $75.00, that is for the three days. Economy! To Walter G. Scott, for expert assistance in preparing and writing a schedule of specifications for purchases by the Department of Public Grounds and Buildings, $30.22. Then, Main & Company, an additional bill of $1,606.50.

The next item we have is for stationery, and so forth, at the office, for loose-leaf memorandum books for the Secretary to the Governor, $8.10; for two cardboard signs, "open door" signs, $2.00. That is the "open door" that Mr. Brownmiller had a little experience with. Office Equipment Company, one mahogany desk tray for the Governor's desk, $1.50; one special border stamp, $3.00; for repairing metal dater and for one facsimile of the Governor's signature, $8.00; for newspapers furnished the Governor's office, $44.88; Orin C. Groover, extra services from January 16, 1923, to January 31, 1923, at the rate of $67.00 per month, $34.58; Frank F. Yeager, extra services from January 16, 1923, to January 31, 1923, at the rate of $125.00 per month, $64.51; James M. Auter, debtor, extra services for the month of February, 1923, $25.00; for one mileage book on the Pennsylvania Railroad, $30.00; Charles E. Pass, postmaster, postage stamps $100.00; three Kimbar blotters, number ten, $1.05; three rocker blotters, $1.05, $2.10 total; the Western Union Telegraph Company, messenger service for January 1923, $6.45; to City Star Laundry, laundry for January 1923, that is the pressing of pants, perhaps, $2.60; Postal Telegraph Company, messenger service for January, 1923, $1.07; expressage, $4.07; Wilmer Johnson, forty-nine hours engrossing of invitations to Governor's reception to General Assembly, $49.00.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. HOLLIS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. HOLLIS. The gentleman is not talking on the bill.

The SPEAKER. The Chair feels that by stretching the imagination somewhat, this may pertain to the question before the House. The Chair rules that the point of order is not well taken.

Mr. ALEXANDER. To postage stamps, $100.00; special ruled stamps, $3.80; two Bates four-wheel regulating movement numbering machines, $26.00; parcel post, 8 cents; that is A. Pomerantz to Harrisburg; extra services, Orin C. Groover, for the month of February, $67.00; Frank F. Yeager, extra services for month of February, $125.00; James M. Auter, extra services at the executive mansion during Governor's reception to the Legislature, February 6th, $5.00; extra services in the Governor's office during the month of February, 1923, $25.00; amount spent for postage due from December 1, 1922, to February 22, 1923, $1.52; to P. S. Stahlnecker, debtor, pullman, Harrisburg to Philadelphia, and return, $1.50; meals, $3.45, porterage, 55 cents, telephone, 60 cents meals, $1.20, $7.30 total; messenger service for February, 1923, $11.82; to City Star Laundry again, laundry services for the month of February, 1923, $3.67; Allen E. Shomo, extra clerical services in compiling, typewriting ,etc., $25.00; Alfred W. Weil, extra clerical services in compiling, typewriting, etc., $25.00; Charles E. Pass, postmaster, rent of post office box, $3.89, for quarter ending June 30, 1923, $4.00; to Harrisburg Stencil Works, repairs for No. 14 Champion self-inker, 75 cents; P. S. Stahnecker again, drawing room, Harrisburg to Philadelphia, $3.75, porterage, 75 cents, telegrams, 85 cents, meals, $1.95, room at Bellevue Stratford Hotel, $7.50, telephone, $1.10, telegrams, 74 cents, meals, $2.75, pullman Philadelphia to Harrisburg, 75 cents, porterage, 35 cents, total, $20.49; to Pennsylvania Railroad Company, two mileage books, $30.00 each, $60.00; Mr. Stahlnecker again, taxicabs, $2.00, porterage, 70 cents, meals, $5.20, telegrams, $1.15, drawing room, Harrisburg to Philadelphia, $3.75 telephone, $2.40, breakfast, $1.70, two fares and chairs, Philadelphia to Wilkesbarre, $13.16, room at hotel for Governor, $7.50, room at hotel for Mr. Stahlnecker, $7.00, meals, $3.15, portage, 50 cents, taxicab, $1.10, meals, $5.75, a total of $56.06.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, it seems to me, and I hold no brief for the Governor, but it seems to me this is not a proper matter in the consideration of the bill before the House. It is taking up the time of this House unduly, at a time when the time of the House is very valuable. As to what the Governor spends, certainly the House can get that information, and I have no doubt but that the Governor would furnish that information to the House at any time, but those questions which the gentleman is bringing up here do not necessarily tend to condemn the Governor. The only purpose in bringing this up now is to waste the time of the House, and therefore I raise the point of order that the gentleman is out of order.

The SPEAKER. The Chair felt, in his ruling on the other point of order, that there was but little of this matter that would be read. The time of the House is very valuable at this time, and there are a number of special orders for this evening. The Chair dislikes very much to cut off pertinent debate, but we feel this is going too far.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I just have a few more items to read, and ask the indulgence of the House.

The SPEAKER. Will it take more than two minutes?

Mr. ALEXANDER. It will take five minutes at the most.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Delaware will proceed.

Mr. ALEXANDER. To Harrisburg News Agency for newspapers furnished the Executive Mansion, $40.56; another mileage book, $30.00; Atlantic Refining Company, for one one hundred ten gallons Atlantic gasoline at 21 cents per gallon, $23.10; to Bailey, Banks & Biddle for one thousand place cards, $40.00; for one thousand visiting cards, $20.00 for five hundred invitation cards, $78.50, for five hundred blank invitation cards and envelopes, $95.00, total, $312.00 to Mannix Orchestra, for music at Executive Mansion, February 6, 1923, during Governor's reception to General Assembly, $57.00; another pullman bill, $11.15; G. M. Harry, for furnishing cigars and cigerettes at Governor's reception to members of Legislature at Executive Mansion on February 6, 1923, $79.00; to Atlantic Refining Company for gasoline furnished for Governor's official car, one hundred thirty gallons at 23 cents, $29.90; to Charles L. Schmidt for furnishing three plateaux and greens for table decorations at Governor's reception to members of Legislature at Executive Mansion on February 26, 1923, $70.00; again, another hotel bill of $15.75; two more millage books $60.00 to Maryland Club, in re Governor's dinner at Executive Mansion to members of the Senate on March 13th, including terrapin, $176.90; Mr. Stahlnecker again, $55.06. That totals, gentlemen, $5,634.59.

Now, the gentleman from York thinks that has nothing to do with the consideration of the bill at hand. I want to ask you whether the plea of economy, coming from the Executive as it does, whether you are going to vote him any more money, when the power that has been given to him under the Code, that you gave him last week, gives to him the power to employ whom he pleases, fix salaries, spend money the way he pleases, especially in view of the fact that this economy Governor, this man who made you believe, made us all believe that this investigation that he was making was going to be paid out of his own pocket, that he was going to clean up the mess, and then costing this State $5,634.59 in the first five months. What is it going to cost hereafter if he gets sufficient money to spend in that way? Mind you, further than that, "Oh yes," they will say, "that is legitimate expense". True it is, but when you find a man preaching economy like he is, going around the State making everybody believe that he is an expert in economy, and a man who can spend $125,000 to buy his office, worth that much, and charging the State with a lot of things that he has charged it with here, I say the people of Pennsylvania should know it, and you should know it, and I intended to give it to you if it was possible for me to give it to you before you vote any more taxes or any more revenues to him.

Mr. HEFFERNAN. Mr. Speaker, I move the previous question.

The motion was seconded by the following members: Messrs. Fields, Greeby, Conner, Howard Smith, Josiah Evans, Fratt, Burd P. Evans, Lafferty, Dunn, Spangler, Hetrick, McCurdy, Parkinson, J. C. Marcus, Goehring, Mangan, Burger, Raymond, Minehart, Bush, and others.

The SPEAKER. More than twenty members having joined in moving the previous question,

On the question,

Shall the main question now be put?

It was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. METCALF. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this is the bill that was voted down a short time ago, and then it was put back on the calendar with the understanding that it would be amended. The bill has been amended, I believe, to the satisfaction of all concerned. The twenty per cent increase in solid-tire trucks has been taken out and the two dollar fee for the licensing of the drivers of all cars has been reduced to one dollar. It reduces the present fee now charged for licensed drivers of two dollars, to one dollar, but it places that class of licensed drivers to one dollar for all licenses to drive any automobile. The other features that were objected to by the minor judiciary committee have been removed and the bill, as now amended, I would ask you to vote for it.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

He may by bill of discovery or other legal or equitable proceeding obtain information of and sue for and recover any assets debts or damages which such corporation or person might sue for and recover or which any of the creditors might make available for the payment of their claims

He may at any time while he is in possession of the property and business of a corporation institute and maintain against the directors trustees managers or officers any action or proceeding which is vested in such corporation or in the stockholders or creditors thereof

He shall be liable to suit in his representative capacity by any person seeking to recover specific property if such property could have been recovered as against the creditors of the corporation or person levying an execution thereon

Section 36 Judgments Not to be Liens Stay of Execution A lien shall not attach to any of the property or assets of the corporation or person by reason of the entry of any judgment against such corporation or person after the Secretary has taken possession of its or his property and business and filed a certificate as required by section twenty-two of this act and so long as such possession continues

During such time no execution or attachment shall issue against such corporation or person nor shall any pending execution or attachment be proceeded with except by special leave of the court

Section 37 Enforcement of Individual Liability of Stockholders Whenever the stockholders of a corporation whereof the Secretary shall have taken possession are liable in addition to their liability as such stockholders for unpaid subscription to an amount equal to the par value of their stockholdings in such corporation and the Secretary has determined from his examination of the affairs of the corporation that the reasonable value of its assets is not sufficient to pay its creditors in full he may enforce the individual liability of such stockholders to such extent as may be necessary

If he determines to enforce such liability he shall make demand in writing upon such stockholders by causing the same to be mailed by registered mail to the respective stockholders at their last known places of address as the same appear on the stock ledger of the corporation or at their last known addresses if no addresses appear in such ledger Such demand shall state the total amount assessed by the Secretary against the stockholders and the pro rata share assessed against the particular stockholder addressed and the total sum to be paid by such stockholder The demand shall also fix a date not less than thirty days after the date of such demand on which the stockholders shall be required to pay such assessment to the Secretary

If any stockholder shall fail or refuse to pay such assessment within such time the Secretary shall have a cause of action at law or in equity against such stockholder either severally or jointly with other stockholders for the amount of such assessment together with interest from the date when the same was due and payable In any such action the written statement of the Secretary under his hand and seal of office reciting his determination to enforce the individual inability or any part thereof of such stockholders and setting forth the value of the assets of the corporation and its liabilities as determined by him after examination and investigation shall be prima facie evidence of such facts as therein stated

Section 38 Inventory and Appraisement Statement of Liabilities When the Secretary has determined to liquidate the affairs of any such corporation or person he shall forthwith cause an inventory and appraisement of the assets of such corporation or person under oath or affirmation to be made in duplicate by two disinterested appraisers chosen by him and shall file such inventories and appraisements accompanied by a complete statement certified by him of the liabilities of such corporation or person so far as he has been able to ascertain the same one in his office and the other in the office of the prothonotary

Section 39 Procedure as to Property in Safe Deposit After taking possession as aforesaid the Secretary may give written notice to anyone claiming or appearing on the books of the corporation or person to be owner of any personal property left in the possession of such corporation or person as bailee or depository for hire or the lessee of any safe vault or box notifying such bailor or lessee to remove all such personal property within a period of not less than sixty days

At the expiration of such period if such property has not been removed the Secretary may proceed as the corporation or person might have proceeded as provided in the contract of bailment or lease or at his option may cause any such safe vault or box to be opened in his presence or the presence of his special deputy and of a notary public not an officer or employee of the corporation or person or of the Department and the contents if any of such safe vault or box shall be sealed and marked by such notary with the name and address of the bailor or lessee in whose name such safe vault or box stands upon the books of the corporation or person and a list of the property therein shall be attached thereto such package so sealed and addressed shall be removed by the Secretary to his office and there preserved until delivered to the owner or otherwise disposed of in accordance with law

After the service or mailing of the notice as aforesaid the contract of bailment or leasing if any shall cease and determine upon the date for removal fixed by said notice and the amount of unearned rent or charges if any paid by the bailor or lessee shall become a debt of the corporation or person all contracts of bailment or lease such as aforesaid made after the date of the approval of this act shall be subject to the provisions of this section

(a) Taking Possession by Secretary Whenever the Secretary takes possession of the business and property of a corporation or person in accordance with the provisions of this act he shall also take possession of all funds property and investments held by such corporation or person in any fiduciary capacity but shall keep the same separate and apart from the assets thereof

(b) Substituted Fiduciaries Upon determining to liquidate the affairs of such corporation or person the Secretary shall forthwith give written notice to all parties interested in any such funds property or investments held in a fiduciary capacity so far as such notice is practicable requiring them within thirty days to apply to the proper court or official for the appointment of substituted fiduciaries to take the place of such corporation or person On the failure or neglect of the parties so notified to make such application within the time designated or in case the parties in interest can not be notified the Secretary shall himself apply for such appointment of substituted fiduciaries

(c) Settlement without Accounting In any instance where there shall be no dispute as to the amount or identity of such funds property or investments and all parties in interest are sui juris and so request in writing the Secretary may without the filing of an account transfer pay over and deliver to such substituted fiduciary all funds property and investments of the particular trust taking from parties and such substituted fiduciary a receipt and release in full which shall discharge the Secretary and such corporation or person from any further liability in the premises

(d) Jurisdiction of Disputes as to Identity of Trust Fund In any instance where there shall be a dispute as to the identity of alleged trust funds property or investments either because the same have become or are alleged to have become mingled with other funds property or invstments or otherwise the court having jurisdiction of the liquidation proceedings shall have exclusive jurisdiction to determine such dispute

(e) Accounting In all other instances the Secretary shall with the least possible delay prepare and file in the courts having jurisdiction thereof the accounts of such corporation or person in such fiduciary capacities and shall transfer pay over and deliver the balances determined upon such accounts to be due in accordance with the orders and decrees of such courts

(f) Deficiences and Surcharges In any instance where it shall be ascertained by such court that there is a deficiency in any such trust funds property or investments for which such corporation or person is liable or that such corporation or person is liable to surcharge in respect thereof the amount thereof shall constitute an unpreferred claim against the general funds in the hands of the Secretary and the order or decree of such court shall be conclusive subject to appeal as to the amount of such claim Should the existence or amount of any deficiency or surcharge or the liability of the corporation or person thereof be undetermined at the time of any distribution of such general funds it shall be the duty of the court ordering such distribution to set apart and withhold from such distribution a sufficient amount to pay the proportionate dividend upon such undetermined claim until the same shall have been finally adjudicated

Section 41 Notice to Depositors and Creditors When the Secretary shall have determined to liquidate the affairs of such corporation or person he shall forthwith give written or printed notice to all depositors to produce to him their deposit or pass books for settlement stating in such notice the amount which the books of the corporation or person show to be due to each depositor subject to outstanding checks and notifying such depositors that unless a settlement of the deposit or pass books shall show a different amount to be due or unless a depositor shall within four months from the date of such notice make proof in the matter hereinafter set forth that the amount due him differs from the amount as shown by the books of the corporation or person the amount last mentioned will be conclusive as to the amount of the claim of such depositor subject as aforesaid to any outstanding checks

The Secretary shall at the same time give written or printed notice to all creditors other than depositors so far as known to him to make proof of their claims in the manner hereinafter set forth within four months from the date of such notice or be debarred from coming in upon the fund

He shall also advertise such notices to depositors and other creditors in a newspaper and in the legal newspaper if any designated by rules of court for publication of legal notices in said county once a week for four successive weeks

Section 42 Proof of Claims of Creditors No claim other than the claim of a depositor shall be allowed unless the claimant or someone for him if he cannot do so shall furnish to the Secretary a statement of his claim together with a copy of any book entries pertaining thereto or any note or writing evidencing the same verified by an affidavit in substantially the following form

"I (name of claimant) do solemnly swear (or affirm) that the above is a true statement of my claim against (name of corporation or person) that there are no credits or allowances against the same except as therein set forth that I have not directly or indirectly made or entered into any bargain arrangement or agreement express or implied to take or receive directly or indirectly any money property or consideration whatever to or for myself or to or for any other person firm or corporation whatever other than my dividend as a creditor and that there is no collateral security for said indebtedness or any part thereof held by me or anyone else other than as above set forth"

In case the claimant shall be a partnership or corporation such affidavit shall be made by a member of the partnership or by the treasurer or assistant treasurer of the corporation claimant and the form thereof shall be modified accordingly

The provisions of this section shall not apply to the claims of cestius que trust or others to or against trust funds or property in the custody possession or control of a corporation or person possession of whose business and property is taken by the Secretary under the provisions of this act

Section 43 Proof of Claims of Depositors When proofs of claims by depositors are necessary under the provisions of section forty-one of this act the same shall be in such form as the Secretary shall prescribe and shall on request of any such depositor be prepared by the special deputy in charge of the affairs of the corporation or person in question and the affidavits thereto shall be taken by him without charge

Section 44 Allowance of Claims If such claim and affidavit when required are in proper form and if the amount claimed by a depositor or other creditor agrees with the amount shown by the books of the corporation or person or if upon consultation with the claimant and such corporation or person the amount is ascertained to the satisfaction of the Secretary the claim shall be allowed if presented within the time limited by the notice as aforesaid unless objected to in the manner hereinafter provided

Section 45 Partial or Final Account Objections At the expiration of the time fixed by the notice and advertisement for the presentation of claims prescribed in section forty-one of this act the Secretary may file a partial or final account consisting of a statement of receipts and expenditures together with a list of the claims which have been allowed and separately a list of the claims which have been objected to or are disputed showing as to all claimants the names addresses and amounts

If no account is filed within a year from the time when the Secretary takes possession any party interested may petition the court for an order on the Secretary requiring the filing of an account

Any account filed by the Secretary shall be duly verified by him under oath or affirmation Upon the filing thereof he shall give written or printed notice to all the depositors and other creditors known to him of such filing and that unless objections shall be filed within thirty days from the date thereof the same will be confirmed absolutely He shall also at the same time advertise such notice in two newspapers once a week for four successive weeks

During such period of thirty days any depositor other creditor stockholder or anyone having any interest may file in the court objections in writing to said account or to the allowance of any said claims a copy of which objections shall forthwith be served upon the claimant whose claim is objected to or his counsel and upon the Secretary or his counsel or the special deputy appointed by him in such proceeding

Section 46 Distribution If at the expiration of said period of thirty days from the filing of the account no objections shall have been filed thereto the same shall be confirmed absolutely and the Secretary shall prepare and file a schedule of distribution in accordance with the priorities fixed by law Said schedule shall be subject to the approval of the court and in accordance therewith when so approved a partial or final dividend as the case may be shall be declared and paid by the Secretary In case there shall be any disputed claim or any claim to which objections shall have been duly filed the dividend shall be calculated as if all claims were valid and approved and after deducting and setting apart such portion of the dividend as represents claims which are disputed or objected to the balance shall be distributed among the other claims If all or any of the claims disputed or objected to shall thereafter be determined to be valid they shall then receive their portions of such dividend If all or any of such claims shall be determined to be invalid the portions of such dividend set apart to them shall be distributed to the valid claims

Section 47 Conclusiveness of Confirmation and Distribution The confirmation of a partial account and distribution thereunder as aforesaid shall be conclusive only as to the fund distributed and shall not prevent the proof and allowance out of the fund involved in any subsequent account of claims not presented in time for allowance out of such previous fund

Section 48 Hearing and Decision of Matters in Controversy If there shall be claims disputed or objected to or if there shall be objections to the account the court shall itself without delay hear and decide the matters in controversy The court shall fix a time and place for the hearing of which three weeks' written notice shall be given to the Secretary and to the corporation or person and to all depositors and other creditors whose claims have been filed as aforesaid Said notice shall also set forth that all parties whose claims are disputed or objected to must appear at said time and place and prove their claims or be debarred from coming in upon the fund for distribution

Section 49 Expenses to be Paid out of the Fund All assessment charges and penalties due to the Department by such corporation or person all expenses of the taking and maintaining possession of the business and property or the continuing of the business by the Secretary and all expenses of liquidation under the provisions of this act shall first be payable out of the funds of such corporation or person including the compensation of special deputies assistants and others employed by the Secretary to assist him in such proceedings the allowance of all such expenses to be subject to the approval of the court

Section 50 Distribution of Balance Liquidating Trustees If after the filing and confirmation of the final account of the Secretary and the payment of all creditors in full and the return to stockholders who have paid to the Secretary the amount demanded pursuant to section thirty-seven of this act of their pro rata shares of any such amounts not necessary to pay creditors in full there shall remain a balance in the hands of the Secretary he shall call a meeting of the stockholders by serving written or printed notice upon them at least thirty days before the day fixed for the meeting

At such meeting the stockholders shall elect by ballot a trustee or trustees for the purpose of completing the liquidation A majority of the stock present in person or by proxy shall be necessary to elect Should the stockholders fail or refuse to elect the Secretary or any stockholder may petition the court for the appointment of such trustee or trustees who when appointed shall give bond to the Commonwealth in such amount with such surety and on such conditions as the court may direct

When such trustee or trustees have been duly elected or appointed as aforesaid the Secretary shall then transfer convey and deliver to such trustee or trustees all the assets of the corporation then remaining in his hands He shall thereupon be discharged from all further liability to such corporation and its creditors and shall file a certified copy of the proceedings of said stockholders' meeting in his office and cause a certified copy thereof to be filed in the office of the prothonotary No powers subject to the provision of the Department shall thereafter be exercised by such corporation except by permission of the Secretary and after compliance by such corporation with all the requirements of law as to a new corporation desiring to exercise such powers

Section 51 Constitutionality of Act If any section clause sentence paragraph or other part of this act shall for any reason be adjudged by any court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid such judgment shall not affect impair or invalidate the remainder of this act or any part thereof but shall be confined in its operation to the part thereof directly involved in the controversy in which such judgment shall be rendered it being hereby declared that the legislature would have enacted the remainder of this act without such part adjudged to be invalid

Any section clause or other part of this act so declared to be invalid shall not be considered as having been stricken out from any other portion or portions of this act wherein cross-references thereto are made but shall be taken and construed as having been actually written in full into such other portion or portions from which cross-references are made

Section 52 Repealer Sections one to fifty-two inclusive of The Banking Act of one thousand nine hundred and nineteen approved May twenty-first one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (Pamphlet Laws two hundred and nine) are hereby repealed it being expressly declared that section fifty-three of said act being the repealing section thereof shall remain in full force and effect

All other acts of assembly or parts thereof that are in any way in conflict or inconsistent with this act or any part thereof are hereby repealed

On the question,

Will the House adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, may I say with reference to this bill, which is the bill reorganizing the Banking Department, that in the report of the Committee of Conference, the Senate has accepted the House amendments and the only changes are in the title, which has been changed somewhat to correspond with the language of the bill. Irrespective of those changes in the title, the bill is identical with the bill that passed the House.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative, and the report of the Committee of Conference was adopted.

Ordered, that the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

BILL ON THIRD READING.
(SPECIAL ORDER)

The SPEAKER. The Chair lays before the House the special order of the day at this time.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 630, as follows:

An Act to amend section one thousand two hundred and four and to repeal section one thousand two hundred and eight of an act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws three hundred and nine) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any part thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith"

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section one thousand two hundred and four of an act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws three hundred and nine) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" is hereby amended to read as follows

All teachers supervisors directors and other employees of a school district of the first second or third class except a superintendent of schools or an assistant superintendent of schools or a person performing the functions of a superintendent of schools who are employed to teach in the schools of such district or to supervise or direct the work of teachers employed in such a district shall be employed in the first instance for a probationary period which shall not be less than one year nor more than three years The board of school directors shall determine the period of such probation

The superintendent of schools or in a district having no superintendent of schools the person performing the functions of a superintendent of schools of each of such districts in the month of July one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three shall make a written report to the board of school directors in which he shall name all teachers supervisors or such other employees who have been employed in such districts for three years or more whose work has been competent efficient and satisfactory

The superintendent of schools or in a district having no superintendent the person performing the functions of the superintendent of schools shall hereafter make a written report to the board of school directors at the expiration of the probationary term for which a teacher supervisor director or such other employee has served in which he shall name those persons who have been found competent efficient and satisfactory

All such teachers supervisors directors and other employees so named in the reports of the superintendent of schools or person performing the functions of superintendent of schools who holds a teachers permanent certificate qualifying them to teach in the schools of the State shall thereafter hold their respective positions during good behavior and competent and efficient service and shall not be removable except for improper conduct incompetency or inefficiency by the affirmative vote of the majority of the board of school directors

Section 2 That section one thousand two hundred and eight of said act be and the same is hereby repealed

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. JOHN G. MARSHALL. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the bill which we are considering at this time is known in the House and throughout the State as the Teachers' Tenure Bill. A bill similar to this was in the Legislature or a bill dealing with this subject was in the Legislature two years ago, reported out, and nothing came out of it. The bill which we are considering tonight is an amendment to a bill which was introduced early in the session in this Legislature, was referred to the Committee on Education where it was considered by that committee no less than four times. On every occasion, by a very large majority, the committee was in favor of reporting the bill favorably. Finally, the committee reported the bill in its original form with a negative recommendation. Since that time it has been placed upon the calendar and has been amended. I might say further that the amendment, or the bill in its amended form was before the committee the last time they took any action upon it. Personally, I think any form of tenure in Pennsylvania at this time is a mistake. I think so for the reason, namely, that our educational system is passing through a transition period, a development period, as it were, due to the effect of the results of the legislation that we passed in this House two years ago, which provided a gradual development up until the year 1927. We have just started upon the development period, and until that period has been consummated and our teachers' plan brought to the standard prescribed and intended by that system, I think any such tenure is a mistake. Even if I were a strong advocate of tenure for teachers, I could not support this bill in its present form for the reason that it has been very defectively drafted and is not complete in all its provisions. The paragraphs in the amended form are not numbered, but it is divided into four paragraphs. The first paragraph provides for a provision for a ten-year period. That is not material. But the second paragraph provides that the superintendent of schools, or in the case where there is no superintendent, the person acting or performing the functions of superintendent, in the month of July, 1923, shall make a written report to the board of school directors, in which he shall name teachers, supervising directors or other employees who have been employed in such districts for three years or more, whose work has been competent, efficient and satisfactory. You will notice the second paragraph deals with the third year period. If you have served for three years, you are subject to the provisions of tenure. In the next paragraph it makes a similar provision and provides that anyone who has reached the point of service where he is entitled to tenure, that he shall make a similar recommendation, but notice the last paragraph. All such teachers, supervising directors and other employees so named in the report of the superintendent of schools, or person performing the functions of superintendent of schools who holds a teachers' permanent certificate, qualifying them to teach in the schools of the State shall do what? "Shall thereafter hold their respective positions during good behavior and competent and efficient service and shall not be removable except for improper conduct, incompetency or inefficiency by the affirmative vote of the majority of the board of school directors." Now, I would like to ask, and I will submit to the members of this House if the tenure is attached once who is to determine whether or not the teacher is serving in a manner that would be classified as good behavior, competent and efficient. Is it the principal of the schools, or is it the board of school directors? Furthermore, after the principal makes his recommendation and makes it once, it does not say that he is to make it every year. When he recommends a teacher once under the provisions of this bill, there is absolutely no provision for him ever to make either an affirmative or a negative recommendation as to that particular teacher. If the tenure has attached to the teacher in question, he makes his recommendation and that ends it, but if they become incompetent on any of the reasons that justifies removal, it says they shall be removed, but it does not say who shall make the information. It makes no provision for the teacher in question having a hearing or making any defense whatsoever. For those reasons, I say the bill, as drafted, is defective and should not be enacted into law and made a part of our school laws in this State. I say further, as a general proposition, that tenure is fundamentally unsound. It is unsound from the standpoint of the teacher for the reason that it takes away from the teacher any incentive to better his condition from the standpoint of a teacher. It is unsound from the standpoint of other teachers for the reason that new teachers do not have an opportunity. It is unsound from the standpoint of school directors. Under the provisions of this bill, as drafted, the superintendent of schools, after tenure has once attached, is absolute dictator of the school teachers in his district. No one else has anything to say whatsoever. If he recommends a teacher, regardless of whether the board is in favor of that teacher or not, they have nothing to say, unless they bring charges or in some way get some of those charges brought against the teachers and dismiss them in that way. From the standpoint of the pupil, I say it is also unfair, for the reason that the pupil should have the advantage of the very best teacher that would be available. If a teacher of the second or third grade in qualification is teaching, there is no reason why, because they have served two or three years, that they should be kept in that position and a better teacher prevented from securing it who would be able to render better services to the pupil. If our system of electing teachers is fundamentally unsound, let us go to the basis of the thing, make a qualification or standard of qualification for school directors. We don't even have a tenure for our State superintendent, as you know. If we are required to correct any evil existing, let us go to the root of the thing at the present time.

Members of the House, we are living at this time in a very critical period of our educational system. The Pennsylvania educational program at the present time is struggling for its existence, and we should not at this time, under any circumstances, enact any legislation here, to my mind, that is going to create any bitterness between the teachers and the school directors of this State, not only for the control of the schools for the sessions, but for the management of them from a business standpoint. For that reason I think that this legislation is a mistake and I hope that the members of this House will vote against it.

Mr. GIBBON. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I have on my desk this evening, as I understand all members have, a letter from the Pennsylvania State School Directors Asociation, in which they have gone on record as opposed to the enactment of any form of tenure for teachers at this session of the Legislature. I would just like to state that not all of the directors on the school boards of Pennsylvania are opposed to this bill. I have talked with several of the directors in the city of Wilkes-Barre, and they are inclined to favor it. They feel, those with whom I have talked that they would be glad to be relieved of the necessity of reappointing these teachers each year. Teachers are selected in Wilkesbarre, they are selected with a great deal of care, and they are invariably reappointed. This would work no hardship upon our city, and I am sure, if enacted, it would work no hardship upon the school districts in the State of Pennsylvania, and I hope it is adopted.

Miss BENTLEY. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the bill before us is a bill to eliminate annual elections for competent teachers. The bill has been endorsed by the two educational associations of the State, by the educational department and by the Governor. The educational association has back of it forty-eight thousand teachers and educators who asked for its consideration. The opposition to this comes from the school director, but I believe it is to the original bill, and not to the amended bill. The educational committee hadn't considered the amendments when they made the negative recommendation. They made it on the original bill. It is now amended and I believe the objectionable parts have been taken out. I think it will do no injury to any school director or to any educator to let this bill pass. We are working for the masses of the people. There are more teachers asking for this than there are school directors asking for it not to be passed, if that has any influence. The school directors have not read this amended bill. I believe, and I hope that you will consider it. The leading educational states in our Union have tenure of office. Montana stands first educationally, it has tenure of office; California, New Jersey, New York, Massachusetts, Oregon, Colorado and Maryland. Some of our good teachers in Pennsylvania, who are educated in our normal schools, have gone over into New Jersey and New York and taken these positions. Some of the people who are opposed to this have said to me, "Miss Bentley, it will take the life out of the teachers, she will quit working." Did it take the life out of the teacher when the normal school gave her a diploma? Did she quit studying? I say, "No," neither will it take the life out of the teacher, when she is given tenure of office she will go ahead and work, because she knows she is going to work in that locality and will not be changed from year to year." I hope you will vote for this bill.

Mr. PEELOR. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I trust that I may not be misunderstood as I rise for the purpose of objecting to the passage of this bill. I shall not say it is pernicious legislation, as has been said of some of the bills here, because I have the highest regard for the sponsor, but I rise to say that in my own opinion no bill could be passed by this House at this particular time that would do as much harm to a fundamental interest of this Commonwealth as it would be to pass this tenure bill. We have had that measure before us in various ways since the organization of our national government, and the only question that came so near defeating the convention that passed our national constitution was the one upon the question of the matter of the tenure of its officers. I want to say to you here, while we may in a measure modify the laws of nature, we can never destroy or set them aside, and when we have given into anybody's hands the power that they may have absolute control of the situation that has been given them, we are placing the individual American citizen in a position that may become dangerous later on. The sponsor of the bill spoke a few minutes ago about the diploma they give to the state normal graduates, or the permanent certificate of the teacher, both of which are in a measure safe things to do, but when you place that instrument into their hands and then say to them that in the future there is nothing that can take it away from them, or set it aside, except it be that, which in the very nature of it, is almost criminal. You have simply taken out of the teachers the life, the spirit of enthusiasm; from every teacher in America today who controls the situation, who directs the motives, who leads out the child and who gives them the sort of education today that is preserving the welfare of this republic and this Commonwealth. You cannot afford to take out of the life of that teacher the spirit of enthusiasm. There is no member, there is no one sitting within the sound of my voice today, if you take away from them that power that will be taken away from the teacher by the tenure, who would rely on the position in which it places them, and they would lose all their enthusiasm. The inspiring influence that it gives to the childhood of this Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and I trust that no member of this Legislature may vote for such an act. I do not believe that the teacher, or the one who is author of this bill stopped to think for a moment that if they, in the passage of this bill, become the recipients of its influence, have stopped to think that their competency, their efficiency and the satisfactory service that they may give must necessarily abide and lie somewhere between good behavior, improper conduct, incompetency and inefficiency, and the moment a teacher steps into that position, the moment a teacher feels that they are secure for the remainder of their lifetime, then will they become a little indifferent to the situation, because it is natural in the application of the natural laws. Let me call your attention to something: The moment that you feel that you are perfectly sure of your position, if any member of this Legislature knew that he was elected for life, he would first become indifferent in the call of his constituency, and secondly he would become insolent if anybody tried to say to him that he should taken anything in the way of advice from him, and in the third place he would again be oppressive. This world is trying to get out from under the effect of the influence of a tenure by one who sought to impose on the world that tyranny that came, first from indifference, secondly from insolence and third from oppression. I trust that indeed that splendid institution that makes for the highest order of civilization, and is the creator of a factor that has given to the childhood in this Commonwealth and inspiration that will lead them to higher and better things, will not place within the grasp of those teachers that which will make them indifferent to the situation and less responsible for the great duties and the responsibility that rests upon them, and I trust that no member of this House will vote for this bill. I don't believe it to be pernicious, but I believe it to be a mistake on the part of the one who brought it out.

Mr. WRIGHT. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill in many respects is a most remarkable one. It has had a unique history. I think no other bill has had such attention from the educational committee as this one has had. It has been considered long and often and always voted down, sometimes, indefinitely postponed, but then again resurrected. At last it was voted out with a negative recommendation, and when the vote was very largely negative, and then again it reappears on the calendar, being placed there despite the negative recommendation, and now we have it before us once more, like a veritable Banquo's ghost in its grave clothes and it demands a permanency at the table and and is accorded the honor of a special order. Now, if the bill granted anything of value and nothing of harm to the schools, I should support it gladly. I yield to no one in my desire and willingness to advance the cause of public education and any measure of real merit relating to the schools or the teachers appeals to my heart. I began teaching myself at the age of sixteen. My first salary was twenty-five dollars per month. I have seen good teachers live and die on an average salary not much above that figure. Surely, teachers have been miserably underpaid, and I have in times past done what I could to relieve that situation. I have subscribed to the theory and the doctrine that competent teachers, so long as they remain competent, shall be continued in their place and in their position, but in our regard for the teachers, my friend, we must not enact legislation that will do the schools and the teachers more harm than good, and in my judgment, this bill, if passed at this time, is just such a dangerous measure as that.

In the first place it is unfair to the teachers. Its effect and purpose is to give teachers, after they have taught two or three years, a life tenure of position, a lifehold upon their job. I say that is a principle contrary to the law of life and progress. A teacher under those circumstances, under the provisions of this bill, can be removed only under a specified charge and by a majority vote of the board, while many teachers, I may even say, most teachers, under those circumstances would continue their studies, and keep abreast of the times, yet many others taking advantage of the tenure would become indifferent, they would become careless, they would cease to grow, they would go to seed mentally, they would no longer improve professionally. Now, I ask you, my friends, is it fair to force teachers under a law, which is contrary to the irrevocable law of life and progress? To do so is to establish a new law, an unnatural law, namely, the law of the survival of the unfit. The necessity to become fit and to stay fit is one of the greatest incentives to advancement and to progress, to efficiency and to growth, and that law must not with safety be suspended. In the next place, what effect will such a law have upon the young people, upon those who are aspiring to the teacher's profession? What will any young teacher work for if he has to enter a profession for which he has no chance until there is a vacancy? What young teacher is going to spend years in preparation, with only a chance to fill the shoes of some dead teacher? What young teacher I may say, who is going to try to become permanent in a profession, the door of which is closed in his face, and is kept locked, permanently locked, unless it is being opened to remove a corpse? In the next place, my friends, the people are against this bill. Why, the school directors of Pennsylvania in their organized assembly have recorded their protest and they have laid it upon the desk of every member of this House. The Grange of Pennsylvania, all the granges of my county from which I have heard, have registered their protest against it and they represent rural Pennsylvania. The parents are aroused against this bill. Why are the people against it? They are against it, because it takes out of their hands the control of their own local affairs; they are against it because it ties the hands of directors and parents in their efforts to select teachers to control the most precious interest of their lives, namely, the children of their homes and firesides. I say to you that if parents are not to be entrusted with the control of their own children and with the simple, but responsible duty of selecting teachers who are to preside over them, then, indeed, the last vestige of free government and of home rule is being swept away, and if teachers are annually automatically reelected and continued in office by a law and by the power of the State principal, which will be the case under a teachers' tenure law, what power is being left to the school boards? What power is being left to the parents? What self-respecting citizen is going to be willing to serve on the school board when he is loaded with responsibility and shorn of every discretionary power in the management of schools. My friends, I recently heard that a very prominent school director in this State say that he had served on a school board for twenty years and that he had been instrumental, and cheerfully so, in advancing the educational interests of his community, but if this bill were to be passed, men of high type would no longer want to serve in that capacity and that he himself in the case of the passage of this bill would reign at once from his present position from the school board.

My friends, the chief objection to this bill is not on account of the teachers, however important their interests may seem to be, and it is not on account of the parents or the school directors, however cogent their reasons may appear to them to be, but the supreme objection to the passage of this bill is based on the consideration for the children whose interests are paramount, whose interests, in fact, are the only vital interest we are concerned with in this case. I tell you, my friends, if the children are to suffer, then they in whom we are interested most are really to suffer. If a child is put under an incompetent teacher for a season, the loss to that child is tremendous and it is irreparable. Talk about civil service, someone speaks of it, that civil service ought to be installed in the schools, but my friends of the civil service, while civil service might well be adopted in some occupation where the employment is merely clerical or mechanical or a matter of mere routine and where the loss, if there is any loss, is only a financial loss, or economic loss, in the schoolroom, such a law must not prevail; in the schoolroom the losses are to child life, the losses are to humanity, the losses are to immortal souls, and such losses are incalculable. In business and industry an incompetent employee may indeed occasion inconvenience and even economic failure, but that loss may be repaired, but when a child leases the best years out of its life under an incompetent instructor or under a lifeless instructor, not to say an evil personality, the result is a tragedy. It may be said that the superintendent may remove an incompetent teacher, or that the school board may do it, but, my friends, who is going to prefer the charge; who is going to prosecute it; who is going to testify? Under such circumstances, the superintendent, if he is weak, may procrastinate; the school board, if they are indifferent, and there are many such, they may hesitate, and even the parents, strange to say and sad to relate, may neglect or hesitate for personal reasons, or for church reasons, or for social considerations, to correct a situation that is altogether bad and in which their own children are concerned. But, my friends, under such circumstances, the children are paying the bills, and it is a tremendous bill that they will have and they will be paying it forever, and they will pay it in impoverished thought in child life, and if no one else will speak in behalf of the children and if no one else will come to their rescue, I hope that every member of this House will now and here overwhelmingly vote this measure down.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL ON THIRD READING.

(SPECIAL ORDER.)

The SPEAKER. The Chair lays before the House the special order at this time, bill on third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1473, (Senate Bill No. 390), as follows:

An Act creating the "Anthracite Mine Cave Fund" Appropriating a portion of the State Tax on anthracite coal to the use of the Pennsylvania State Anthracite Mine Cave Commission and Imposing Duties upon the State Treasurer and Auditor General.

Whereas subsidences of the surface commonly called mine caves resulting from the mining and removal of anthracite coal have created in the anthracite region a menance to community life and to the continued existence of municipalities forming an integral part of the Commonwealth of such proportions as to clothe with a public interest the destruction of private as well as of public property tending to jeopardize the health safety and welfare of the citizens of the Commonwealth residing in that region and

Whereas the conditions aforesaid may be greatly ameliorated and the public health safety and welfare promoted by the proper functioning of the Pennsylvania State Anthracite Mine Cave Commission which has heretofore been without funds for the performance of its duties Now Therefore

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That a sum equal during the years one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three and one thousand nine hundred and twenty-four to six and one-quarter per centum and during each year thereafter equal to an additional six and one-quarter per centum until the total shall reach annually a sum equal to twenty-five per centum of the moneys to be hereafter derived from the tax on anthracite coal under and by virtue of the act approved the eleventh day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one entitled "An act imposing a State Tax on anthracite coal providing for the assessment and collection thereof and providing penalties for the violation of this act" is hereby permanently de-dicated and apportioned to the use of the Pennsylvania State Anthracite Mine Cave Commission

Section 2 Said moneys so dedicated and apportioned shall by the State Treasurer be placed in a special fund to be known as the "Anthracite Mine Cave Fund" separate and apart from the general revenues of the Commonwealth and shall be available for the use of the Pennsylvania State Anthracite Mine Cave Commission upon the requisitions of said commission from time to time and all such moneys hereafter paid into the State Treasury and placed in such special fund are hereby specifically appropriated to the Pennsylvania State Anthracite Mine Cave Commission in lieu of funds derived from other sources for the purposes described in the act creating said Commission approved May twenty-seven one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one entitled "An Act affecting anthracite coal mines and operations establishing the Pennsylvania State Anthracite Mine Cave Commission defining its jurisdiction and powers imposing duties upon owners and operators of anthracite coal mines and imposing penalties".

Section 3 Nothing in this Act contained shall be construed to affect the aforesaid Act of May eleventh one thousand nine hudnred and twenty-one Pamphlet Laws page four hundred and seventy-nine or change the amount of tax levied thereunder and in case this Act shall be judicially determined to be unconstitutional and ineffective the moneys hereby appropriated shall revert to such other fund as may by law be established for that purpose and in default of such fund to the general revenues of the Commonwealth.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. DAVID FOWLER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House. Everybody has requested a short speech, and this is going to be a short one. I realize that all of us are interested in a great deal of legislation at this late hour, and I am going to be as brief as possible. In the first place, I just want to quote the exact language of ex-Governor Sproul on this very important question of Mine Cave legislation. The people living in the next generation would wonder what kind of people lived in this generation to have allowed an industry to destroy the homes and wreck cities, that it is the duty of the State to solve this problem. Members of the House, we have attempted to solve this problem in the last session, and one of those bills was declared unconstitutional and one now remains upon the statute books, which provides for a commission. I want to say to you that I feel that the pictures that have been placed upon your desks are a sufficient argument to influence any member of this House to vote for this bill. I wish it were possible for each member of this legislature to realize the situation as it really exists and which must to a certain extent be conveyed to you when you look at the pictures of destruction on your desk, especially the picture of the cemetery, where the corpse of an old woman is exposed from her coffin. Let me say to you that I am indeed surprised that there should be any opposition from the coal interests to this bill. In the first place, we have attempted to be fair with you and have done everything in our power to solve this problem in an equitable way and I want this Legislature not to make the mistake that they made in 1867 and 1868, when at that time they were asked to pass legislation for the protection of the lives of men and women in the anthracite regions and it was denied; and not until one hundred nine men had their lives snuffed out in the mines did the Legislature of this State consider the question of the protection of life and limb. I want to say to you, as I related here just a little while ago, that the other day a large number of children almost went into a mine which caved in in a school yard, and I know if you vote down this bill and if a catastrophe occurs in one of our churches or one of our schools or on one of our streets, every one of you who voted against this bill will regret it to the day you die. I wish I could picture to you the agony of one dying little boy, a young orphan, who was swallowed up by the coal mines and his life snuffed out, and the screams and yells of that boy have sounded in the ears of every man and woman in our field. If we could only realize that and if we could but realize the agony of that mother who lives on the scene of those horrible occurences day in and day out, and the agony of that boy's death repeated day by day. I want to say to you that this bill is only asking for a fair return of the tax that you are now levying on the anthracite coal fields. I want to say to you we are only asking for twelve and one-half per cent to be sent back to the municipalities, and out of that we are only asking for six and one-quarter per cent to be spent in the protection of life and property in that field. Surely that is not too much to ask, and I want to say to each and every one of you that I feel that you are as familiar as I am myself with the conditions in the anthracite fields. I know that if you have been fair enough to gaze at those pictures, that no argument that I could make upon this floor tonight would be any stronger than the argument presented to you by those pictures; so I ask each and every one of you to vote upon this bill, as I could dwell for an hour upon this question, but I appreciate that the members of this House have a good deal to do and I do not want to take up your time.

BILL ON THIRD READING.
(SPECIAL ORDER.)

The SPEAKER. The Chair lays before the House the special order of the day at this time.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1474 (Senate Bill No. 391), as follows:

An Act creating the "Anthracite Municipalities Fund" appropriating pro rata according to population a portion of the tax on anthracite coal to the use of the Cities Boroughs and Townships from which the anthracite coal taxed was removed in course of mining and imposing duties upon the State Treasurer and Auditor General

Whereas The mining and removal of large quantities of anthracite coal has a tendency to permanently impoverish the municipalities from which it is removed and to impair the sources of municipal revenue by depreciating the value of real estate subject to taxation and at the same time imposing heavy financial burdens upon such municipalities in the protection of public highways and public buildings against dangers resulting from the removal of subjacent and adjacent support and from the damaged condition of abutting properties caused by surface subsidences commonly called mine caves Now Therefore

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That there is hereby created a fund to be known as the "Anthracite Municipalities Fund" to be kept by the State Treasurer separate and apart from the general revenues of the Commonwealth Said fund shall consist of a sum equal to twelve and one-half per centum of the moneys to be hereafter derived during the years one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three and one thousand nine hundred and twenty-four from the State Tax on anthracite coal less whatever moneys shall be paid into another special fund to be known as the "Anthracite Mine Cave Fund" provided said last mentioned fund shall be established During each year after one thousand nine hundred and twenty-four the percentage aforesaid shall be increased by a sum equal to an additional twelve and one-half per centum of said moneys until said fund shall consist of a sum equal to fifty per centum of said moneys each year less whatever moneys shall be paid from year to year if any into said "Anthracite Mine Cave Fund" Said State Tax on anthracite coal herein referred to is the tax levied by virtue of the act approved May eleventh one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one entitled "An act imposing a State tax on Anthracite coal providing for the assessment and collection thereof and providing penalties for the violation of this act"

Section 2 All moneys remaining unexpended at the end of the calendar year in the said "Anthracite Mine Cave Fund" if the same shall be established shall be transferred by the State Treasurer to the said "Anthracite Municipalities Fund"

Section 3 The State Treasurer shall from time to time make such transfers and deposits of funds as may be necessary to carry this act into effect

Section 4 All moneys paid into the said "Anthracite Municipalities Fund" shall be paid yearly by the State Treasurer upon warrant of the Auditor General to the cities boroughs and townships from which any anthracite coal taxed under the aforesaid act of May eleventh one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one was removed in course of mining said fund to be distributed pro rata according to population by the last preceding United States Census All moneys hereafter transferred or paid into said "Anthracite Municipalities Fund" are hereby specifically appropriated for the purposes hereinbefore mentioned

Section 5 Nothing in this act contained shall be construed to affect the aforesaid act of May eleventh one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one Pamphlet Laws page four hundred and seventy-nine or change the amount of tax levied thereunder and in case this act shall be judicially determined to be unconstitutional the moneys hereby appropriated shall revert to the general revenues of the Commonwealth

Section 6 All acts or parts of acts in conflict herewith are hereby repealed

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. DAVID FOWLER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this is a twin brother of the other bill and it is likely to take the same course.

Mr. BUSH. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I voted against the other bill and I propose to vote against this one for the reason that I voted for the repeal of the anthracite tax, and it does not look consistent to me to vote for this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO TAXING SOAP MINES.

Mr. HIMES offered the following resolution, which was read as follows:

Whereas the chief industry in Butler County, better known as the Butler Soap Mines, has in no way contributed its just and adequate share to the States burden of taxes, and for reasons best known to the gentleman from Butler, has been unconscientiously overlooked by him in his wild scramble for discovering new and unburdensome taxes.

And whereas this matter has not been properly brought to the attention heretofore of the Committee on Ways and Means, of which the gentleman from Butler is Chairman.

And whereas it has been the policy of this Legislature in trying to find new taxes not to overlook or in any way slight or hamper any industry, but of late this remunerative field for taxing the Butler Soap Mines has just come to the attention of the members of the House, and thereby discloses a new and fertile field for additional taxation.

And whereas the State is in dire and crying need for new taxes, which in no way will burden the innocent and unsuspecting public, to say nothing of the present patient, suffering and much burdened tax-payer.

Therefore be it resolved that a tax of less than one half of one per cent be suggested to be imposed on said industry and that the proceeds thereof be used to carry out the purpose of H. B. 1251 F. F. 4189, "Entitled an act to Prohibit the Obstruction of the View of the Interior of Soft Drink Places, Pool Rooms and Billiard Parlors", which Bill was vehemently but unsuccessfully sponsored by the gentleman from Butler, and that the new State Purchasing Agent be hereby instructed and authorized to use such money as may come in from said tax to carry out the intent of said Act, in spite of the fact that the Act was not passed, and to purchase, nevertheless, window shades to be used for said pool rooms and thirst parlors, and that the Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee be hereby instructed to immediately call a meeting of said Committee to further consider the matter and report thereon to the House on July 4th, 1923.

The SPEAKER. This resolution is referred to the Steering Committee.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative, and the amendments were concurred in.

Ordered. That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

UNAMIOUS CONSENT TO CALL UP BILL REFUSED.

Mr. GOEHRING. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent of the House at this time to call upon page 8, bills on final passage postponed, House Bill No. 1479, (Senate Bill No. 795), file folio 2151, entitled:

An Act providing that in all suits against any county process shall be served upon and defense made by county controllers for the purpose of amendment.

The SPEAKER. Under the rules of the House bills on the postponed calendar can only be called up on Tuesday, and the Chair has ruled that that is the only time they can be called up.

Mr. GOEHRING. I have been informed that I could if I got the unanimous consent of the House.

The SPEAKER. The Chair is unwilling to reverse the rules.

Mr. GOEHRING. That is what I am asking, the unanimous consent of the House.

Mr. LUCAS. Mr. Speaker, I object.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears objection.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

BILL ON FIRST READING.

Mr. RHODES asked and obtained unanimous consent to have House Bill No. 1761, (Senate Bill No. 1163) read for the first time.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the first reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1761 (Senate Bill No. 1163), entitled:

An Act to further amend section thirteen of an act approved the thirty-first day of May Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws four hundred and sixty-eight) entitled "An act providing for the establishment of a State Highway Department by the appointment of a State Highway Commissioner two Deputy State Highway Commissioners chief engineer chief draughtsman superintendent of highway and a staff of assistants and employes defining their duties and the jurisdiction of the State Highway Department and fixing salaries of Commissioner and deputies and other appointees providing for taking over from the counties or townships of the Commonwealth certain existing public roads connecting county-seats principal cities and towns and extending to the State line describing and defining same by route numbers as the State highways of the Commonwealth providing for the improvement maintenance and repair of said State highway solely at the expense of the Commonwealth and relieving the several townships or counties from further obligation and expense to improve or maintain the same and relieving said township or counties of authority over same requiring boroughs and incorporated towns to maintain certain State higghways wholly and in part requiring the State Highway Commissioner to make maps to be complete records thereof conferring authority on the State Highway Commissioner providing for the payment of damages in taking of property or otherwise in the improvement thereof providing for purchase or acquiring or turnpikes or toll-roads forming all or part of any State highway and procedure therein providing for work of improvement of State highways to be done by contract except where the State Highway Commissioner decides the work be done by the State providing aid by the State to counties and townships desiring the same in the improvement of township or county roads defining highways and State-aid highways providing method of application for State aid in the improvement maintenance and repair of township or county roads and prescribing the contents of township county borough or incorporated town petitions providing for percentage of cost of improvement or repairs to be paid by State county township borough or incorporated town and requiring contracts by counties townships boroughs and incorporated towns with Commonwealth governing same providing for the minimum width of State Highways and State-aid highways and kind of materials to be used in the improvement providing for payment of cost of improvement and repairs providing penalty for injuring or destroying State highways making appropriations to carry out the provisions of the act and providing for the repeal of certain acts relating to Highway Department and improvement of roads and of all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith and providing that existing contracts are not affected by provisions of this act" as amended by providing for the deposit of bankable securities by the contractor in lieu of the surety required on said contractor's bond

And said bill having been read at length the first time,

Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

MOTION TO ADJOURN.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion.

Mr. DAVID FOWLER. Mr. Speaker, I hope the gentleman from Philadelphia will withhold his motion just a minute until we report a bill out of committee.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I object to the reporting of a bill at this time.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The Speaker declared the ayes appeared to have it,

Whereupon a division was called for 45 members having voted in the affirmative and 63 in the negative the question was determined in the negative and the motion was not agreed to.

Mr. DAVID FOWLER. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to report a bill from Committee at this time.

Mr. FLYNN. I object.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears objections.

MOTION TO SUSPEND RULES.

Mr. DAVID FOWLER. Mr. Speaker, I move that Rule 43 be suspended for the present for the specific purpose of reporting a bill from committee.

Mr. NOLTE. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER. If Rule 43 is suspended for the specific purpose of reporting a bill, the Chair desires to say, even though this rule is suspended, it would not give the right to report a bill from Committee.

Rule 43, which the Chair will read for the information of the House is:

"Any rule of the House may be suspended at any time, for a specific purpose by a majority vote; after the accomplishment of which purpose the Rule shall remain in force, as before. Any motion to alter or amend the rules permanently shall lie over one day and shall be adopted by a majority vote. The rule shall be published in Smull's Legislative Handbook, a copy of which shall be delivered to each member at the commencement of each session."

The Chair volunteers the information that the suspension of that rule would not permit the reporting of a bill at this time.

Mr. DAVID FOWLER. I have discovered the error, and I make a motion that we suspend Rule 8 for the specific purpose of reporting a bill from Committee.

Mr. NOLTE. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

MOTION TO ADJOURN.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I just want to say briefly that my only desire is that this bill should have fair consideration and fair treatment. This bill, as I understand it, passed the Senate to-night, was rushed over here, was referred to the Committee and without the committee holding a meeting, and also contrary to the rules of the House, which provides that a committee cannot meet during a session of the House, the committee has undertaken to report this very important bill. There is no reason why the Committee cannot meet after the session tonight or before the session tomorrow morning and give this bill consideration, and at least have a pretense of meeting and considering this most important matter. I am only asking for fair play. I have spoken very few times during this session on any legislation in this House and I say to the members of this House that I am taking this position only in the interest of fair play, and that legislation should have, important legislation, should have the consideration to which it is entitled. I hope the House will not consider the motion to suspend the rules. It is not necessary to do so in order that this bill shall come before the House, and Mr. Speaker in support of this position, I move that this House do now adjourn until tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. DAVID FOWLER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. DAVID FOWLER. A motion has been on the floor and the ayes have been called for and the ayes have been given.

The SPEAKER. The Chair rules that the only thing in order is a vote on the motion to suspend rule 8.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The speaker declared the "nays" appeared to have it.

MOTION TO ADJOURN.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Seaker, I renew my motion that the House adjourn until tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock.

The SPEAKER. The Chair ruled that the only thing in order is a vote on the motion to suspend rule 8.

Whereupon a division was called for and 43 members voting in the affirmative and 64 in the negative, the question was determined in the negative and the motion to suspend rule 8 was not agreed to.

ADJOURNMENT.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock.

Mr. EARLEY. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER declared the ayes appeared to have it,

Whereupon a division was called for and 95 members voting in the affirmative and 29 in the negative, the question was determined in the affirmative the motion was agreed to and at 11:59 o'clock P. M. the House adjourned until tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal

Session 1923 125th of the General Assembly

Vol. 7. HARRISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, JUNE 12, 1923. No.69

SENATE

TUESDAY, JUNE 12, 1923.

The Senate met at 11:00 o'clock, A. M.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor David J. Davis) in the Chair.

The Chaplain, Rev. Edward S. Ninde, offered the following prayer:

O Lord: We thank Thee for all Thou hast done for us. Thy mercies are unnumbered. Thou hast made us and Thou hast watched over us unto this hour. We stand here this morning the living monuments of Thine unfailing goodness. We would do something to show our gratitude to Thee. We may not bring to Thee an offering of gold and silver and precious stones, for all the earth is Thine and the fulness thereof. But we give Thee ourselves, our homage, our talents, our love; all that we are and all that we have, we lay at Thy feet, and we acknowledge Thee to be King of kings and Lord of lords. Accept us for the sake of Jesus Christ. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED.

The PRESIDENT—A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. BUCKMAN, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

RESOLUTION RECALLING FROM THE GOVERNOR SENATE BILL No. 1379.

Mr. SCHANTZ, offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, June 12, 1923.

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur), that Senate Bill No. 1379, entitled:

An act making an appropriation to the Board of managers of the Pennsylvania Village for Feeble Minded Women at Laurelton Pennsylvania be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES.

Mr. LONG, from the Committee on Judiciary General reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 1032, (House Bill No. 1323), entitled:

An act prescribing the manner in which certain persons municipalities partnerships associations or corporations may intervene in appeals to the Superior Court from findings determinations or order of The Public Service Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Mr. HUFFMAN, from the Committee on Mines and Mining, re-reported as amended, Senate Bill No. 1143, entitled:

An act for the protection of persons employed in the anthracite coal mines by prohibiting the use of trolley locomotives in certain mines and requiring attendants at certain ventilating fans and providing penalties

Mr. CHRISTLEY, from the Committee on Judiciary General, re-reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 942, (House Bill No. 941), entitled:

An act providing for the payment by counties of expenses incurred by the district attoreny and making such expenses a part of the costs of the case where the defendant is convicted.

BILL OVER IN ORDER.

Mr. LONG. Mr. President, at the request of Senator Stites, who is absent at this moment, I ask that Senate Bill No. 499 on final passage, entitled:

An Act to amend section one of an act approved the twenty-eighth day of July one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (Pamphlet Laws twelve hundred thirty-five) entitled "A supplement to an act approved the thirteenth day of May one thousand eight hundred seventy-six entitled 'An act for the incorporation and regulation of banks of discount and deposit' and authorizing the creation and maintenance of suboffices or subagencies"

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 894, (House Bill No. 694), as follows:

An Act to amend an act approved the twenty-eighth day of March one thousand eight hundred seventy-nine (Pamphlet Laws fourteen) entitled "An Act enabling wives of lunatics to release their right of dower in the real estate of their husbands" extending the provisions of said act to include wives and husbands of habitual drunkards and wives or husbands of epileptics insane weak-minded or feeble-minded persons

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section one of an act approved the twenty-eighth day of March one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine (Pamphlet Laws fourteen) entitled "An Act enabling wives of lunatics to release their right of dower in the real estate of their husbands" is hereby amended to read as follows

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. SMITH. Mr. President, I ask that Senate Bill No. 1055, on third reading, entitled:

An act to amend section one hundred of the act approved the fourteenth day of July one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (Pamphlet Laws eight hundred and forty) entitled "An act concerning townships and revising amending and consolidating the law relating thereto"

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

HOUSE BILL No. 558, DROPPED FROM CALENDAR.

Mr. STEELE. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 1114, (House Bill No. 558), entitled:

An Act supplementing and amending the act approved the twenty-fifth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one (Pamphlet Laws one thousand one hundred fifty-nine) entitled "An act authorizing certain corporations to issue preferred or common stock of one or more classes providing for the manner of issuance restrictions and regulations in the manner of voting thereof and the rights and privileges of the holders thereof validating certain acts of corporations not participated in by the holders of non-voting stock and repealing all acts and parts of acts inconsistent therewith" further authorizing and empowering such corporations to issue shares of capital stock without nominal or par value and regulating such issuing of said stock be dropped from the calendar.

Mr. McCLINTOCK. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. STEELE. Mr. President, the subject matter of this bill has already been covered by another act which has been passed and signed by the Governor.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Northumberland, Mr. Steele.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Northumberland, Mr. Steele, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. STEELE. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. President, I desire to ask the Senator from Northumberland whether this is being done with the knowledge of the member in the House.

Mr. STEELE. Mr. President, it is; and it is done with his consent.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

BILL OVER IN ORDER REQUEST.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I ask that Senate Bill No. 1182, (House Bill No. 1164), on third reading, entitled:

An act amending an act entitled "An act for the better and more impartial selection of persons to serve as jurors in each of the counties of this Commonwealth" approved the 10th day of April Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven (Pamphlet Laws sixty-two)

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. MANSFIELD. Mr. President, I wish to inform the Senate that this bill only applies to counties of the second class.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like to have the bill explained by the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Mansfield.

Mr. President, this bill provides for the selection of persons to serve as jurors, that the sheriff shall send a card to those selected and ask them to indicate on that card what season of the year they desire to serve on the jury, and after the preference is indicated the names are placed in one of the three wheels. Now this is not my bill, so do not get anxious about it.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I withdraw my request that the bill go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. The request that the bill go over in its order has been withdrawn.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1181, (House Bill No. 1164), entitled:

An Act amending an act entitled "An Act for the better and more impartial selection of persons to serve as jurors in each of the counties of this Commonwealth" approved the 10th day of April Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven (Pamphlet Laws sixty-two)

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1460, (House Bill No. 535), as follows:

An Act providing a method of annexation of boroughs townships or parts of townships to cities of the third class regulating the proceedings pertaining thereto and repealing inconsistent legislation

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That any city borough township or part of a township contiguous to any city of the third class whether located wholly or partly within the same or different counties may become annexed to any such city of the third class in the following manner

A petition signed by at least twenty-five per centum of the taxable inhabitants who shall be freeholder's of the territory desiring annexation shall be presented to the court of quarter sessions of the county wherein the city of the third class to which annexation is desired or a larger part thereof is located All the signers of the petition shall be bona fide residents and taxable inhabitants who shall be freeholders of the district desiring annexation as shown by the assessors' list for the last preceding assessment and the registry list of voters for the last preceding general or municipal election of the borough township or part of a township desiring annexation The petition shall be subscribed within three months immediately preceding its presentation to said court and shall be verified by at least one of the petitioners In case such petition is for the annexation of a part of a township there shall be attached a plot showing such portion with a description by metes and bounds

Section 2 The petition shall be presented in open court whereupon the court shall order that a notice thereof be given by advertisement in all newspapers of general circulation in the territory affected once a week for four consecutive weeks or if there be no such one hundred handbills tax handbills posted in conspicuous places in such territory and also that notice be served upon the mayor of the city to which annexation is proposed and public officials of the territory to be annexed by a copy of such advertisement or hand-book

Section 3 Upon proof that the notices and advertisements ordered have been given the court shall order that an election on the question of such annexation be held in the borough township or part of a township proposed to be annexed and also in the city to which such annexation is proposed to be made

If such order is made sixty days before the date of the general or municipal election in November the election on the question of such annexation shall be held at such general or municipal election but if made less than sixty days prior to any general or municipal election the election on such question shall be held at the general or municipal election in November of the following year

Section 4 The court shall direct that notices shall be given of the time of such election by advertisement in a newspaper of general circulation in the territory effected once a week for six consecutive weeks preceding such election or if there be no newspapers published in such territory by at least one hundred hand bills posted in conspicuous places in the same and the court shall also order the county commissioners of all counties wherein any part of the territory affected lies to print upon the ballot to be used at such election in brief form the question on annexation to be submitted to the vote of the people followed by the words "Yes" and "No".

In receiving and counting and making returns of the votes cast the inspectors judges and clerks of such election shall be governed by the laws of this Commonwealth regulating elections The result of the election shall be certified to the court of quarter sessions having jurisdiction of the proceedings

Section 5 The cost of all proceedings thus far shall be paid as follows The costs for printing upon the ballot the question of annexation and any costs for holding such election shall be paid by the county or counties pro rata

Should the result of the election be favorable the city to which such annexation is being made shall pay all costs except what the county is required to pay

Should the result of said election be unfavorable the borough or township asking to be annexed shall pay all costs except what the county is required to pay

In the case of a part of a township except by prior agreement with the supervisors of the townships the petitioners shall pay all costs except what the county is required to pay

Section 6 If both the territory desiring annexation and the city to which annexation is proposed vote favorably upon said result being determined by the court from separate election returns of the election boards of the territory to be annexed and the city the court shall direct notices thereof to be given by advertisement or otherwise as the court may deem proper and shall enter a decree nisi that such annexation shall be made on the first Monday of January following said election

If no exceptions are filed prior to the first Monday of January following said election the city to which the annexation is being made shall pay the cost of record and cost of advertising as provided in this section

Any person or persons or corporations residing within either district may object to said annexation by filing exceptions thereto provided that such person or persons shall file with such exceptions a bond sufficient for the payment of all costs that may accure in any investigation and determination pertaining to the rights of such parties and to include all costs accruing because of any such contest by reason of such exceptions until the question is finally determined by the courts

The final decree of annexation shall be entered on the first Monday of January after such election on the question of annexation and the decree so entered may in the discretion of the court be subject to the rights of any objecting parties

Section 7 Any territory annexed to a city of a third class under the provisions of this act may be added to an adjacent ward or to adjacent wards or may be created into a new ward or wards as the court having jurisdiction over such annexation may determine In the case of the creation of new wards the court shall appoint the election officers and name the place or places of holding the first election of said officers the said officers so appointed shall hold their respective offices until their successors elected at the next ship or part of a township annexed to a contiguous city of succeeding municipal election are qualified

Section 8 All the indebtedness of each borough town- the third class under the provisions of this act as well as the indebtedness of the city to which the same are annexed shall be paid by the city as enlarged by such annexation and all territory included within the limits of the same shall be liable for the payment of the floating and bonded indebtedness and the interest thereon of all the territory included within such enlarged city All taxes hereafter levied therefore shall be uniform throughout the territory limits of the enlarged city

In the case of the annexation of a part of a township the court having jurisdiction of the annexation proceedings shall determine and decree the proportions of the debt of such township to be paid by the enlarged city and the remaining part of the townships and the part of the property and assets of such township to pass to the enlarged city and the part to remain in the township either upon a hearing before said court of the parties interested or by means of a board of commissioners to be appointed by said court The debt herein referred to has reference to the municipal debt or assets and has no reference to the school debt or assets which is governed in cases of annexation by the school code

Section 9 When an election is held on the question of annexation under the provisions of this act and the territory propsed to be annier vote against such annexation the question of such annexation shall not again be voted upon for a period of two years from the date of such election

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Mr. STITES. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of Senate Bill No. 499, on final passage, entitled:

An Act to amend section one of an act approved the twenty-eighth day of July one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (Pamphlet Laws twelve hundred thirty-five) entitled "A supplement to an act approved the thirteenth day of May one thousand eight hundred seventy-six entitled 'An act for the incorporation and regulation of banks of discount and deposit' and authorizing the creation and maintenance of suboffices or subagencies"

Mr. LONG. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 499, as follows:

An Act to amend section one of an act approved the twenty-eighth day of July one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (Pamphlet Laws one thousand two hundred and thirty-five) entitled "A supplement to an act approved the thirteenth day of May one thousand eight hundred and seventy-six entitled 'An act for the incorporation and regulation of banks of discount and deposit' and authorizing the creation and maintenance of suboffices or subagencies"

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the first section of an act approved the twenty-eighth day of July one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (Pamphlet Laws one thousand two hundred and thirty-five) entitled "A supplement to an act approved the thirteenth day of May one thousand eight hundred and seventy-six entitled 'An act for the incorporation and regulation of banks of discount and deposit' and authorizing the creation and maintenance of suboffices or subagencies" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 1 Be it enacted et cetera That any bank of discount and deposit already incorporated or hereafter formed under the provisions of an act approved May thirte eighteen hundred and seventy-six (Pamphlet Laws one hundred and sixty-one) entitled "An act for the incorporation and regulation of banks of discount and deposit" is hereby authorized to establish and maintain in the city borough or township in which its principal place of business is located one or more suboffices or subagencies for the purpose only however of receiving and paying out moneys and provided that a full report of the operations of each day is made at the close thereof to the principal place of business and that the assets of the bank in its suboffices or subagencies execept any county having in a population in excess of one million seven hundred thousand are transferred to the main office of the bank on or before the close of each business day This act does not authorize the establishment or maintenance of branch offices or agencies for the transaction of the general business of any corporation formed under the act to which this is a supplement

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. STITES. Mr. President, this is the bill concerning which I made the explanation to the Senate last night. An amendment has been put in limiting the bill simply to cities of the first class and counties having a population in excess of one million seven hundred thousand. This is the bill relating to branch banks and to permit the places where branch banks already are in operation to keep their cash at night at the institution where it is and not to be compelled to cart it through the streets in order to get to the main office.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, I would like to add to what the Senator from Montgomery has said that in Philadelphia it is quite a dangerous proposition in these days to be transferring money from those branch banks from one part of the city to another and I hope this bill will pass.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?
